[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—Rupture of diplomatic relations with Germany will follow any other action by that government than unconditional compliance with President Wilson's demands.

This statement was made tonight by a high official close to the President. Advices received from Ambassador Gerard, based upon his audiences with the Emperor and conferences with the Chancellor and the Foreign Minister, created a feeling of optimism in official circles that a satisfactory response would be made.

Should Mr. Gerard's impression prove unfounded—should the German government seek a discussion—it is asserted with the utmost positiveness that the President will carry out the notice he gave when he transmitted his final demands to Berlin. The authorities were plain-

Pennsylvania Judge Holds They are Unfit for Civic Duties.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WILKES-BARRE (Pa.) May 3.—Judge Peter A. O'Boyle, sitting in naturalization court here today, announced that members of the Industrial Workers of the World cannot obtain citizenship papers in this county. He said they are undesirable, and withheld their petitions. The judge questioned the applicants to ascertain whether they were involved in the recent riots in this section, said by the State police to have been instigated by the members of the I.W.W. Judge O'Boyle remarked from the bench that the members of this organization countenance and even instigate trouble and use un-American means of voicing their displeasure about conditions with which they do not agree. He said aliens of this type are not wanted here.

Germans report terrific slaughter in ranks of the French, in close quarters, at Verdun.

Execution of four Irish rebel leaders by the British.

Kaiser's reply to the American Sussex note promised today.

Another German air raid in England.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

No fighting of great importance is reported from any of the battle fronts. On the sector of Le Mort Homme, northwest of Verdun, the French have taken additional German positions in a brilliantly executed attack, and captured in the operation about 100 prisoners and four machine guns. On the remainder of the front in France and Belgium nothing but artillery duels have been in progress. In the Adamello sector of the Austro-Italian front the Austrians and Italians still are engaged in the hard fighting that has been in progress for several days but with no important changes in positions reported. The House of Commons, amid loud cheers, has passed the first reading of the government's bill calling for immediate general military compulsion for the duration of the war.

The American "manana" in Mexico is to be of two months' duration from this day and date according to the terms of a tentative agreement said to have been reached by the conference of the generals at El Paso. Details of some fighting with Mexicans by Dodd's men is contained in a belated dispatch from the front.

HOW TO READERS: It is a mistake to jump at the wrong conclusion that all, or nearly all, of the more important news is to be found on the first page. Consult the Index and the Summary, then read the entire paper—and then get all the news of the day.

Tentative Agreement.

WE'LL STAY IN MEXICO TWO MONTHS LONGER.

Gradual Return of American Forces to the Border is Indicated.

Eight Weeks of Co-operation by the Punitive Expedition and the Carranza Troops will Suffice to Clear the Affected Country of Villa Bandits, According to the View of Those in Touch with Gen. Obregon.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) May 3.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican Minister of War, issued a statement tonight to the Associated Press, in which he said:

"As a result of the conference yesterday with Gen. Scott, the atmosphere seems now completely cleared up. There is a much better feeling between Americans and Mexicans and all tension seems vanished.

"An agreement has not been reached but everything is progressing favorably and I have the highest hopes that matters will reach a successful culmination."

It was reported on good authority tonight that Gen. Obregon had received assurances that the terms of the tentative agreement would be acceptable to Gen. Carranza.

EL PASO (Tex.) May 3.—Mexican military men believe that the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico will take place in about two months, it was learned here tonight. American officers would make no comment on the subject.

The Mexicans say that in view of the dispositions to be made by Gen. Alvaro Obregon, in co-operating with the tentative agreement made with Gen. Hugh L. Scott, the running down of the bandit groups in Chihuahua and Durango can scarcely take more than that period of time.

On assurances from Gen. Carranza that the bandits are dispersed, the northward movement of American troops will attain full speed and it will not be long until the last trooper crosses over the international boundary line.

In the meantime it was pointed out, there will be constant movements northward of American detachments, so that when the final order for withdrawal comes there will be only a part of the present expeditionary force left on Mexican soil.

Answers to the long dispatches sent today to Washington by Gen. Scott and Queretaro by Gen. Obregon were not expected to be received here before tomorrow. In case the terms settled upon by Gen. Scott and Obregon, are approved by President Wilson and Gen. Carranza, the present negotiations will practically be concluded, although the formality of another conference will be gone through with either tomorrow night or Saturday.

It is probable that no American troop movements will be begun until the formal signing of an agreement by the two governments, or at least until Gen. Carranza has signified his acceptance of the stipulated conditions by the Washington government.

After that, however, the Mexican and American troops are expected to begin at once a co-operative campaign that will effectively stamp out the various bandit groups.

WASHINGTON ADVICES.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—A long telegram in code reached the War Department late tonight from Gen. Scott at El Paso, giving a full report on his conference with Gen. Obregon, the Carranza War Minister. Up to the time the message was received, the Washington government had no official knowledge of the result of the discussion between the two military advisers, although administration officials had made no secret of their satisfaction over the news in press dispatches from the border saying that an understanding had been reached and danger of a clash with the de facto Mexican government removed.

Gen. Scott sent a brief message during the day that he was preparing a full report for later transmission to Secretary Baker. The Secretary and Gen. Bliss, acting Chief of Staff, were on watch for the report all day and until far into the night. As the hours passed, however, it became clear that no action toward ratification of the agreement could

WILSON DEMANDS ACTION ON BRANDEIS NOMINATION

Administration Leaders are and Reports are Coming Reluctance of the Senate to Vote.

Growing Tired of the Delay in that Unfavorable Criticism of the Democratic Party is Growing Because of

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—President Wilson and his advisers are confident that Brandeis will be confirmed as Supreme Court Justice. They are demanding action by the Senate.

The Senate Judiciary Committee decided today that an effort would be made next Monday to set a date definite for a vote on the nomination. Friends of Brandeis are demanding that some action shall be taken by the committee in order that the Senate may have a chance to act for itself on the nomination.

Administration leaders are growing tired of the delay also and warnings are being given the Democratic Senators that information coming to the White House from all over the country carries unfavorable criticism of the Democratic party because of the apparent reluctance of the Senate to vote on the nination.

POLL OF THE SENATE.

An administration poll of the Senate taken some time ago shows that Brandeis will get more than a majority vote for his confirmation, no matter what may be the report of the Judiciary Committee. While many of the Senators, both Democratic and Republican, have remained steadfastly noncommittal on the question, it is understood that they will fall into line behind Brandeis as soon as the fight on him can be brought into the open. Up to this time this fight has been bottled in the committee.

The stand of the committee itself is puzzling. Apparently reliable reports have it that the eight Republican members are solidly against a favorable report. These are Clark, Nelson, Dillingham, Sutherland, Brandegee, Borah, Cummins and Works. The position of four Democratic members of the committee is in doubt. They are: Hoke Smith, Shields, Reed and O'Gorman. Those best informed as to the stand of the Democrats place Hoke Smith and Shields against a favorable report from the committe with Reed and O'Gorman wavering. Should Smith or Shields hold in opposition the result would be a tie in the committee of eighteen members, nine for and nine against favorable action. Either if the action is favorable, unfavorable or a tie the report in the nomination will have to be made by the committee to the Senate and the latter body will have the final say as to whether Brandeis is to become a member of the Supreme bench.

FRIENDS ARE DISQUIETED.

Friends of Brandeis were disquieted today by a rumor that a private poll of the Senate made recently developed the fact that should the report from the committee be unfavorable to confirmation, the opposite committee members would be able to swing a sufficient number of hesitating Senators to give a narrow margin of four or five for rejection.

Neither the foundation for this rumor nor its accuracy could be ascertained today. Senators interviewed on the subject refused a direct answer, saying they were waiting for the report from the Judiciary Committee. Despite the White House pressure, none of the Senators seem desirous particularly of rushing the question of a vote on the confirmation and the delay of the Judiciary Committee is causing no adverse criticism from their colleagues.

TWENTY THOUSAND A YEAR NOT ENOUGH FOR ASTOR.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—John Jacob Astor III, 4 years old, is unable to live on less than $75.60 per day.

Little Master Astor, who since his birth has been allowed $20,000 a year out of the income of the estate of his father, John Jacob Astor II, who died in the Titanic disaster, has petitioned the New York Surrogates' Court, through his mother, Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, for an additional allowance. Mrs. Astor showed that in addition to her son's allowance of $20,000 she had to spend $7590 of her own funds on her child's behalf.

Since the little millionaire's birth he has been receiving his allowance from the $150,000-per-year income of the $3,000,000 trust fund left him by his father.

Nurse	$ 720
Physician	299
Attorneys	1,256
Premium on guardian's bond	225
Merchandise and incidentals	861
One-third of taxes on the Astor residence	11,843
One-third of cost of maintaining Astor household	9,606
Income tax on $3,000,000 trust fund	2,544

LORIMER IS ACQUITTED OF WRECKING STATE BANK

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—William Lorimer, former United States Senator, and once a great political power in Illinois, was tonight acquitted of the charge of wrecking the La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank, of which he was president. His partner, Charles E. Munday, was found guilty of the same charge in a trial at Morris, Ill., several months ago and sentenced to a term in prison.

The crash of the Lorimer institution brought woe to hundreds of depositors who had faith in him or who were led to deposit their money in his bank through political considerations. Lorimer was bitterly arraigned by the State in the closing arguments. The bank declared that its last statement to the State auditor was not a false one. When the bank failed losses of $4,000,000 were disclosed. The Lorimer bank was formerly a national institution, but was switched to a State concern.

Flotsam.

ZEPPELIN IS DESTROYED; DRIVEN ON NORWAY SHORE

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 3.—The Zeppelin L-20 has been completely destroyed and driven ashore on the western side of Hafso Firth, Norway, according to advices from Stavanger. Some of the crew were rescued.

The Zeppelin L-20 passed north of Sandnaes about 10 o'clock in the morning, says a Reuter dispatch from Stavanger. She was flying at a low altitude and was in a damaged condition. Five or six men were seen to jump from the airship. Boats put out to their assistance, and the commander and one seaman were rescued and taken to a hospital.

The Zeppelin then was driven over the hill tops against a hillside. Its afterbody broke in two and part of it fell to the ground. Some of the crew jumped or were hurled out.

The Zeppelin then rose a little and was driven westward, but the bag of the dirigible collapsed in the center and the airship descended rapidly.

A torpedo boat which had been following along the coast, went to its assistance and rescued three men still in the cabin. A fourth man had jumped out shortly before.

Of the rescued men three officers and two non-commissioned officers were brought ashore; the whereabouts of the rest of the crew is not known. The Zeppelin was completely destroyed and driven ashore on the western side of the Firth, near its outlet to the sea.

MORGAN ELECTED STANFORD TRUSTEE.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) May 3.—Percy T. Morgan, a retired capitalist of San Francisco, was elected today to the board of trustees of Stanford University to succeed Frank Miller, also of San Francisco, who retired owing to ill health.

The new trustee was born in England in 1862 and located in San Francisco in 1886. Although retired from active business, he is interested in many important corporations and is a director of the Union Trust Company and of Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank.

Coming Our Way.

EAST IS ELECTRIFIED BY CALIFORNIA RESULT.

Johnson, in Hiding, Refuses to Look at Hyphenized-Progressive Corpse.

Quarter of a Million Ballots Cast the Right Way in Tuesday's Contest Smothers to Death the Pulmotored Boomlet for the Third Party Renegades—Latest Returns Show a Tremendous Victory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Republicans in Northern California, like those of the South, are celebrating tonight the return to power of the Grand Old Party. Belated returns from outlying districts continue to increase the lead of regular Republican delegates until their majority over the hyphenated Johnson-Earl-United-Republican ticket, which also ran in the Republican primary, is estimated at 45,000 votes and the total vote cast for all Republican candidates at 250,000.

While the Republican leaders are exchanging complimentary telegrams, Gov. Johnson and his political supporters seem to have gone into hiding. For the first time in his political career, the Governor has been beaten speechless. He declined to give a statement in San Francisco at noon today, even to the demoralized Progressive press, which hasn't been able to figure yet what happened.

His private secretaries, Madsen and McCabe, Jack Neylan of the Board of Control, State Controller Chambers and State Treasurer Richardson, all decline to talk for publication. They realize that they have fought their political Waterloo and lost.

THE GREATER EFFECT.

But local State considerations sink into insignificance before the greater effect of the regular Republican victory. Telegrams received from the East at the State Capitol this afternoon indicate that California has put the quietus on the attempted Roosevelt boom in the Middle West and the Far West. The Roosevelt headquarters in New York City were evidently expecting a delegation of twenty-six Republicans, practically pledged to him from California. They had been assured by the administration that the success of the United-Republican ticket was certain. But in place of a Roosevelt delegation, they now learn that California has selected by a tremendous majority a ticket pledged for no one candidate, but pledged by its convention against Roosevelt, Johnson or any other candidate who deserted the Republican party in 1912. One slogan of the California delegation will be "no deserters need apply."

Sacramento county, the home of the Johnson machine has apparently given the largest majority to the United-Republican ticket, while Alameda county is the banner Republican county of the north. That county has given the regular ticket a lead of more than 7000 votes. San Francisco city and county are second with a little more than 6000 majority. Sacramento's majority for the United-Republican ticket is about 1200.

MOST NOTABLE VICTORY.

"This is the most notable Republican victory in California in twenty years," asserted Secretary of State Frank Jordan this afternoon. "There has been nothing so sensational since

REPUBLICAN LEAD GROWS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Majority Below the Tehachipi will Reach Fifteen Thousand and for the State Forty Thousand—About Half the Ballots Cast in Los Angeles City and County Have been Counted and Tabulated.

WITH more than 400 precincts out of 1185 in the county yet to be counted, the Republican ticket maintains the lead indicated early after the polls were closed. The official tally of 764 precincts gives Bordwell (Republican,) 23,890, and Bulla (United,) 17,680.

In 850 precincts the "Progressives" polled but 3042 votes and the Democrats 10,324. This result is construed by Republicans to demonstrate that the "Progressive" party is dead in Southern California, and in the next election will be found in the Republican band wagon.

Ex-Judge Bordwell, whose name appeared first in the list of straight Republican candidates, giving him a natural advantage, was complimented with the largest vote. Charles E. Clinch is second, J. O. Hayes of San Jose is third, W. C. Mushet, fourth, and John G. Mott fifth. The total poll of the county may change the places of the leaders.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The victorious candidates received numerous messages of congratulation yesterday, many of them telegrams from the East and Middle West. That the tremendous victory for the Republican party means much for California is unquestioned. Eastern States were deeply interested in the result and some of the leading politicians of the country declared the vote in this State would probably control the national convention.

California's delegates will go to Chicago unpledged, but with the one purpose of supporting any great Republican. Who he will be is unknown, but it is known that the delegates will consistently oppose the candidacy of Roosevelt. One of the delegates said yesterday: "I would rather lose my right arm than to vote for Roosevelt."

The vote given throughout the State for Mrs. Cornelius Cole and Mrs. Abbie Krebs was most gratifying to men and women alike. Both of them received liberal support and they can be depended upon to support only a big Republican in the convention. In compliment to Mrs. Cole, the Women's Republican League, which did most effective work in the campaign, will give a reception and dinner at headquarters Friday afternoon. Next week Mrs. Cole is going east and will join the California delegation in Chicago about the 1st of June.

M'ALEER'S GREAT WORK.

Thomas McAleer, Registrar of Voters, and his efficient corps of assistants, received many compliments yesterday for their excellent work in the handling of returns Tuesday night. More than 1600 election officers went to the office between 8:30 o'clock and midnight, and their returns were received without delay. Such a record was never made in this county before.

With a promised majority of at least 10,000 in Los Angeles county, Republican leaders last night predicted that the ticket will go to the Tehachepi with fully 15,000. North of the Tehachepi the majority is estimated at 25,000, a total of 40,000 in the State.

In view of the fact that the "United" ticket headed the column on the ballot and that practically every "Progressive" voted the "United" ticket, the Republicans feel that they scored one of the most signal victories in the history of State politics.

Four Irish Rebel Leaders are Executed; British Courts-martial Try Others in Dublin

Pending.

Patrick Pearse, President of the So-called Irish Republic, Faces Firing Squads and Cases of Others are Being Handled with as Great Expedition as Possible, Asquith Announces.

LONDON, May 3.—Premier Asquith announced in Parliament that Sir Roger Casement would be tried with the utmost expedition.

COURTS-MARTIAL IN DUBLIN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

DUBLIN, May 2 (via London, May 3.)—An official statement issued here today said:

"Rebels considered suitable for trial are being tried by a field general court-martial under the defense of the realm act. As soon as the sentences have been confirmed the public will be informed as to the result of the trial.

"Others are being sent to places in England. Their cases will receive consideration later. The cases of women taken prisoners are under consideration.

FOUR LEADERS ARE SHOT.

LONDON, May 3.—Four signatories to the Republican proclamation in Ireland were tried by court-martial, found guilty and were shot this morning.

Patrick H. Pearse, the "provisional President of Ireland," was among those shot.

Three other signers of the proclamation were sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Premier Asquith made an announcement to this effect in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Another of the rebels shot was James Connolly, who was styled "commandant-general of the Irish Republican army."

Two of the other signatories of the Republican proclamation found guilty and shot were Thomas J. Clark and Thomas MacDonagh.

The proclamation issued by the insurgents at the outbreak of the revolt, was signed by Thomas S. Clark, S. MacDiarmad, Thomas MacDonagh, P. H. Pearse, E. Ceannt, James Connolly and Joseph Plunkett.

Patrick Pearse, the "provisional President of Ireland," was about 33 years of age and was known in Ireland as an authority in Gaelic literature. He started in life as a barrister, but devoted most of his time to literary and educational pursuits. For some time he was editor of the Gaelic Journal in Dublin, and later founded St. Endas School, which he conducted up to the time of the Sinn Fein rebellion.

HAD MANY FRIENDS HERE.

Pearse had many friends in the United States. He lectured in this country on Irish ideals and Gaelic literature, the proceeds of his lectures going to the support of his school.

The head of the Sinn Fein rebellion was the son of an Englishman, but was himself born and educated in Dublin. He was unmarried.

James Connolly lived for several years in New York, where he was active as a Socialist leader and agitator. Connolly returned to Ireland about five years ago to aid in organizing the Irish labor party. He was about 50 years of age and was self-educated. He was the author of a book entitled "Labor in Irish History," published in Dublin, and was editor of a labor paper in that city called the "Irish Worker." He was the father of eight children, all of whom survive him, as well as his wife.

Thomas MacDonaugh was a close associate of Pearse's and a highly educated man. He was for some time assistant professor of English literature in the national university of Ireland, but resigned to become assistant to Pearse in St. Endas School.

Thomas J. Clark was one of the leaders in the Fenian conspiracy of the early eighties. He was arrested and sentenced to life imprisonment, but was released after serving fourteen years. After a short visit to America he returned to Dublin, where he opened a tobacco store. Clark married the daughter of Mayor John Daly of Limerick, another of the Fenian leaders. He is survived by his wife and four sons.

SENSATION IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—The news that four of the Irish leaders of the rebellion had been executed caused a sensation in Irish circles here today.

Robert E. Ford, editor of the Irish World, said:

"The shooting of Pearse and his associates will serve only to make the war between Ireland and England more bitter. The Irish revolution is being conducted according to the rules of civilized warfare. Pearse was a prisoner of war and should have been treated as such. To shoot him down was a piece of base brutality and will no doubt cause reprisals by the people of Ireland. Pearse, like Washington, represented a people throwing off the yoke of England. Washington would have been shot down like Pearse had he fallen into the hands of the English."

Jeremiah A. O'Leary, president of the American Truth Society, said that the men who signed the declaration of the republic knew they were signing their death warrants. At the end of the European war, he said, when "the conscience of mankind comes to an awakening the world will remember Ireland because the blood of these men and the sacrifices of their gallant associates will cry out."

Mr. O'Leary said he had conferred with a number of Irish leaders here by telephone and that they united in "denouncing the method and haste of the execution."

Meetings and exercises of a memorial character will be held by Irish sympathizers in the city and throughout the country, Mr. O'Leary said.

When Pearse was in this country two years ago, he issued the following statement to the press on St. Patrick's Day: "If home rule comes, a separationist party will at once make its appearance in the Irish House of Commons backed by a strong armed movement outside; if home rule does not come, the whole nation will automatically swing back to the policy and methods of the Fenians." Pearse was executed yesterday for his part in the Sinn Fein rebellion.

PRACTICAL MARTIAL LAW IN EAST PITTSBURGH.

Detachments of Pennsylvania National Guard Patrol Streets in Strike Zone, but no Disorder is Reported. Several Plants Resume Operations Under Large Forces of Police—Union Leaders in Conference.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Martial law practically prevailed in East Pittsburgh and Braddock tonight. Detachments of the Pennsylvania National Guard patrolled the streets in the strike zones but no disorder was reported.

The plants of the American Steel and Wire Company and the Edgar Thomson works of the Carnegie Steel Company resumed operations tonight, but large forces of police were stationed just inside the gates, ready for any emergency.

Burgess W. Blair Miller of North Braddock today discharged all but one member of the police force of the borough, consisting of nine men, because of their refusal yesterday to attempt to quell the riot at the Edgar Thomson works. The only man retained was off duty at the time of the trouble.

Today strike leaders summoned the English-speaking strikers to a conference to discuss plans for the opening of peace negotiations with the officials of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. A committee was appointed to confer with Patrick Gilday, chief of the Pennsylvania bureau of mediation and arbitration, in order that he might arrange a meeting with President E. M. Herr of the electric plant.

Steps looking to the adjustment of wage differences in the McKees Rocks district also were taken today. Eight hundred striking repairmen and laborers of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad appointed a committee to confer with railroad officials. Strikers from the Cass-avenue plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company also decided to name a committee to take up differences with the company.

PARCEL POST MARKETING INAUGURATED BY GRANGE

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—The Pomona Grange today inaugurated the direct marketing plan, based upon the parcel post idea which has been presented to Congress by David Lubin.

The grange will experiment with the plan for one month, and then report to Congress the results of the efforts.

Undoubtedly if the grange is able to secure sufficient publicity for its prices and the supply is sufficient to meet the demand, a thriving business will be done. Potatoes, vegetables, fruit and poultry were offered 15 to 30 per cent. below market prices.

The grange has printed coupon books which sell for $2.35. The housewife on buying a book can look over the list and order whatever she desires. Each farmer is given a number and the theory is that his reputation stands back of each sale. The numbers supplying the best produce naturally secure the biggest trade.

BRITISH COMPULSION BILL PASSES ITS FIRST READING.

LONDON, May 3.—The government's military bill for immediate general compulsion passed its first reading in the House of Commons today. Its passage was loudly cheered.

The debate revealed no very deadly opposition to the compulsion bill. The only interesting point was the suggestion by Col. Craig that Ireland should be included.

Walter Hume Long, president of the local government board, who was sponsor for the bill, replied to this suggestion that there was no objection if the Nationalist members approved the idea and it found an echo in Ireland. Mr. Long hoped that the bill would be passed next week.

Speaking with reference to the provisions of the bill, Premier Asquith said that youths reaching the age of 18 would be given a month's grace to enlist voluntarily. The same exemptions should be given as under the original bill.

A special reserve will be formed of men continuing in civil employment, who would be immediately available for service in case of emergency.

George Nicoll Barnes, one of the labor leaders in the House, expressed strong approval of the measure. He said that if the country had known the task in front of the allies eighteen months ago it would have accepted compulsory service then.

SOCIALIST FOUND GUILTY OF LIBELLING WASHINGTON

TACOMA, May 3.—Paul R. Haffer was found guilty of libel and defamation of character when he said that George Washington drank more liquor than was good for him and used occasional profanity. A jury in the district court so decided tonight after deliberating an hour and thirty minutes.

Col. A. E. Joab brought the charge against Haffer after the latter had written a letter to a newspaper on Washington's birthday, setting forth the alleged delinquencies of the Father of his Country. In his own defense Haffer said that he had read much of Washington's life and wrote the charges because he was opposed to hero worship and he thought the people were making too much of Washington's memory. He is a Socialist and employed as a car repairer.

The maximum penalty for the offense is a year in jail and $1000 fine. An appeal will be taken. Col. Joab thanked each juror as he came from the box for being "a real American."

MANY THOUSANDS STRIKE; LABOR CONDITIONS CHAOTIC

NEW YORK, May 3.—Approximately 100,000 persons employed in various trades in this city now are on strike, according to estimates made tonight, and thousands more are threatening to quit work unless their demands are met. With shipping virtually at a standstill, owing to the walkout of engineers and firemen employed on tugboats and lighters, and the garment industry almost completely paralyzed by a lockout and strike, employers generally declared that not in many years had labor conditions here been so chaotic.

Officials of the various unions said tonight there was comparatively no change in the situation. Although hundreds of pickets were employed during the day in the garment strike, it was said that seldom if ever have labor differences here affecting so many workers been so free of disturbances.

The 30,000 garment workers, employed in 1600 independent shops, who went on strike today in an effort to enforce the demand of an equal number of workers who were locked out from the shops of the Manufacturers' Protective Association last week, were attired in their best clothes and poured from the many buildings as if they were off for a brief holiday.

Considerable relief was expressed in shipping circles tonight by the announcement that the larger company probably would follow the lead of the International Mercantile Marine in acceding to the demands for higher wages of the longshoremen, 50,000 of whom threatened to strike.

LOS ANGELES MAN DIVORCED IN OHIO.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—Late today the Court of Domestic Relations here decreed a divorce to William C. Schroyer of Los Angeles, a teacher of embalming, the decree followed the offering in evidence of an order of the Superior Court of Los Angeles refusing a decree of divorce to Mrs. Mamie H. Schroyer at Los Angeles.

Schroyer now is stopping at No. 2909 Elsmere avenue, Norwood, Cincinnati. He alleges that his marriage took place April 22, 1891, and that his wife has been wilfully absent since October 10, 1909. It was stated in court here that Mrs. Schroyer is in Los Angeles. Schroyer is prominently connected here.

IRISH EDITOR IN PLOT CASE.

John Devoy Mentioned with Horst Von der Goltz.

Gadski's Husband Included in New Indictments.

Welland Canal Threatened by Alleged Activities.

NEW YORK, May 3.—John Devoy, editor of the Gaelic-American, and John T. Ryan, a Buffalo attorney, were mentioned in superseding indictments handed down here today by the Federal grand jury that investigated the alleged German plot to blow up the Welland Canal. The two men were not indicted but are alleged to have had cognizance of the conspiracy. Devoy is a leader in this country in the movement for Irish independence.

The new indictments go into the details of the alleged plot and for the first time in pro-German conspiracy cases state that it was aimed to assist the German Emperor. The indictments are against Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache; Wolfe von Igel, his then secretary; Capt. Hans Tauscher, agent of the Krupps in the United States, and husband of Mme. Gadski, the opera singer; Alfred A. Fritzen and Constantine Covani von Igel and Capt. Tauscher are the only ones under arrest. They will be rearraigned probably tomorrow.

VON DER GOLTZ NAMED.

Named as co-conspirators for the first time, but not indicted, are Horst von der Goltz, former major in the army of Villa, and a confessed spy; Carl Tuchendler, alias Tucker, and Frederick Joachim Busse. These three disclosed details of the conspiracy to the Federal authorities and have been granted immunity in return for their willingness to appear as government witnesses. Tuchendler and Von der Goltz are being detained at Ellis Island, while Busse is being kept in seclusion by Federal agents.

The indictments allege that the plot was a military enterprise "and the aim of the defendants was the obstruction of the military operations of the King of Great Britain and Ireland and the furthering of the military operations of the Emperor of Germany by means of bombs, dynamite and other explosives to blow up and destroy the Welland Canal, a Canadian waterway."

The charge is made that Capt. Von Papen, Von Igel and Capt. Tauscher furnished the initiative and funds for the expedition and that Fritzen and Covani were to have been the perpetrators with the assistance of five other men, "German subjects," engaged by Von der Goltz in Baltimore in August, 1914. The leaders, the indictments state, furnished the others with automatic revolvers, ammunition, bombs, dynamite and other explosives.

The accusation is repeated that Capt. Tauscher purchased from the local office of the Du Pont Powder Company 300 pounds of "40 per cent." dynamite to have been used in the work of destruction and that the explosive was obtained by Von der Goltz on Tauscher's written order.

Fritzen, Covani and the others left this city for Buffalo on September 14, 1914, it is charged, to carry out the enterprise. A payment of $200 to Von der Goltz by Capt. Von Papen on September 1, 1914, it is charged, furnished the money for the trip.

The indictment states that after the arrival of the party in Buffalo, Von der Goltz attempted to obtain additional funds from John T. Ryan, an attorney alleged to have been the agent of Von Igel.

RYAN IS SUSPICIOUS.

Ryan was suspicious and would not assist Von der Goltz until he could produce proper credentials, it is asserted. Von der Goltz notified Von Igel of the situation, the government charges, and Capt. Von Papen's secretary lost no time in getting in touch with Devoy, through whom, it is alleged, he communicated with Ryan.

As a result, the indictments state, Devoy sent the following telegram to Ryan at his office in Buffalo on September 16, 1914:

"Party who called is all right. I gave your address. Do all you can for him. Identify him at telegraph office. I will be responsible. Imperfect introduction due to my brother's death and hurry."

Ryan, on receipt of the telegram, the indictment states, gave Von der Goltz $400. This money was used by the agents of Capt. Von Papen to invade Canadian territory, the government charges, for the purpose of carrying out a "military enterprise." The government alleges its case is strengthened by the fact that all of the indicted men are on the rolls of the imperial German army.

ROBERT E. JACK DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—Robert E. Jack of San Luis Obispo, pioneer banker, cattleman and politician, died suddenly in his apartments at the Bellevue Hotel here late last night as the result of an attack of heart trouble. Jack came here a week ago accompanied by his wife and daughter and entered a local hospital for treatment. Two days ago he left the hospital in apparent good health, although warned by his physician that a recurrence of his affliction was likely. While preparing to retire last night he fell to the floor and expired before medical assistance could be summoned.

Jack was a native of Maine and came to this State in the fifties. He was for many years a prominent figure in politics and was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1884. Later he established a chain of banks at San Luis Obispo, Santa Maria and Paso Robles. Of late he has been engaged extensively in the cattle business.

He is survived by a widow, one daughter, Miss Ethel Jack, two sons, Howard and Robert, Jr., two brothers, Albert Jack of Oakland and Fred Jack of San Luis Obispo, and a sister residing in Maine.

GERMAN SOCIALIST LEADER IS ACCUSED OF RIOTING.

As He is a Soldier His Conduct is to be Investigated by a Military Tribunal—London Reports State of Great Unrest Prevails Throughout the Fatherland.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, May 3 (via Sayville.)—Dr. Carl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader, was arrested on May 1 in connection with a May Day demonstration in Berlin.

Eight other persons were arrested at the time of the demonstration, which occurred in Potsdam Square.

As Dr. Liebknecht is a soldier, an investigation of his conduct by a military tribunal was ordered.

The Overseas News Agency says that the disorders in connection with the May Day demonstration were not serious and that the manifestants were quickly dispersed by the police.

Dispatches from English correspondents in Holland and Switzerland say the May Day demonstration in Berlin assumed serious proportions. One dispatch gives a report that twenty-five persons were killed and 200 wounded. Similar reports in the past have been characterized in Berlin as false.

Dr. Liebknecht has aroused much opposition by his severe criticism in the Reichstag of the German government and recently was expelled from the Socialist party in the Reichstag.

FOOD RIOTS IN GERMANY.

LONDON, May 3, 10:25 a.m.—"Serious trouble is reported to have occurred in Berlin and elsewhere in Germany on May Day," says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. "Vast crowds, composed for the most part of women of the laboring classes, clamored for peace. The crowds were dispersed by the police and many persons were arrested. Two women were wounded at Chemnitz, Saxony."

A Geneva telegram to the Central News says:

"During food riots at Leipsic the police killed three persons and wounded seventy.

"In riots in Berlin it is reported twenty-five persons were killed and 200 wounded."

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—The House Committee on Naval Affairs decided this morning to adopt the amendment of Congressman Stephens of Los Angeles providing for a board of officers to visit the Pacific Coast this summer and report upon the advisability of establishing new naval and submarine stations together with the probable cost thereof.

Tomorrow morning Senators Works and Phelan and Congressman Stephens will appear before the Senate Committee on Commerce to explain the need of the dam at Domingues to hold back the flood waters and silt from Los Angeles Harbor.

Senator Phelan is about to present to the Senate the long-delayed report of the Committee of Public Lands regarding the California oil cases. The presentation of the report has been delayed for five weeks, greatly to the rage of the California oil men. They say Senator Phelan has too many social engagements. Senator Phelan's version is that the report was delayed because the California oil men got into a row among themselves and could not decide what they wanted. At any rate, the report is apparently about to be presented. It will be like an echo from the past.

MORE FRENCH GAINS IN VERDUN DISTRICT

Fresh Lines Added to the Trench Taken at Dead Man's Hill.

Berlin Wireless Dispatch, However, Points Out that the Defenders are Fighting at a Tremendous Disadvantage, in Crowded Quarters, and that Their Ranks are Being Decimated by the Germans.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 3.—Again the French have driven ahead at Le Mort Homme. To the 1500 meters of trenches whose capture was announced yesterday, they have added fresh lines taken today. Tonight the Germans have been practically cleared from their last foothold on the slopes of Le Mort Homme. To gain it had cost weeks of titanic effort, at the sacrifice of German lives on a scale of prodigality matched only at Douaumont. They lost it in two sharp, decisive, brilliantly planned French counter-attacks.

Since the opening of the French counter-offensive at Verdun, German attacks on other sectors of the west front have practically ceased. In the Argonne, there was a small assault, aided by gases, which succeeded today in reaching the French trenches for a short time. But the diversions of last week, which Paris believed were masking the withdrawal of troops from Verdun, have generally been abandoned.

These movements are now believed to have stopped while the Crown Prince watches the development of the French counter-offensive and seeks to determine its maznitude. Berlin continues to ignore the Paris claims, except to declare that counter-attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses.

Speculation among observers here as to the extent of Gen. Petain's offensive is equally fruitless. The more substantial opinion seems to be that the French attacks are undertaken primarily with the purpose of strengthening their defensive lines. Coupled with this is the desire to keep the Germans from "letting go" so long as it is possible to bleed them in assaults. How far Gen. Petain is prepared to go for either of these objectives it is believed can only be determined by local circumstances known to him alone.

ANOTHER VERSION.

BERLIN, May 3 (via Tuckerton.)—A German correspondent on the Verdun front is quoted by the Overseas News Agency today as declaring that the French during the past few days have been making violent local attacks on the German lines before the fortress and suffering heavy losses in their attempts to recapture observation posts which the Germans had taken.

The Germans, the correspondent points out, control a large area behind their lines available for the disposition of reserves and the bringing up of supplies, while the French are forced to concentrate in dense masses in the sectors of a fan, the ribs of which are formed by the lines which the Germans are attacking. Thus every road and every camping place, in fact every foot of land, is under the German fire, while the French artillery is forced to cover a large area, seeking out spots where it is supposed the German troops are located. On the other hand, the correspondent declares, each German shot finds its mark, and the German heavy artillery causes havoc.

PUT CONFIDENCE INTO BUSINESS.

Federal Trade Commission Appeals to Congress.

Asks that Exporters be Guaranteed More Safety.

Says Doubt Should be Taken from Anti-trust Law.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Legislation to encourage American business men to capture a share of the world's export trade by removing all doubt as to the applications of anti-trust laws to export business was recommended to Congress in a report of the Federal Trade Commission. The commission says its investigation into foreign trade conditions has established the fact that doubt as to the application of the anti-trust laws to export trade now prevents concerted action by American business men in export trade, even among producers of noncompeting goods.

"In view of this fact," the report says, "and of the conviction that cooperation should be encouraged in export trade among competitors as well as noncompetitors, the commission recommends the enactment of declaratory and permissive legislation to remove this doubt. The commission feels it would fail of its duty if it did not urge the pressing need of such action immediately."

The commission expresses the belief that Congress did not intend by the anti-trust laws to prevent Americans from co-operating in export trade for the purpose of competing effectively with foreigners, where such co-operation does not restrain domestic trade and there is no attempt is made to hinder American competitors from securing their due share.

OBSTRUCTION NOT INTENDED.

"It is not reasonable," says the report, "to suppose that Congress meant to obstruct this development of our foreign commerce by forbidding the use in export trade of methods of organization which do not operate to the prejudice of the American public, are lawful in the countries where the trade is to be carried on, and are necessary if Americans are to meet competitors there on equal terms."

The commission finds that other nations enjoy great advantages in foreign trade from superior facilities and more effective organization and says that while the United States has been absorbed in domestic development other nations have followed definite policies for expansion of foreign trade and have perfected efficient organizations.

MARINE NEGLECTED.

"The United States," continues the report, "has, on the contrary, neglected its merchant marine until it is dependent upon its commercial rivals to deliver its goods and the transportation of its products is now largely controlled by powerful international combinations of foreign shipowners who discriminate against the American shippers."

The commission reports that dangers in American co-operative action must be provided against fully and that this can be done by protecting individual exporters by specific exemption of the law prohibiting unfair methods of competition to export trade and requirement of full reports to the Federal Trade Commission from co-operative export organizations and by enforcement of the anti-trust laws to prevent use of such organizations to effect restraint of trade or monopoly in the domestic market.

FOREIGN RELATIONS UNPOPULAR THEME.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Action was indefinitely postponed today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on all pending resolutions affecting foreign affairs of the United States, either with regard to Mexico or peace in Europe. The committee determined that the time was inopportune for any action or expression of opinion relating to peace or to war.

The committee thus deferred action on Senator Phelan's resolution to reaffirm to the world the faith of the United States in peaceful settlement of international disputes, despite enlargement of the army and navy, a resolution by Senator Newlands to urge warring nations of Europe to express in concrete form what proposals could be made for peace and a proposal by Senator Gore of Oklahoma for the establishment of a neutral zone along the northern boundary of Mexico.

Senator Husting has been in communication with Department of Justice officials, who have expressed a willingness to co-operate.

The commission expresses the belief that Congress did not intend by the anti-trust laws to prevent Americans from co-operating in export trade for the purpose of competing effectively with foreigners, where such co-operation does not restrain domestic trade and where no attempt is made to hinder American competitors from securing their due share.

OBSTRUCTION NOT INTENDED.

"It is not reasonable," says the report, "to suppose that Congress meant to obstruct the development of our foreign commerce by forbidding the use in export trade of methods of organization which do not operate to the prejudice of the American public, are lawful in the countries where the trade is to be carried on, and are necessary if Americans are to meet competitors there on equal terms."

The commission finds that other nations enjoy marked advantages in foreign trade from superior facilities and more effective organization and says that while the United States has been absorbed in domestic development other nations have followed definite policies for expansion of foreign trade and have perfected efficient organizations.

MARINE NEGLECTED.

"The United States," continues the report, "has, on the contrary, neglected its merchant marine until it is dependent upon its commercial rivals to deliver its goods and the transportation of its products is now largely controlled by powerful international combinations of foreign ship owners who discriminate against the American shippers."

The commission reports that danger to American co-operative action may be provided against fully and that this can be done by protecting individual exporters by specific exemption of the law prohibiting unfair methods of competition to export trade and requirement of full reports to the Federal Trade Commission from co-operative export organizations and by enforcement of the anti-trust laws to prevent use of such organizations to effect restraint of trade or monopoly in the domestic market.

FOREIGN RELATIONS UNPOPULAR THEME.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Action was indefinitely postponed today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on all pending resolutions affecting foreign affairs of the United States, either with regard to Mexico or peace in Europe. The committee determined that the time was inopportune for any action or expression of opinion relating to peace or to war.

The committee thus deferred action on Senator Phelan's resolution to appeal to the world the faith of the United States in peaceful settlement of international disputes, declaring agreement of the army and navy, a resolution by Senator Newlands to urge warring nations of Europe to express in concrete form what proposals could be made for peace and a proposal by Senator Owen of Oklahoma for the establishment of a neutral zone along the southern boundary of Mexico.

FLOOD OF TELEGRAMS TO BE INVESTIGATED.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—As a result of a conference today between President Wilson and Senator Husting the Department of Justice probably will make an investigation to discover the influences responsible for sending thousands of telegrams to Senators and Representatives last week urging that no action be taken leading to war with Germany. Senator Husting has made a personal investigation and laid the results before the President. He would not say what attitude the President took. Senator Husting has been in communication with Department of Justice officials, who have expressed a willingness to co-operate.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Chairman Adamson of the House Interstate Commerce Committee discussed the administration shipping bill with President Wilson. The President urged prompt action.

PACKERS FOUND GUILTY.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Swift & Co., Armour, were found guilty today by a jury in the Federal court on all forty-nine counts in the indictment charging violation of the interstate commerce laws. The maximum penalty which can be imposed is a fine of $535,000. The government charged that the company shipped less than carload lots to Michigan at carload rates.

be taken until after President Wilson had studied Gen. Scott's dispatch tomorrow.

The Mexican problem is being handled by the President personally, it is understood, and no step will be taken without his sanction. It has been hinted that it was Mr. Wilson himself who suggested the conference between Gen. Scott and Gen. Obregon.

Officials apparently saw no reason to doubt the accuracy of press reports from El Paso giving the substance of the tentative agreement.

The reports bear out information here as to the scope of the powers given Gen. Scott in the additional instructions sent him after Gen. Obregon's insistence on the immediate withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico had been brought to a temporary deadlock. Concessions as to limiting the field in which Gen. Pershing's column will operate hereafter undoubtedly were authorized by the President himself in his conferences with Secretary Baker over Gen. Scott's first report. It seemed probable tonight that the tentative agreement would be promptly ratified unless State Department officials found some element in it which required further discussion.

An indication of the thorough accord of the administration with the plan hit upon by Gens. Scott and Obregon of solving the border problem came with information that the State and Treasury departments were preparing to take early action on applications for exportation of various shipments of arms and ammunition to the Carranza forces.

FISKE REBUKED IN THE SENATE.

TILLMAN DENOUNCES ADMIRAL FOR ATTACK ON DANIELS.

Declares Letter, Which is now Made Public, Actuated by Malice and Wounded Vanity—Senator Lodge Says an Injustice has been Done the Naval Officer.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 3. — Rear-Admiral Bradley A. Fiske's letter to the Senate taking issue with Secretary Daniels for the latter's statement that he never had been furnished a copy of Admiral Fiske's letter, warning the department of the unprepared state of the navy in 1914, was made public today by Chairman Tillman of the Naval Committee.

In submitting the letter Senator Tillman declared Secretary Daniels courted investigation if one was demanded.

"The Secretary of the Navy has nothing to conceal and courts an investigation if one is demanded," said Senator Tillman. "Neither he nor his friends here like this kind of sniping or guerrilla warfare. I content myself with asking that Fiske's letter to the vice-president be published in the record so that all may judge how little there really is to his utterances, except malice and wounded vanity. Disappointed ambition, too, has had much to do with his conduct. He has brooded over what he supposed to be his wrongs until he seems to be obsessed, and I really feel sorry for him."

DEFENDS FISKE.

Senator Lodge, defending Admiral Fiske, said he thought an injustice had been done the naval officer. "The Secretary of the Navy has seen fit on several occasions," he said, "to attack Admiral Fiske. Admiral Fiske is an officer of the highest rank. He has had an unblemished career in the navy. He has engaged in no guerrilla warfare, but has only the desire that is the right of every honest man to protect his own reputation."

In his letter Admiral Fiske referred to Secretary Daniels's statement to the Senate saying he had never been furnished a copy of the Fiske unpreparedness letter and expressing great surprise to learn that such a communication had been filed.

Admiral Fiske wrote: "This statement constituted an accusation against me of a grave breach of official propriety—in fact, of actual underhandedness of an attempt to conceal an important letter from the Secretary while as a matter of fact I was always scrupulously careful never to permit him to receive or to remain under any mistaken impression or to be in ignorance of any important matter, if I could prevent it."

MAN'S JUGULAR VEIN SEVERED BY A TONSORIALIST.

Missourian Intercedes for an Acquaintance Who was Rudely Treated When He Found the Chair Full, Enrages the Razor Artist and Pays with His Life.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 3.—Herman Pitts, a tailor, was cut to death in a barber chair this afternoon and the police are looking for Charles Messer, a barber.

Pitts was getting a haircut when John Pritchett, a friend, came into the shop.

"I'm in a hurry, guess I won't wait," said Pritchett when he saw the barber was busy.

"Oh, sit down," shouted Messer, pushing Pritchett into a chair.

When Messer returned to his hair cutting Pitts called him to task for handling Pritchett roughly. An argument followed. According to witnesses, the barber suddenly reached for a razor and slashed Pitts across the throat, the instrument severing the jugular vein.

Wife of the Secretary of State Enters Training Camp at Chevy Chase to Prepare Herself for Service as a Nurse in Case the Country Gets into Trouble with a Foreign Foe—Is Tentmate of Mrs. George Barnett.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—Mrs. Robert Lansing, wife of the Secretary of State, will don a tenfifty khaki suit cut with a short skirt and plaided roundabout and join the rank of prominent women who live under the tents at the service school preparedness camp, Chevy Chase, Md. She will be the tent mate of Mrs. George Barnett, wife of Maj.-Gen. George Barnett, U.S.M.C.

Mrs. Lansing has for the present eschewed fashionable dinner parties and other social affairs which will in any way interfere with her studies in camp, and will religiously devote herself to the life there. Besides Mrs. Lansing and Mrs. Barnett the camp has a number of dignified resident students and officers in the persons of Mrs. Hugh L. Scott, wife of the Chief of Staff, Mrs. George Dewey, wife of the Admiral of the United States Navy; Mrs. Richard Wainwright, Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, Mrs. Henry F. Ashurst, wife of Senator Ashurst of Arizona, and others.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT JOINS.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 3.—President William Lowe Bryan of Indiana University, has announced that he will enter one of the three military training camps to be held at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near here, this summer. He said he had decided to do this as an example to university students of the State.

The Fort Harrison camps, which will be under the supervision of the United States army officers, will be open to citizens throughout the Central West.

CIVILIANS ON NAVY CRUISE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Thirty Philadelphia professional men, athletes and yachtsmen were on board the battleships Ohio, Missouri and Wisconsin which were to leave the local navy yard today for the first naval training cruising for civilians in the history of the United States Navy. The cruise is preliminary to the larger experiment in civilian training to be made by the Navy Department in August.

The battleships will be three days at sea, being due to arrive at Annapolis Saturday morning. They will remain there until put into service for the annual summer cruise of the midshipmen.

EASTLAND A NAVAL SHIP.

QUINCY (Ill.) May 3.—The Illinois Naval Militia will make its training cruises during the summer of 1917 on the steamer Eastland, according to announcement made today by William A. Johnson of the Quincy division, following receipt of a message from Washington to the effect that the House Naval Committee had appropriated $100,000 for the purpose of repairing the vessel.

Eight hundred persons lost their lives when the Eastland turned turtle and sank in the Chicago River last June.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS TRAIN.

FORT OGLETHORP (Ga.) May 3.—Work of training a citizen soldiery began with the formal opening here today of the southern military training camp. Hundreds of business and professional men from various parts of the country, particularly the East and South, were on hand ready for enrollment.

Lieut. Col. D. W. Ketcham of the Coast Artillery, is in charge of the camp. He is being assisted by a large staff of officers of the regular army. One of the first orders issued was that forbidding the use of intoxicating liquors.

LOS ANGELES PARTY ON MEXICAN CRUISE.

PADATIAD YACHT ITUNA ON WAY FROM SEATTLE.

R. Fred Vogel, with Ward Chapman as His Guest, Starts for San Pedro Where He will Take His Friends Aboard and Sail for Southern Waters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SEATTLE, May 3.—The palatial steam yacht Ituna departed this afternoon on a cruise which will take her up the Columbia River, then south to Los Angeles, Southern California and Mexico. R. Fred Vogel, a Los Angeles millionaire, who owns the yacht, arrived here yesterday to make the trip south on the vessel with Ward Chapman, a Los Angeles attorney, as his only guest. When San Pedro is reached a large party will be taken aboard for the cruise in Mexican waters.

The Ituna sailed with Capt. Frank White, president of the Shipmasters' Association of the United States, in command. The association's flag has been hoisted over the yacht. This is the first time that the pennant of blue with a white cross and red star in the center has ever been raised over any vessel.

The Ituna is a 250-ton ocean-going yacht manned by a crew of fourteen. She has been in Seattle since last October, when Mr. Vogel and his party returned after a cruise of Southeastern Alaska waters. At Petersburg, the Ituna was in collision with the steamship City of Seattle and her bow was damaged and bowsprit and figurehead torn off. She has been repaired and entirely overhauled at the Wilson shipbuilding yards at a cost of nearly $10,000. The work, which included cleaning and painting, was completed last week.

"MY POLICIES" ON A STRETCHER

Lie Passed After Sensational Conservation Fight.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—"My policies," fathered originally by Col. Roosevelt, and nurtured recently by Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, and James R. Garfield of Ohio, were today carried out on a stretcher from the National Conservation Congress, where they were born ten years ago.

The National Conservation Congress for many years has been considered the exclusive property of Mr. Pinchot, former Chief Forester of the United States. At the convention of the organization, now being held in Washington, Mr. Pinchot made a vain fight today to have the delegates indorse the Roosevelt-Pinchot conservation policies.

After a sensational fight, in which the lie was passed and hard names called, Mr. Pinchot and former Secretary of Interior Garfield, who was aiding him, went down to defeat in the home of their friends.

The test of strength came over the report of the Executive Committee, which had indorsed the Shields water-power bill, which recently passed the Senate, and which Pinchot in an open letter to President Wilson had denounced as a burglary of the rights of the people.

INDORSE SHIELDS BILL.

The committee, in its report, indorsed the Shields bill, which was passed in the Senate by a 2 to 1 vote, with most of the Republicans approving it. It is a liberal bill which is expected to encourage the investment of capital, bring about a large development of water power, and the establishment of nitrate factories to supply the ingredients needed for the manufacture of powder for war purposes, as well as fertilizers in time of peace.

Such a commendatory report, favoring the bill which Pinchot has been assailing as a violation of all of "My policies," was naturally considered an affront by Pinchot. He caused to be introduced at once a substitute for the committee's report which would have placed the convention on record as being favorable to the peculiar Pinchot policies of restriction. The Pinchot policy would place such severe hardships on investors in water power plants that there would be no development.

On the motion for the adoption of the substitute, the convention voted 39 to 116. The overwhelming defeat of the Pinchot motion, followed by the adoption of the report favoring the Shields bill, caused Pinchot to hurry to the platform and issue a denunciation to the effect that the convention was "packed" by the "water-power interests." He said monopoly had stolen his pet convention and he denounced those who had voted against his substitute as creatures of the water-power "monopoly."

SLATTERY JOINS ATTACK.

Secretary Slattery of the National Conservation Association, another of Pinchot's associations, joined in the attack that was made by his chief, and he shouted in the midst of the confusion that he knew the convention was packed, and that he would prove it by reading the names of water-power representatives who were present. He included the name of Hugh Cooper, consulting engineer of the Du Pont Powder Company at Wilmington, and the officers of the Alabama Power Company, although Mr. Cooper and the Alabama Power Company happen to be on opposite sides of the fence in the fight over nitrate manufacture now waging in Congress.

George E. Condra, professor of the University of Nebraska, who is not allied with any water power interest, directly or indirectly, took exceptions to the charges of Pinchot and Slattery that the convention was packed with water-power lobbyists. He pointed out that there had been 116 votes against Pinchot. He said there was an easy way of determining the matter. He asked the 116 persons to rise. Then he requested all those who were interested, directly or indirectly in any water-power project or company, to sit down. Eighty-seven wholly disinterested delegates were left standing, still a majority of forty-eight over the Pinchot supporters, most of whom, it was later pointed out, were his former employees or supporters in the government service.

MICHIGAN TO VOTE FOR JUSTICE HUGHES.

LANSING (Mich.) May 3.—Republicans of Michigan, at a harmonious State convention here today, indorsed Justice Charles E. Hughes for President and selected four delegates-at-large to the national convention.

The resolutions agreed upon recommended that the Michigan delegation, after voting for "Henry Ford on the first ballot at the national convention, should support Hughes or some other good Republican."

Ford's victory over United States Senator William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids at the recent State primary makes it mandatory that the delegation support him on the first ballot.

Ideal Treatment For Constipation

Science has long sought a treatment for constipation that would be agreeable, harmless, and that would not necessitate the taking of laxatives or purgatives.

The new paraffine treatment for constipation recently introduced by Sir Wm. Arbuthnot Lane, a prominent English physician, has proven a decided success. Many people who have suffered from constipation have been relieved and permanently benefited by taking pure paraffine, or petroleum, in the form of Ameroil.

This liquid paraffine, Ameroil, is a most pleasant remedy to take. It is tasteless, odorless and the purest form of pure paraffine. It is not a medicine or a drug. It acts by simply passing through the bowels, softening the hardened masses that choke the channels and causing a perfectly natural movement. It is not a laxative in the ordinary sense. It is not absorbed, nor does it pass into the system. Ameroil is sold at all Owl Drug Stores at 50c per pint bottle.—(Advertisement.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and cannot salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quick-silver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and cannot salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

the defeat of Bryan in 1896. That means that the Republicans who went into the Progressive party in 1912 have about all returned, but that they have no desire to bring their leaders back with them. This means a practically solid Republican Congressional delegation from California, a Republican Senator, probably Booth, and a Republican Assembly next year.

"Some credit should be given to the Democrats, however, for fair dealing. They polled a remarkably heavy vote yesterday, considering there was no contest. The reason was that a few thousand Democrats took pride in going to the polls and voting their Democratic ticket, even though there was no contest, to express their disapproval of the attempt of the administration to colonize voters.

"It was a notable victory and the most pleasing part of it is that it has been won without any compromise with deserters. The stalwart Republican press of the State led the attack; they were supported by the Republicans at large and they have good reason to be proud today of their victory.

"I figure, for one thing, that this victory may save the State something like a million dollars a year on pay rolls alone. It is just possible that the next general appropriation bill will be passed by a Republican Assembly."

PAY ROLLERS WORRIED.

This reference of the Secretary of State to the next appropriation bill bodes no good for the pay roll brigade. While a Republican Assembly would not be able to abolish any of the State commissions, it will fix the amount of the appropriation for each of these and all salaries that are not fixed by the Constitution. It would be in a position to place some of the useless commissions on a bread and water diet. This is the disaster that now confronts the administration satellites.

GRATIFICATION.

Southern California's repudiation of the United-Republican ticket is especially gratifying to the northern leaders. They take this to mean that the back of the administration is fairly broken. The Governor's lieutenants are so demoralized over the southern vote that they can't as yet find a solid base on which to start their campaign for the August primaries. It is already patent in both Sacramento and San Francisco that an indorsement by Gov. Johnson and the labor unions will defeat any man who starts for a State office.

It is reported here tonight that Major Rolph of San Francisco can have the Lieutenant-Governorship if he will accept it. That seems to be the last hope of the demoralized administration forces.

Republicans here are laughing tonight over the plight of Alden Anderson and George Peltier of the United-Republican ticket. They were so confident of success that they had already made their reservations in the Congress Hotel in Chicago for the Republican convention.

CAUCUS.

As soon as the official result is announced by the Secretary of State the regular Republican delegates will caucus in San Francisco and select their alternates for the national convention. Under the terms of the primary law each alternate must come from the same Congress district as his principal, but the delegation as a whole can vote on the selection of each of these alternates.

About 1200 regular Republicans in San Francisco declined to vote for the two women delegates on the regular ticket, and a similar number of United-Republicans refused to vote for the women on that ticket. This has been noted with some surprise by the professional politicians, as it might have meant the loss of a couple of delegates if the voting had been close. The regular Republican ticket is pledged, however, by the State-wide convention selecting it to vote for national woman suffrage.

HEAVIEST VOTE.

The Republican vote was the heaviest, considering the Republican registration, ever cast at a primary in California. The total Republican registration is 292,000, while the Republican vote cast was about 250,000. This must mean either there was heavy colonization on the part of the administration or that four out of every five Republicans registered went to the polls.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

Use "Tiz" for puffed-up, burning, aching, calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet — feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"Tiz" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "Tiz" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "Tiz" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness — no more foot torture.

Methodists Want Wine Banished from White House.

Delegates from the Allies Declare They Want Peace.

Membership of the Church Shows Steady Growth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SARATOGA (N. Y.) May 3.—The weather is cooler, but the General Conference is warmer. The fraternal greetings last night from Great Britain and Canada were warmly received. Dr. Endicott of Canada said: "It looks as if all Canada will be under prohibition by January 1, 1917." Dr. Endicott did not discuss the cause of the war, but he declared concerning the war, "We neither caused it, nor wished it, nor expected it." He further said, "We are lovers of peace."

Dr. Workman, the fraternal delegate from London, Eng., said: "Cromwell is yours as well as ours. Lincoln is ours as well as yours."

He declared that the war has emptied the English church of young men. He said that England has 4,000,000 soldiers in the army. He told the conference that England needed to be sobered and this war is doing it.

POINTS IN ADDRESS.

The Episcopal address, presented to the conference, contains the following interesting points:

An increase in membership of between 300,000 and 400,000 has been attained in each of the past four years.

Residential supervision on the part of the bishops is approved, but the grouping of several of such "episcopal areas" is believed undesirable.

Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and of such other bodies as may share the common Methodist faith and experience, is approved.

Warning is issued against any movement tending to create a union of church and state.

The constituency in the colored churches, who have raised $297,779 for benevolences during the past quadrannium, is commended.

Schools for training the ministry of the church are inadequate for the needs.

Employers, investors and wage-earners are urged to help in securing agreements between employers and employees, minimum wage adjustments and profit-sharing co-operative plans.

All forms of child labor are severely condemned and the Keating-Owen bill is commended.

No specific direction regarding the question of amusements is made, but John Wesley's exhortation to avoid diversions that "cannot be taken in the name of the Lord, Jesus," is re-emphasized.

Sabbath desecration, Mormonism and the saloon, are severely condemned.

Methodist clergymen who perform the rite of marriage for divorced persons contrary to the law of the church are criticised.

The Methodist church now possesses forty-three hospitals in this country, twelve in India, and twenty-three in China.

Concerning Biblical criticism, the bishops declare the Christian church welcomes whatever constructive benefit may have come out of efforts to throw new light on the history, literature and revelation of the Bible.

WILSON A SURPRISE.

Rev. J. W. Anderson of the Missouri delegation offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Temperance Committee:

"Whereas, it has been reported through the public press that our President, the Hon. Woodrow Wilson, has restored the use of intoxicants on state occasions at White House functions; therefore be it

"Resolved by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in conference assembled, in the city of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., that we hereby express to the Hon. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, our keen disappointment and regret for said action, especially at a time when the rulers of other nations have taken such advanced positions with reference to intoxicating liquors, and when there is such wide-spread sentiment in our land in favor of total abstinence from all alcoholic beverages; and we, the delegated representatives of more than 4,000,000 members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, hereby appeal to the President as a Christian gentleman to abolish the wine cup from all functions over which he has control, thereby setting a worthy example and keeping pace with the forward movements and Christian sentiments of the day.

"And therefore, as the liquor beverage traffic has its national organization, pays government revenue, so that for these and other reasons it is a national issue, we most earnestly request the President to give his indorsement and hearty support to the pending measures looking toward nation-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic."

The most important events in the conference during the past three days include the election of Dr. Edwin Locke of Topeka, Kan., as secretary.

Episcopal address read by Bishop John W. Hamilton of Boston.

Appointment Committee of fifteen on world conditions.

Dr. Levi Gilbert resigns as editor of Western Christian Advocate.

FOREIGN REPORTS RECEIVED.

SARATOGA SPRINGS (N. Y.) May 3.—Reports of the progress of Methodism in China, Korea and Japan were presented to the Methodist Episcopal General Conference tonight by two of the missionary bishops of the church, W. S. Lewis for China and M. C. Harris for Korea and Japan.

The great outstanding need in China, Bishop Lewis said, is for a standardized and efficient educational system. The government, he declared, is so burdened by indemnity taxation, the upbuilding of an army and navy absolutely necessary for the defense of the nation, and so occupied in the labor incident to the inauguration of representative government, that it has neither time nor money to organize an educational system.

Bishop Harris described the growth of the Japanese Methodist Church, which now has a membership of 15,337, a gain of 25 per cent. in the past four years. There are 3334 Sunday-schools, with 37,205 pupils, or nearly one-third of the entire Sunday-school strength of the Protestant Church in Japan.

In Korea the native Methodists number 44,390, a four-fold increase in twelve years.

BUDGET DISCUSSED.

At the business session today the Committee on Finance in its report recommended that a budget system be instituted to cover each four-year period and that the several benevolent boards be unified in an effort to prevent unnecessary expenditure of money and duplication of effort. Since the conference in 1912 the church has raised $158,000,000, 89 per cent. of which was expended for church building, pastoral support and current expenses.

Although the election of several new bishops will not come before the conference for some time, activity in behalf of many candidates already is manifest. It is expected that eight ministers will be elevated to the episcopacy, and among those whose candidacies are being promoted is the Rev. Charles Edward Locke of Los Angeles, pastor of what is said to be the largest Methodist congregation in the United States.

Reversal.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARIES TALK OF WASHINGTON.

Party Leaders Recognize the Terrible Swat Administered to Johnson is also a Blow to Roosevelt.—"Strength" of the Colonel is now Called Mere Newspaper Polls and Talk.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—The California primaries were the talk of Washington today. Party leaders recognize the terrible swat that Hiram Johnson got as being also the worst reversal that Roosevelt has received since announcing himself. It is freely predicted here that the colonel will very soon discover that he had no personal ambitions in the matter anyhow and that, as the Republican party seems to be about to name a good man for the office, why—well, good-by boys.

As to Gov. Johnson, the opinion is expressed by politicians in Washington that he had launched himself on a purely selfish political venture; he wanted a delegation that he could bring into the national convention all tied in a bundle for trading purposes. Politicians here assert that Gov. Johnson intended to trade himself into the Vice-Presidency or into the Cabinet. His ultimate ambition was to use the resultant publicity he would get as a leverage whereby to go to New York to practice law. A month ago, T. R. looked to be coming like a whirlwind and somewhere in the middle of the whirlwind the dim form of Hiram Johnson could be made out. But, even before this news came from California, the colonel was slipping fast.

As one of the G.O.P. leaders said today: "Roosevelt's strength consisted mostly of newspaper polls and talk. When it came to actually selecting delegates to the convention it was soon seen that he didn't have anything. The colonel's speech in the West the other day was certainly made for the purpose of giving himself a soft place to fall in. He is through and he knows it."

REGULARS INCREASE LEAD OVER COMBINED OPPONENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—The "regular" or conservative Republicans increased their lead over the united or "new" Republicans in additional returns received tonight from yesterday's Presidential primary election. Bordwell, heading the ticket of the "regulars," had a vote of 113,702 as against 82,152 for Bulla of the united faction.

According to formal statements issued today and sentiments expressed tonight by the leaders of the opposing forces an earnest effort looking to complete harmony will be made. The regulars showed no disposition to "crow."

"Gratification over the victory of Tuesday," said a statement issued by the Campaign Committee of the regulars, "is necessarily tempered with a realization that our opponents are actuated in the main by honest motives."

Tonight Ray Benjamin, Assistant State Attorney-General, one of the defeated united candidates, wrote the Republican State Central Committee proffering his services "for the cause of the party."

Victorious and defeated candidates alike voiced the sentiment: "Let us get together, forget all differences and work to defeat the Democrats."

Straight Democratic, 49,328.

Examination of the incomplete returns shows that the United Republicans are maintaining a substantial lead in ten counties—Alpine, Fresno, Imperial, Lassen, Placer, Riverside, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Stanislaus and Tulare.

TO FEDERALIZE THE MILITIA.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Reorganization and federalization of the National Guard as proposed by the House, whereby there would be created a militia reserve of approximately 400,000 men, was tentatively agreed upon today by the conferees of the army bill. The Senate's provisions for the National Guard were along the same line as those in the House bill, but would provide for only 250,000 men.

Some of the Senate amendments to the original Senate bill respecting the militia may be accepted tomorrow, including the Wadsworth amendment, which would require enlisted officers and men to take an oath to the United States as well as to the State.

The conferees became deadlocked temporarily when they reached the Federal volunteer army reserve of the Senate bill, and after spirited debate the matter was passed over without action. This proposed force of 260,000, which was twice saved in the Senate by a close vote, after it had been bitterly opposed by champions of the National Guard, probably will not be agreed upon by the conferees. It was asserted tonight that the Senate conferees would not yield on the point, and prediction was made that the committee would have to report a disagreement on that feature and seek further instructions from the Senate and House.

OROVILLE GIRL REPEATS STORY

Again Accuses Minister of Committing a Wrong.

New Offense is Charged by Miss Gertrude Lamson.

Witness is Self-possessed Under Many Questions.

OROVILLE, May 3.—Gertrude Lamson today repeated her story the great wrong that she alleges Rev. Madison Slaughter committed upon her.

But unlike the story told at previous trial, today under the questioning of Dist.-Atty. R. A. Lee she repeated every circumstance surrounding the alleged crime. Apparently nothing was left untold.

The story as told today contained another offense to the list of alleged violations, to which the girl has previously testified, bringing the total up to eight. The new offense is alleged to have been committed in the dining-room of the Slaughter home on Sunday night, November 14, following a similar offense, which she alleges took place in the bedroom of the same home.

The girl unfolds the tale of alleged machinations of the minister to accomplish her downfall. She told of caresses, compliments and additional details.

WHY SHE MADE NO OUTCRY.

She declared that she had made no outcry because she "did not dare to make any trouble."

The witness was dressed all in white which only served to intensify the pallor of her face. She was eminently self-possessed, however, and testified without a trace of nervousness. On a number of occasions she had difficulty in repressing smiles. On one occasion Attorney Kennedy for the defense demanded to know what was so amusing in the situation. This brought prompt protest from the prosecution and a sharp admonition from the court.

Prior to the beginning of the cross-examination, Attorney Kennedy arose and declared that questions that would be asked would be of such a character that spectators should leave the room for "common decency" and "in the interest of witness." The courtroom was jammed to capacity. Three women and five men left. One of the latter soon came quietly back in a few moments.

PROMISED IMMUNITY.

Howard Allinger testified that the defendant had told in conversation regarding the girl's charges that she persisted in these charges, that she would have to specify time, place and occasion to meet an alibi. Allinger, who is also accused of having intimate relations with the girl, admitted that he had been promised immunity if he would testify.

Sergt. George Le Mesnager, Who has been Thrice Wounded and has Received Three Medals for Gallant Service, will Go Back to Firing Line Again.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—Sixty-five years old, recipient of three medals for gallant service, personally complimented by Gen. Joffre, thrice wounded and now announcing his determination to go back to the front as soon as he regains his strength, this is the record of Sergt. George Le Mesnager of the One Hundred and Sixth French infantry, who arrived here today aboard the Espagne of the French line. Sergt. Le Mesnager, who was credited with being the oldest non-commissioned officer on the French line, was born in France and came to this country in 1867. He became a notary public and located in Los Angeles, Cal.

When the Franco-Prussian war broke out in 1871 Sergt. Le Mesnager went back to France and enlisted. He became a color sergeant during that war. After the war he returned to this country and took up the prosaic duties of his notary office. At the outset of the present conflict, Sergt. Le Mesnager again returned to France and was placed in the One Hundred and Sixth infantry, also becoming color sergeant. He has served throughout the war, taking part in the great battle of the Marne, the French last September, when they retook three miles of their territory from the Germans.

Sergt. Le Mesnager was cited for bravery, but his excellent work has won for personal commendation from Gen. Joffre. Sergt. Le Mesnager declares that the French are now on the way to a sure victory. He is enthusiastic about the entire situation on the western front and believes the war will end before another winter is over.

SURGEONS ATTEND WARSAW CONGR

BERLIN (via Sayville) May 3.—The congress of army surgeons at Warsaw is being attended by 1500 men, including many university professors and the chief surgeons of the Austro-Hungarian, Turkish and Bulgarian armies.

Dr. Schjerning, chief surgeon of the German army, said there were more than 24,000 surgeons in the German army, in addition to 1468 field physicians, 400 dentists, 1000 pharmacists and 92,000 assistants in the sanitary corps in the field. There are 60,000 in Germany and 20,000 at the bases back of the lines. There are 238 hospital trains in service, including eighteen large disinfecting trains which are able to attend to 2000 soldiers daily.

Wilson may Have to Choose Between Peace and War.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE, EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, May 3 (via Amsterdam and London.)—Berlin and all Germany are in a state of intensified suspense since Ambassador Gerard's return in the expectation that the government's answer to America will now follow.

The government continues to be a sphinx so far as concerns the nature and character of the note which now requires little more than a signature. The government has succeeded so far in keeping its secret well and has taken unusual pains that nothing be prematurely known of the contents of the note, whether it is of a conciliatory character that means the solution of the German-American situation or quite the contrary. The public has no inkling of the nature of the forthcoming note and even usually well informed circles appear more or less at sea as to what the governments decision is or will be.

There are certain signs, one of which is the government's secrecy in this note, which give a pretty fair indication of what Germany's answer will be, but those may not yet be stated. The government apparently does not underestimate the opposition to its course that already exists, and perhaps will even increase, and evidently doesn't care to furnish in advance any ammunition that would increase the pressure and opposition before the last word of the note is written, signed and given to Gerard.

I am informed that it is unlikely that the note will be delivered to Ambassador Gerard tonight and it is not entirely certain yet whether it will be tomorrow. The Chancellor is expected to return from headquarters on Friday.

Sergt. George Le Mesnager, who has been Thrice Wounded and has Received Three Medals for Gallant Service, will Go Back to Firing Line Again.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—Sixty-five years old, proud of three medals for gallantries, personally complimented by Joffre, thrice wounded and unceasing his determination to get to the front as soon as he can by the strength, this is the history of Sergt. George Le Mesnager of the One Hundred and Sixth French Infantry, who arrived here today on the Espagne of the French Line.

Sergt. Le Mesnager, who is visited with being the oldest commissioned officer on the battlefield, was born in France and before his country in 1867. He became notary public and located in Los Angeles, Cal.

When the Franco-Prussian war broke out in 1871 Sergt. Le Mesnager went back to France and enlisted, became a color sergeant during the war. After the war he returned to this country and took up the prosaic duties of his notary's office.

At the outset of the present conflict, Sergt. Le Mesnager returned to France and was enlisted in the One Hundred and Sixth Infantry, also becoming color sergeant. He has served throughout the war, taking part in the great assault on the French last September, when they retook three miles of their trenches from the Germans.

Sergt. Le Mesnager was wounded, but his excellent work called forth personal recommendation from Joffre. Sergt. Le Mesnager declares that the French are now on the way to a sure victory. He is enthusiastic about the entire situation, on the western front and believes the war will end before the end of winter is over.

SURGEONS ATTEND WARSAW CONGRESS

BERLIN (via Sayville) May 3.—The congress of army surgeons now in session is being attended by delegates, including many university professors and the chief surgeons of the German, Austro-Hungarian, Turkish and Bulgarian armies.

Professor Schjerning, chief surgeon of the German army, said there were more than 24,000 surgeons in the field, in addition to 3000 Red Cross physicians, 400 dentists, 1000 pharmacists and 92,000 soldiers in the sanitary corps in the field. There are in Germany and 20,000 at the front, back of the lines. There are 200 hospital trains in service and 1000 large disinfecting stations. They are able to attend to 100,000 wounded daily.

KAISER READY TO SIGN NOTE.

Intense Suspense Pervades German Official Circles.

Solutions are a Counter-proposition will be Made.

Wilson may Have to Choose Between Peace and War.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE. EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, May 3 (via Amsterdam and London.)—Berlin and all Germany are in a state of intensified suspense since Ambassador Gerard's return in the expectation that the government's answer to America will follow.

The government continues to be a sphinx so far as concerns the nature and character of the note which now requires little more than a signature. The government has succeeded so far in keeping its secret well and has taken unusual pains that nothing be prematurely known of the contents of the note, whether it is of a conciliatory character that means the abandonment of the German-American situation or quite the contrary. The public has no inkling of the nature of the forthcoming note and even the really well informed circles appear to be no more or less at sea as to what the government's decision is or will be.

There are certain signs, one of which is the government's secrecy as to this note, which give a pretty clear indication of what Germany's answer will be, but those may not yet be stated. The government apparently doesn't underestimate the situation to its course that already has and perhaps will even increase, and evidently doesn't care to furnish in advance any ammunition that would increase the pressure and opposition before the last word of the note is written, signed and given to Gerard.

I am informed that it is unlikely that the note will be delivered to Ambassador Gerard tonight and it is not entirely certain yet whether it will be tomorrow. The Chancellor is expected to return from headquarters on Friday.

PREDICTS EVASIVE ANSWER.

BERLIN, May 3 (via Sayville.)—The German reply to the American note on submarine warfare may be expected momentarily. It now appears, however, that Thursday may be the day on which it will be handed to the American Embassy.

The center of gravity in the situation, it is considered here, will rest in Washington, where it must be decided whether the proposal which Germany takes meets the conditions of the last paragraph of the American note.

The German reply will not decide whether a breach will come between the United States and Germany, according to the Koelnische Volks Zeitung. The decision, this newspaper says, will rest entirely with President Wilson, depending upon the answer he is expected to make to the German note.

The draft of the German reply has been finished. The reply is subject to minor alterations which may result from interchanges of views between Berlin and general headquarters.

The attitude of Germany will be stated in clear and precise terms. The note will leave no room for doubt concerning the exact position assumed by Germany, which will communicate the definite nature of instructions that will be given to submarine commanders and other data on which Washington itself can judge the situation.

The Associated Press is permitted to make these statements, although the censorship on dispatches tending to reveal the tenor of the German reply still is effective.

Note.

GERMANY'S ANSWER EXPECTED TODAY.

WILSON, LANSING AND HOUSE HOLD CONFERENCE.

Delay by Berlin Government has Created Bad Impression, and Submarine Issue Must be Cleared Up Week if Diplomatic Relations are to Continue.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—President Wilson, Secretary Lansing and Col. E. M. House held a long conference tonight at the White House. It is understood that the submarine situation was discussed, but Secretary Lansing said later that he had received no word from Berlin regarding the character of the German note, which press dispatches said probably would be handed to Ambassador Gerard tomorrow.

The President and his advisers are keeping their minds open while they await the German note. The delay evidently has created a bad impression, however, and it was stated authoritatively today that the case would have to be cleared up next week if diplomatic relations with Germany were to continue.

The President is known to be unalterably determined to adhere strictly to the position assumed by the United States in its demand that Germany immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present practice of submarine warfare.

Any proposal of any kind will be rejected by the American government, it is said, unless it includes a declaration of intention to stop sinking peaceful ships. In this connection press dispatches to the effect that new orders to submarine commanders would be told of in the German note were read with interest in official circles, but comment was withheld pending the disclosure of the terms of the instructions.

Colonel House, who discussed the submarine issue with German officials while abroad for the President several months ago, arrived here this morning. His coming to Washington was considered significant as he has taken an active part in the German negotiations to date.

Plainly Nervous.

ly nervous today about the outcome, in spite of the reassuring advices they had received. They persisted in denying that Mr. Gerard had cabled a report in reference to his audience, preferring to avoid public discussion based upon a conversation and preferring to let the official German note speak for itself.

A DAMPER.

The dispatch from Berlin today that Berlin has made a proposal, the acceptance of which Mr. Wilson must pass upon, was somewhat of a damper upon official hopes. The understanding here is that this dispatch refers to the new instructions Germany has issued to submarine commanders and it is assumed that it is these instructions which constitute the base of proposals advanced.

If Germany should say, for example, she would observe international law provided England and her allies shall do so, the answer of the administration will be the recall of Mr. Gerard and the dismissal of Count von Bernstorff.

The United States holds there must be no condition attached to Germany's compliance, "Unless the imperial government should not immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels," said Secretary Lansing, "the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire altogether."

"EITHER OR."

It is pointed out that this demand is straightforward and Germany must meet it with a full compliance. Otherwise the President can only carry out the threat. Failure to do so would be a sign of vacillation and weakness which the administration is not prepared to show.

In German diplomatic circles the confident prediction is made that the Berlin reply will be one which will prove entirely satisfactory to the President. It is pointed out that under the American demand Germany can continue her submarine campaign against merchantmen; that all it is necessary for her to do is to reiterate the assurance that vessels will not be sunk without warning unless they resist or attempt to escape, and that provision will be made for the safety of the passengers and crew of ships destroyed.

The President and Mr. Lansing, however, want more than this. They demand visit and search in all cases and that the German government shall admit its responsibility for the lives of passengers and crew by seeing that such persons are put in a place of actual safety and not in small boats far from land.

Dangerous.

SO WE ARE ALL PICKLED IN BRINE.

DR. WOODWARD SAYS SALT IS OUR GREATEST ENEMY.

We Eat so Much of the Stuff, in His Opinion, that Our Health is Ruined by Hundreds of Ailments, and Even Cannibals Refuse to Dine on a White Man.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—Salt is the greatest enemy of mankind, according to Dr. Charles Woodward of the Illinois State Eclectic Medical Society, which is holding its forty-sixth annual convention in Chicago. Every modern human being is pickled in brine until his health is ruined and he is brought to an untimely grave. We eat so much salt that the cannibals, with a natural appetite, cannot eat us.

"The idea that we must fill every article of food with salt is a most dangerous fallacy," said Dr. Woodward. "Every man needs twenty grains of salt in a day—he gets about 400. This means that his tissues are invaded by a surplus of salt, which cannot be eliminated. The result is a hundred ailments. The excess salt and nothing else, for instance, causes old people to have such brittle bones, that when they stumble over something they break a limb.

"The human race has become the victim of salt. In a single bowl of restaurant soup the poor devil which has to eat it gets at least five times as much salt as he should have in a whole day. The uncivilized man will not touch our food—cannot eat our delicacies because they are too salty. The South Sea Islands cannibals never eat a white man, and the explanation given by them is that the white men are too salty."

Leap Year Remarks.

"No, I would not."

Then she tried another approach.

"Would you resist very much if a girl tried to kiss you?"

LAUNCH UNION FOR TEACHERS.

Chicago Agitators Carry Out Margaret Haley Idea.

School Trustees are Defied Since Court Decision.

Strike Tactics are Expected to be Introduced.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 3.—The American Federation of Teachers has been organized here. A charter from the American Federation of Labor is understood to be on its way to this city which for the present will be the headquarters of the new national organization.

Charter members of the Federation will be the Chicago Teachers' Federation, the Chicago Men Teachers' Federation, the Chicago Federation of Women High School Teachers and Federations or unions in New York, Washington, D. C., Scranton, Pa., Oklahoma City, Okla., Gary, Ind., and Waycross, Ga. Organization work is under way in a score of other cities.

Steps looking to the formation of the national organization were taken at the time of the passage of the Loeb rule by the Board of Education, were advanced rapidly with each victory won in court by the teachers and the organization was perfected on the day following the decision of the Appellate Court that the board was without power to rule that members of any lawful organization should not be employed as teachers.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Officers of the new federation are: President, Charles B. Stillman; vice-president, Mrs. Ida L. M. Fursman; corresponding secretary, Margaret Snodgrass; recording secretary, Miss Mary Dwyer; financial secretary, F. G. Stecker; treasurer, James A. Mead; trustees, Miss Margarert A. Haley, Mrs. Amelia M. Prendergast, Mrs. Ida Halpin, R. D. Chadwick of Gary and Miss Hedwig Hochbaum.

Miss Haley will be the organizer for the federation. All of the officers except one are residents of Chicago.

The objects, as set forth in article II of the constitution, are:

"To bring associations of teachers into relations of mutual assistance and co-operation; to obtain for them all the rights and benefits to which they are entitled; to raise the standard of the teaching profession by procuring the conditions essential to the best professional service, and to promote such a democratization of the schools as will enable them better to equip their pupils to take their place in the industrial, social and political life of the community."

FROM THE CONSTITUTION.

From the preamble to the constitution this paragraph is taken:

"We believe that servility breeds servility and that if the schols are to produce free, unafraid men and women, American citizens of the highest type, the teachers must live and work in an atmosphere of freedom and self-respect."

It is probable that the federation will hold a national convention in New York in July, during the meeting of the National Educational Association, an invitation for that purpose having been extended by the New York union.

Cow Enjoyed Diet of Nails.

[Chicago Herald:] A merchant sold a cow to a market man recently. The market man killed the cow for beef, and when he had cut up the body he found that there was nearly a quart of nails in the cow's stomach, ranging in size from the smallest to the 10-penny.

The cow had never shown any signs of indisposition and seemed to be in the thriftiest condition on this staple article of diet.

OLDEST OFFICER PASSES.

Sergt. McKeag, for More than Thirty Years Member of Police Force, Expires Suddenly at His Home on East Side. Funeral Today.

Sergt. W. H. McKeag, one of the oldest members of the police department, and father of C. E. McKeag, secretary of the Fire and Police Commission, and W. H. McKeag, Jr., deputy City Treasurer, died in his home, No. 2323 Pasadena avenue, suddenly yesterday morning. He had been ailing but a few hours and was reading a newspaper when he collapsed.

He was born in Goshen, N. J., August 12, 1845, and came to California in December, 1882. He was appointed a policeman December 30, 1885, and became sergeant April 9, 1895, in charge of the East Side division. His record in the department was without a blemish, and he stood unusually high in the regard of his superior officers. The members working with him had much the same regard for him as sons for a father.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from Odd Fellow's Hall, No. 2705 North Broadway. The services will be conducted by the G.A.R., with an honorary escort from the police department.

THEY PETITION FOR BIG TUNNEL.

The general demand of the downtokn merchants for a serviceable traffic outlet through Bunker Hill, previously evinced in a big petition to the City Council for the now abandoned open cut from First to Second street, is again being voiced, this time in a monster petition for the earliest possible action on the projected Second-street double-bore tunnel. The petition, although not yet complete, is even now quite the largest thing of the kind ever secured for any purpose in the downtown district.

The movement of the merchants was started in anticipation of the Council meeting on the tunned project scheduled for tomorrow. The petition itself was drawn up and has been circulated by J. H. Wood of Wood Bros., clothiers, and Fred E. Peterson, treasurer and manager of the Southern California Music Company. It calls attention to the urgent need of relieving the congestion on Sixth and Seventh street by providing other avenues into the downtown streets, and of going west and northwest Los Angeles direct access into the retail section.

MANY SIGN.

Mr. Wood stated last night that fully 200 merchants and tenants of property on Broadway and Spring alone had already put their names to the petition, and that every one approached had been eager to give his personal approval to the Second-street hill outlet. Some whom he and Mr. Peterson had been unable to find sought the circulators of the petitio nin order to record their sentiments. The list will be kept in circulation today to enable Hill and Main-street merchants and other on the different cross streets to sign.

"The agitation for the open cut served a great purpose," said Mr. Wood, "in waking people up to the truth of the traffic situation in Los Angeles. Even those who opposed the open cut method of meeting the difficulties are ow convinced of the absolute necessity of affording some relief to the present congested zone and of giving the oppulation of west and northwest Los Angeles and their great outlying territory decent and servicable traffic arteries into the central business area.

"So far as the downtown merchants are concerned, a direct outlet to the rapidly growing northwest has become vitally necessary. As the congestion of Sixth and Seventh street increase, it takes longer and longer for the shoppers living to the west of Bunker Hill to get to their accustomed stores. Once an outlet has been created through the hill itself, it will no longer be necessary for them to travel the present roundabout course around the base of the hill to Broadway and Spring. The one way to hold the business district where it is, and to stabilize both business activities and real estate values, is to make the established retail area directly and easily accessible from every part of the city."

YOUNG PEOPLE GIVE COMEDY.

The young people of the First Unitarian Church will present the comedy-farce, "The Jack Trust," tomorrow evening. There will also be a musical programme and the entertainment will be followed by dancing.

FLEET OFFICERS.

The Southern California Grocers' Association has elected the following officers: President, M. A. Odenthal; first vice-president, Charles Mottaz; second vice-president, J. R. Ellis; third vice-president, William West; treasurer, John H. Bell, and secretary, Neal P. Olfen. Mr. Odenthal will represent the association at the grocers convention in New Orleans the latter part of this month. The association now has a membership of over 1000.

Classified Liners.

AGATE TYPE ONLY.
Accepted subject to the following rates and rules:

Rates: The rate for inserting Want Ads in the Daily Times is 1c per word each insertion; in the Sunday issue, 1½c per word each insertion; minimum charge applicable to a single insertion and to each non-consecutive insertion, 25c; except under the following classifications, the rate for which is 2c per word daily, 2½c per word Sunday, minimum charge, applicable to a single insertion and to each non-consecutive insertion, 50c daily; 75c Sunday. "Society Meetings," "Personal," "Lost and Found," "Strayed," "Miscellaneous," "Stocks and Bonds," "Money to Loan," "Salary and Chattels," "Physicians," "Medical," "Dressmaking," "Sanatoriums" and "Baths and Massage."

An extra charge of 25 per cent is made for the use of capital letters.

Minimum space for classified advertisements ordered for more than one insertion, 14 words.

White space and display type charged for on the basis of seven words to a line.

Ads not set or counted strictly by the word. For paragraphed or lined-up matter set in caps, estimate 6½ (6) average words to a line. Not in Sunday issue, estimate five (5) average words to the first line, and eight (8) average words to each line following. In this kind of advertising the initial letter of words set solid is counted, and eight (8) words added for each unlined line.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Errors not the fault of the advertiser which clearly lessen the value of an advertisement, will be rectified only by republication, without extra charge, on presentation of receipt within five days after insertion. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the advertisement.

No adjustment will be made for advertising lessened or affected by an error or error which may occur in other items in the same advertisement.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for payment of "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept phone or verbal orders to discontinue or change "till forbid" advertisements.

Telephone orders to discontinue advertising in The Times are numbered in the order of their receipt, and in each instance the number of the order is given to the advertiser, who should make a record thereof. In case of dispute no charge for insertions will be rectified unless the "stop order" number is presented to The Times by the advertiser.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in the Times office before 6 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "To Lets," etc., received over counter up to Saturday noon at 1 p.m. Saturday Ads received after closing hours each division will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify." Rate 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 100,000 copies, which is considerably more than printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Bring or mail to The Times, Main 8600, any time of day or night, and secure a receipt and rental tariff.

FOR SALE—DAIRYMEN!

How will the new pasteurizing law effect you? Can you continue retailing milk at a profit when it goes into effect?

Satisfied customers are those who can raise your own feed, sell your cream to the creamery and feed the skim milk to your hogs. This solves you from big feed bills and puts your business on a profitable basis.

"CENTRAL COLONIES" FOR DAIRYMEN.

We want you at Chowchilla. We will make unusual terms to help you get started. If you own a bunch of cows and want to get into business for yourself, be your own land, we will make you an offer that is better than renting. New creamery to be started right away. Things are booming at Chowchilla and the "Central Colonies" dairy district offers an opportunity you cannot afford to miss. Call or write lodge for special terms to dairymen.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

To Have All-day Meeting.

The Loyal Woman's Sewing Society of Stanton Woman's Relief Corps will hold an all-day meeting, tomorrow, in the hall, at Figueroa and Eighteenth streets.

Arkansas Picnic.

If you ever lived in the Apple Blossom State you will be welcomed at the big Southern California picnic reunion at Sycamore Grove, Saturday.

Talks on Advertising.

Harold Janss, president of the Ad Club, addressed the advertising class of the Los Angeles High School yesterday morning. He spoke upon the general topic of "Advertising."

Welsh to Gather.

The Welsh Ladies' Aid Society will give a luncheon at noon today at the home of D. G. Johns, No. 4044 Harvard boulevard. The society will also hold a reception in the evening at the same place for the young people.

Special Order.

The Federated Improvement Association, at the meeting Friday evening, in Burbank Hall, No. 542 South Main street, will take up as a special order of business the motion made at the last meeting, to declare the office of vice-president vacant.

For Poultrymen.

State Marketing Commissioner Weinstock will speak on "The Direct Marketing of Poultry Products" at a meeting of the Poultrymen's Co-operative Association at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the lecture-room of the Chamber of Commerce.

Celtic Club Meeting.

The Celtic Club will meet at 8:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening at the Sierra Madre Club, when Tyrone Power will be the guest of honor. Prof. Jaroslaw de Zielinski will give an address on "Music of the Ancient Greeks," and a notable song programme has been arranged.

On Home Economics.

Miss Eva Cole of the Lincoln High School will speak on "Home Economics" at a meeting of the Seventh-avenue Parent-Teacher Association, Tuesday afternoon, in the auditorium of the Seventh-avenue school. Officers will also be elected by the association for the new year.

Michigan Society Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Michigan State Society in The Times assembly-rooms tonight, will be enlivened by two specialties, in addition to an old-fashioned spelling bee. The extra numbers will be piano playing by Miss Wanetta Chilcott, a musician of ability, and clog dancing by Wilfred Beebe, said to be one of the best amateurs in the city.

Motor Rural Carrier.

The United States Civil Service Commission will hold an examination in Los Angeles on May 27 for candidates for the position of motor rural mail carrier at San Fernando and to fill other similar positions that may later occur on motor rural routes in Los Angeles county. The salary on motor routes ranges from $1500 to $1800 per annum. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory. Applications should be forwarded to the commission at Washington, D. C.

State Positions Open.

Examinations for the position of oil well driller in the department of petroleum and gas of the State Mining Bureau will be conducted in San Francisco, Sacramento, Bakersfield and this city on the 20th inst. Candidates must have had at least five years' experience in drilling oil wells in California. An examination for the positions of inspectors in the same department will be conducted on the same date. The examination will consist of tests of training, experience in field work, ability to write reports and familiarity with the State law for protection of oil fields.

Woman is Missing.

The police have been asked to assist in the search for Mrs. Minnie Snediger, aged 55 years, of No. 1058 West Fifty-second street, who has been missing from her home since Saturday evening. Mrs. Snediger has been exceedingly nervous and in poor health for several months. She wore when she left home a black turban hat with white wings, a pink dress, and over that a three-quarter length brown coat. She has gray hair, brown eyes, and weighs 105 pounds. Any information that may lead to the location of Mrs. Snediger may be telephoned to the police or to Mrs. Snediger's daughter, Mrs. Harry F. Boatmap, Home telephone No. 269211.

First Fresh Figs.

The first fresh figs of the current season arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, consigned to Rivers Brothers Company. Although there was only six pounds represented in the shipment they brought a mighty fancy prices, as the Hotel Alexandria paid $1 a pound for them. These figs were grown on the ranch of A. L. Wood near Indio in the Coachella Valley and were of an unusually fine quality for so early a date. Mr. Wood has had the distinction of sending the first fresh figs to this city for the last two years and he goes to considerable expense to protect the maturing fruit so as to be able to produce perfect specimens by the first week in May every year.

On Industrial Preparedness.

Certain features of the industrial preparedness programme of the naval consulting board will be disclosed at the Los Angeles section meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, at the Hayward Cafe at noon today, according to announcements sent out yesterday by Secretary Ford W. Harris.

To Strawberry Day Fete.

Members of the Los Angeles Realty Board have been invited by the Gardena Valley Strawberry Day Association to assist in the celebration of "Strawberry Day," on Saturday at Gardena, the center of the berry district of California. A number, it is declared, will join in the celebration.

Dinner Meeting.

An informal dinner meeting will be held at Christopher's, No. 741 South Broadway, by the Purchasing Agents Association tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. An illustrated lecture on bond paper making will be given by Victor Hecht. It will be the last meeting of the association open to nonmembers.

State of Maine Picnic.

The Pine Tree State Association of Los Angeles will hold its annual reunion and basket picnic at Sycamore Park, Saturday, May 27. A great feature of the occasion will be the assembling of alumni of the colleges and Normal schools of Maine, who are requested to send names and addresses to the secretary, Miss Josephine M. Scott, No. 215 West Sixteenth street.

After More Members.

The Los Angeles division of the International Sales Managers Association has started out to increase its membership. A large number of members have volunteered to give a half day of their time to the campaign, which President C. S. Hutson is directing, and Friday morning they will begin the work of doubling the division's enrollment. All principal business houses of the city have been asked to suggest names of men who would be eligible to the association.

MARSHAL NOW A LAWYER.

At the session of the United States District Court in Fresno, Judge Trippet presiding, United States Marshal Walton was admitted to the practice of the law, on motion. Fresno is the old home town of the official.

Resinol Stops Itching at Once

It is a positive fact that the moment resinol ointment touches any itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins. Unless the trouble is due to some serious internal condition, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, or similar tormenting, unsightly eruption, leaving skin clear and healthy.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use resinol soap and resinol ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for over twenty years has been used by careful physicians in treating skin affections. They prescribe resinol freely, knowing that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin—even of a tiny baby. Every druggist sells resinol soap and resinol ointment. Samples free, Dept. 3-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look Young; Gray Hair Changed to an Even Dark Shade by Q-Ban—No Dye.

Do this. Apply like a shampoo Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer to hair and scalp, and dry hair in sunlight. A few applications like this turn all your gray, faded, dry or gray-streaked hair to an even, beautiful dark shade. Q-Ban also makes scalp and entire head of hair healthy, so hair is left soft, fluffy, lustrous, wavy, thick, charming and fascinating, without even a trace of gray hair showing, making you look young again. Insist on having Q-Ban, as it is harmless—no dye—but guaranteed to darken gray hair or money returned. Ask for Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle at McKay & Monkman Drug Stores, Los Angeles, Cal. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail.—[Advertisement.

BLACKHEADS AND RED PIMPLES

All Over Face. Itched Very Badly Until Could Not Sleep. In About Two Months

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble began by blackheads and little red pimples which came under the skin and then they came on the top and were in spots all over my face. They itched very badly until I could not sleep and when I scratched them they would bleed.

"I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I tried them. I would cleanse my face with hot water and Cuticura Soap and apply the Ointment, then wash it off with Cuticura Soap and hot water. In about two months my face was healed." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Hyler, 358 W. North Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, July 21, 1915.

ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction, others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. S. Schaltze expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners, when he says that anti-kamnia tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headaches, neuralgias and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

RUPTURE

Dr. Joseph Fandrey, European specialist, cures all curable rupture, permanently, no matter how long standing nor the age, without operation or injection nor detention from business. A Felony.

MUTILATION AND THEFT OF RECORDS CHARGED.

Sprinkling Contract Bursts Bombshell Under the City Council.

Intimated that Sensational Sequel to Motor Truck Deal may Result in Attempt to Remove One or More Councilmen and Prosecute Them for Malfeasance in Office. Perjury is Direct Allegation of Burks.

CHARGES of mutilation and theft of public records, the striking intimation that the sprinkling contract investigation may result in an attempt to remove one or more members of the City Council and possible prosecutions for malfeasance in office, together with direct charges of perjury, marked last night's session of the investigation of the efficiency department before the City Council.

The first bomb exploded when Attorney Director Burks presented a letter quoting from the testimony of Councilman Topham and Watt L. Boland of the Moreland Truck Company, given at the first hearing in the sprinkler investigation. Mr. Burks asked Mr. Topham to state whether or not he was correctly quoted. Mr. Topham refused, "I'll be damned if I will stand for this inquisition," roared Mr. Topham.

"Yes, you will be damned, and you will be damned good and plenty before we get through with this affair," shouted Mr. Burks.

RECORDS MUTILATED?

A moment later, Mr. Burks picked up the official Council records of the sprinkler contract and after examining them declared that between the hour of noon yesterday and 8 p.m. certain records had been mutilated and stolen. This is a felony.

The climax came, though, when, after Mr. Topham apologized to the Council and to Mr. Burks for the unparliamentary word, Mr. Burks answered:

"My reply to you, Mr. Topham, will be to read this section from the city charter."

He then read the section with reference to forbidding any city official having any financial or pecuniary interest in any contract or sale of goods to the city or from voting on any matter in which he is financially interested. Mr. Burks laid special emphasis on the final clause which says that any city official violating that section of the charter shall forfeit his office and be prosecuted for misdemeanor.

"Now, believe me, Mr. Topham, this is serious business," said Mr. Burks, "and I want to impress upon your mind that we have not made any statement here that we are not prepared to go through with, and we will be prepared to go through with this special matter at a later date."

BURKS GIVES NAMES.

In charging that the sprinkling contract deal has been "crooked all through," Mr. Burks qualified his statement by saying that he believes that Councilmen Wheeler, Betkouski, Roberts, Langdon and Conwell and Councilwoman Lindsey had no ulterior motives in any action they may have taken in the matter. As he called the roll of the Council, he omitted the names of Chairman Topham of the Public Works Committee and Councilmen Brain and Wright. Councilman Betkouski was inadvertently overlooked in the first round, and Mr. Burks apologized, asserting that he stood pat on the list as corrected, with the three names omitted.

Regarding the answer to Mr. Topham's apology, which in effect threatened removal from office, Mr. Burks said:

"I meant just what I said, and I want to emphasize that I'm not starting things I don't intend to finish or cannot substantiate. This particular matter will all come out later and in due time."

"CROOKED DEAL."

There were minor sensations all through the evening when Mr. Burks charged that Mr. Topham was "at the bottom of a crooked deal," etc., but these were lost in the bigger affairs of the evening and for a time of three hours while everyone in the Council chamber was" wondering "what next?" the answers were coming at a rate that taxed the stenographers to their utmost.

The sensational developments began when Mr. Burks pointed to a wall chart that referred to the motor specifications which were recommended by the Public Works Committee of the Council and later changed for the final specifications. This chart read:

MORELAND-TOPHAM SPECIFICATIONS.

(2.) Written in Mr. Topham's office.

(3.) Recommended to the Council by the committee to replace specifications B.

Mr. Topham: I asked Mr. Moreland to present me with a set of specifications that would permit open bidding.

Pointing to the chart, Mr. Burks asked Mr. Topham if it was a correct repetition of the testimony given at the former hearing.

Mr. Topham refused to answer and President Betkouski supported him in his refusal and ordered Mr. Burks to proceed with his case, remarking that Mr. Topham was not a witness, nor under investigation, but simply sitting as a judge in the investigation.

"Mr. Topham isn't sitting as a judge, and you know it, Mr. Betkouski," shouted Mr. Burks. "He is sitting here as a man who has absolutely made up his mind beforehand, and so have you, and you have both said so publicly."

PAGES TORN OUT.

At this point a private transcript of the record of the previous investigation was produced and the chart was verified. Then Contractor Brain was called. He testified that a certain page in the official records of the Council was written by Mr. Bradish, salesman for the Moreland Truck Company, and Mr. Bradish testified reluctantly that he had writ-

YEAR'S RECORD IN CLEARINGS.

Total Bank Turnover for Day More than Six and a Half Million Dollars.

Los Angeles bank clearings were the greatest yesterday for any single day since the first of the year. A total of $6,598,270.82 passed through the various institutions that make up the local clearing-house association, which was exactly $2,783,704.84 more than the clearings for the same day last year, and $2,424,257.89 more than for the same day in 1914. At the rate bank clearings are increasing as compared to last year and the year before that, there seems to be no doubt that a new record will be established when the current year comes to a close on December 31, unless the country should be plunged into foreign or domestic difficulties of magnitude. Bankers are enthusiastic over the excellent condition of business of Los Angeles and point to the clearings as proof of the fact that prosperity is not only with us, but that it is growing greater every day.

Massachusetts Court Approves Pioneer's Bequests.

Leaves Valuable Properties in this City.

Los Angeles heirs to the $1,500,000 estate of John Anson Bullard, who died January 15, this year, in Holliston, Mass., were notified yesterday the will of Mr. Bullard had been upheld by Judge George F. Lawton in the Probate Court at East Cambridge, following a preliminary contest.

Mr. Bullard, who was a former resident of Los Angeles, was the owner of the Bullard block and other valuable property in this city. He left here for the East in 1901, and resided for many years at Holliston.

The will was dated July 9, 1909, and the executors are Edward H. Ellis of Marlboro, Mass., Raleigh B. Adams of Newton, Mass., and James H. Flint of Weymouth, Mass.

The contestants were Mrs. William H. Howard of Manchester-by-the-Sea, a niece, and Mrs. Francis Tillinghast, a grandniece, of St. Petersburg, Fla. Neither contestant was present in court at the hearing, but were represented by attorney.

Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Tillinghast received small bequests, which will amount to about $2000. Following the testimony of two witnesses to the will, no evidence was offered by the contestants and Judge Lawton allowed the will, giving the contestants the right to take their case to the Supreme Court, where it will be tried before a jury.

Abram T. Collier, vice-president of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston, one of the witnesses to the will, testified that he knew Mr. Bullard for thirty-five years, and described him as an exceptionally keen business man. He stated also that in his opinion Mr. Bullard, who was 94 years old when he died, was of sound mind when the will was signed nearly seven years ago.

Henry C. Thompson, an attorney, who also witnessed the will, told, on cross-examination, of how Mr. Bullard had occupied a small room in an office building in Boston and said, that Mr. Bullard frequently slept there. He described his life as that of a recluse.

Dr. J. H. Bullard of North Kensington road is a nephew of the late millionaire. Mrs. Emily S. Perkins of No. 234 West Adams street, is also a near relative.

MILITARY LUNCHEON.

Third Affair for Purpose of Arousing Greater Interest in Monterey Citizens' Encampment will Occur at Noon Today at Broadway Store.

The third military luncheon for the purpose of arousing interest in the Monterey Citizens' Encampment will be held today at the Broadway Department Store, at 12:15 o'clock sharp.

Col. William R. Livermore will speak on "Modern Warfare." George S. Patton will be chairman of the day, and President Arthur Twining Hadley of Yale is expected to speak.

The topic is an intensely interesting one, and the public is invited and urged by the Civil Enrollment Committee to attend.

FOR EDIBLE EVIDENCE.

Mrs. M. E. Hummer, who complained to the Council recently that when the police arrested a man for stealing her chickens and kept the chickens for evidence—and then ate the evidence, will receive an order on the treasury of Los Angeles for $7, the estimated value of the fowls. The original intention of the Council was to require the police department to pay the bill from the kitchen account, but it was decided yesterday that a special appropriation would be better.

State Board Acts.

TEACHER ARRESTED AND PASADENA HOME CLOSED.

FOLLOWING the arrest yesterday of Harry Thaw, a teacher in the Gibson Home and School, No. 810 Elizabeth street, Pasadena, on a charge of abusing a minor child, the State Board of Charities and Corrections ordered the school closed. This action came as the climax of a year's fight against the home on the part of a number of citizens living near it.

The arrest of Thaw was made by C. H. Kelly, a Pasadena Humane Society agent, and while W. M. Gibson, the founder of the home, was testifying in Los Angeles in an effort to prevent the closing of his school.

The Gibson Home was established a year and a half ago following three previous efforts to secure a permanent location by Mr. Gibson. It had sixty-eight inmates, of whom twenty-six were children. The plan of the founder was to establish a home where the down and out and the children of poor persons could find a haven.

Since the opening of the place numerous complaints have been made to the Pasadena authorities, charitable associations and the Humane Society to have some action taken to force the management to choose between a home for children or a home for adults. There is a law that has for its purpose this object and strictly forbids the housing of adults of questionable character and minor children. The neighbors near the home also insisted on the segregation of sexes in the institution.

Gibson was cited to appear before the Los Angeles branch of the State Board of Charities and Corrections on the 1st inst. and after a two-day hearing, in which numerous witnesses for both sides were heard, Margaret F. Sirch, representing the board, was authorized to close the home.

The arrest of Thaw came after, it is charged, he severely beat 13-year-old Leroy Creek, using a belt strap and a steel buckle. The boy was cut on the face, the officers say, and was rescued by workmen on a nearby house who caused the arrest. According to these men the boy had been in a fight with another child in the home.

A permit for the home was never granted, but was still pending when charges were preferred against the home. Mrs. Sirch, who made several inspections of the home, refused to authorize the permit until the sexes were segregated and either the adults or the children were excluded.

CLUB BUYER ARRESTED.

Man Recently Appointed Purchasing Agent for Los Angeles Athletic Club is in Difficulty Over Deal with Billard Table Manufacturers.

J. W. Cadien, recently appointed buyer of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Fox and Nolan on a warrant from Santa Barbara. This was issued by Justice W. H. Wheaton on January 31, this year.

Mr. Cadien was not located until yesterday, and when brought to the County Jail refused to disclose the reason for his arrest. It is the outcome of a deal in which he was involved with the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, manufacturers of billiard tables and bar fixtures.

Two Tractors.

ENDANGERED BY ENGINE FAULTS.

Senior Army Aviators Arrive After Difficult Trip.

Tragedy Narrowly Averted at Dominguez Field.

May Drop Monkey Wrenches on Sr. Villa's Head.

Remarkable presence of mind averted a tragedy yesterday morning near the Domingues Aviation Field when Lieut. John F. Curry, Fifth Infantry, U.S.A., student aviator at the San Diego army flying school, was forced to land in a near-by marsh because of engine trouble encountered just as he was preparing to descend on the aviation field.

With the engine firing intermittently, and unable to make headway against a cross-current of air which swept the field, Lieut. Curry's machine plunged directly at a telephone pole. Almost at the instant of collision the aviator tilted his plane at a perilous angle, leaned far back in his seat and sailed over the wires with less than six inches clearance. Employees of the Martin factory who were at the field ran to his assistance in the marsh where he had landed and found that he had descended safely.

It was stated later by a witness of the feat that the lieutenant seemed to lift the machine over the wires bodily. A considerable work on the engine, which again went dead just as he was leaving the ground, the machine was launched and taken to the aviation field without further trouble.

The flight was made as one of the final tests prior to graduating from the school of instruction. Lieut. Curry used military tractor No. 54 and left San Diego shortly after 9 o'clock a.m. About half an hour after he left the field at the North Island school, Lieut. Roy S. Brown, First Cavalry, U.S.A., another member of the graduating class, left in military tractor No. 51 and headed for Nigger Slough. He also experienced engine trouble and last night stated that two cylinders went dead shortly after he left. The remainder of the flight was made under similar conditions, with the engine working intermittently on all cylinders and then on four or five. Because of lack of power he was unable to rise to any considerable height and the greatest altitude he reached was about 4500 feet.

Lieut. George E. A. Reinburg, Seventh Cavalry, U.S.A., followed the aviators in a fast automobile and arrived here about two hours later. Considerable apprehension was felt shortly after the fliers left San Diego, as an unfavorable report was received from the Weather Bureau a few moments after they left the ground. At La Jolla there was a fog bank and adverse air currents, but the men passed through without difficulty.

The aviators came to the Clark shortly after reaching the Martin field and plan to remain until tomorrow night. The machines were flown back to San Diego yesterday by Lieut. Ralph Royce of the Twenty-sixth Infantry, another student aviator, and Sergt. William Ocker.

Lieuts. Curry and Brown expect to be sent to the Mexican border within a few weeks to fly with the First Aero Squadron there. In that event it is probable that at least three of the six high-explosive aerial bombs recently secured by the government will accompany them. The officers would not discuss that phase of the matter, but remarked that a money wrench dropped from a height of about 7000 feet would have equally desirable results if aimed correctly.

Remarkable.

BIG FALL; LITTLE HURT.

Two-year-old Girl Slides Down Banister, Plunges Through Areaway Three Flights to Hard Floor but Escapes Almost Unhurt.

Miss Ida Ogran, 2 years old, was sliding down banisters in an apartment-house at No. 524 East Thirty-sixth street yesterday. She was on the fourth floor, and she slid to the first landing at such a speedy clip she lost control. At the post she lost her balance, and instead of tumbling to the stairs as she had done before, she pitched down the areaway, three flights to a hard floor below.

Her mother heard the scream and the thud. She rushed downstairs and picked up her baby. She told others who came to soothe her in her hysteria that her baby was dead. The baby didn't breathe, and there seemed to be no pulse.

Some one called the Receiving Hospital ambulance, and the baby was taken to the police surgeons. When she was put on the operating table to have the extent of her injuries ascertained, she suddenly sat up, her lips quivered when she saw the strange men in white uniforms, and then she said, "Mamma, mamma."

The mother came to her side. "I hurt myself, mamma," the little girl cried.

"Where?" the surgeons asked.

"Everywhere," said Ida. And it must have been everywhere for the surgeons could not find a broken bone, a torn muscle or even flesh particularly bruised.

Albert R. Williams, a social worker and war correspondent who arrived here yesterday, will give an address on his European experiences at Polytechnic High School Sunday night. It will be illustrated by original pictures. No charge will be made and the public is invited.

Good News.

GASOLINE TO GO DOWN.

State Oil Supervisor Says Price will be Lowered by Large Increase in Production and Predicts Much New Well Drilling This Year.

Declaring that California is entering upon an era of unusual activity in oil production, R. P. McLaughlin, State oil and gas supervisor, arrived here yesterday. Mr. McLaughlin is on one of his many trips of inspection.

"There will be more oil produced this year than last," said Mr. McLaughlin yesterday, "and a difficulty will arise, because the price of oil is increasing and many people will start drilling wells and produce too much oil, flooding the market in this way and again lowering the price of the product.

"The increase in the selling price of oil and its by-products in the last few months is partly due to the increase in the cost of drilling material. Oil casing has advanced from 35 to 40 per cent. this year over the selling price last year. Mining material is three-fourths of the cost of production, and this increase has affected the rise in prices."

BUNGALOW REVELS.

Prominent Men Said to be Involved in Case of Pair Arrested on a Charge of Contributing to Delinquency of Young Girls.

Mrs. Edytha Osborn, a very pretty brunette, occasionally engaged in the moving-picture drama, was arrested yesterday morning at her apartment, No. 1201 West Ninth street, by Deputy Sheriff Mrs. Yaw. Harry Patterson of El Monte was taken into custody at the same place, and both were placed in the County Jail on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Juvenile court wards.

Deputy District Attorney McCartney issued the warrant against the couple, and alleges that they have co-operated in luring women to the dance hall operated by Patterson at El Monte. He is only 21 years of age, while Mrs. Osborn is 23. After meeting men at the dance hall, several girls, who are at present wards of the court, are alleged to have accompanied them to a near-by bungalow.

A number of prominent Los Angeles men are said to have taken part in the revels on some of these occasions, and may be drawn into the case when it is set for trial. Neither Mrs. Osborn nor Patterson would affirm or deny the charges against them. The former was in a state of near collapse.

TWO KILLED AS MOTOR UPSETS.

Lasky Film Men Victims of a Tragic Accident.

Auto Throws Tire and Strikes Telegraph Pole.

Third Occupant Escapes Death by Almost Miracle.

Two men were killed and another seriously injured last night when the six-cylinder roadster in which they were speeding south on La Brea boulevard near Santa Monica boulevard threw tire and rim from the left front wheel, the heavy roadster ricocheting from a telegraph pole into a ploughed field, turning over several times before coming to rest. All three men riding in the car were connected with the Jesse L. Lasky moving-picture company in Hollywood, and were apparently just starting out for a ride to the beach from the Hollywood Hotel, where they lived, when the tragedy occurred.

The dead are C. H. Stagg, 40 years old, scenario writer of New York City, and M. Strong, 35 years of San Francisco. J. T. Platt, 40 years old, another scenario writer, was hurled clear of the wreck, the fall breaking his arm and injuring his back. He was hurriedly taken to the Sisters' Hospital, but because of the shock could give no coherent story of the accident.

Mr. Strong was killed instantly. Mr. Stagg lived fifteen minutes after Motorcycle Officer Roeder of Hollywood Station had pulled him from beneath the overturned machine. Both had crushed skulls.

It appeared from what could be gleaned from the incoherent explanation given last night by Mr. Platt the three had eaten supper together in the Hollywood Hotel. Mr. Stagg had been a guest of the hotel a month. Mr. Platt had but recently arrived from the East. Following supper the three took the roadster and started for a ride. It is presumed they were on their way to the beach by way of Wilshire boulevard.

The clear night and the apparently deserted La Brea boulevard lured the driver into a lively pace. Then suddenly something went wrong. This something was later dis-

Power.

COMPROMISE IS CONWELL PLEA

Wants City to Make Two-year Pact with Companies.

Betkouski Objects, but Vote is for Consideration.

Chamber of Commerce Proffer is Tossed into Discard.

Councilman Conwell stuck his foot in the door, yesterday, when the City Council, under the lead of President Betkouski and Special Counsel Mathews of the Board of Public Service Commissioners, started to slam it shut in the face of the burdened taxpayers on the power proposition.

As a result there was still a glimmer of hope left last night that the city may arrive at an understanding with the power companies on a leasing proposition, particularly as President Mitchell of the Chamber of Commerce and other representatives of the big business organization have been asked to meet with the City Council this morning, when it will consider, as a committee of the whole, a special power report made yesterday. Officials of the power companies declined to discuss the Conwell proposition last night.

The offer of the power companies to buy the output of the municipal electric plants for a period of five years, and then to sell their distributing systems to the city at the end of that time, is a dead issue. This was made certain yesterday by unanimous negative note of the City Council. But this "turn down" was merely the preface to a counter-proposition by Councilman Conwell to lease the private power lines for two years and then buy them at their appraised value.

The first action was taken by the Council as a committee of the whole, called to consider formally the offer of the power companies submitted by the Chamber of Commerce, together with the report of the Board of Public Service Commissioners on the offer. The Council's refusal to entertain the proposition submitted by the Chamber of Commerce was based on the statement that the city charter provides that only by a two-thirds vote of the people can the city enter into any contract for the sale of power from the municipal plants, where the power is to be resold within the city.

CONWELL INTERVENES.

Councilman Conwell called the attention of the members to the changes in the Public Service Commissioners' report wherein the word "immediate" with reference to the sale of the distributing lines was changed to "as soon as practical" and to the clause stating that the board "is willing to enter into negotiations forthwith" which may bring about an agreement of advantage to the city. He then stated that at a recent club meeting which he attended the power situation was discussed and he wished to present some ideas that had been brought out there. Mr. Conwell's request that he be allowed to read his proposition as a suggestion for a counter-offer to the power companies was objected to by President Betkouski.

"We cannot do a thing except to turn down this offer of the companies," Mr. Betkouski said. "There is nothing to do but to refuse to sell the power to the companies and we cannot do anything more until the Edison condemnation case is settled. The companies closed the door to all negotiations and we are going right ahead with the paralleling and we've got 1500 poles up already and there's more going up every day."

Again Mr. Conwell suggested that it might be well to permit him to offer for consideration of the Council a proposition which might mean an immense saving to the city and would be fair and just to the power companies, and again Mr. Betkouski objected. Finally, on motion of Councilman Langdon, Mr. Conwell was asked to present his proposition and with the other eight members of the Council pushing, Mr. Betkouski was "steam-rolled" into permitting Mr. Conwell to read his proposition.

On the subject of the Council's agreement to grant the Chamber of Commerce a further hearing, it was decided to invite President Mitchell and others to be present this morning when the Council receives the report of the committee of the whole.

Mr. Conwell's proposition was received with apparent favor by every member of the Council, with the exception of President Betkouski, and the only objection from the Public Service Commission came from Special Counsel Mathews, who wanted no mention of the possibility of submitting any difference between the power companies and the city to arbitration.

The formal action of the committee of the whole was to recommend that Mr. Conwell's proposition for acquiring the distributing systems be referred to the Public Service Committee of the Council and to the Board of Public Service Commissioners for immediate investigation and report.

THE PROPOSITION.

Mr. Conwell outlined his definite proposition, in part, as follows:

The city offer to purchase the municipal distributing systems from any one or all of the three power companies at a price to be arrived at between the city and the power companies either (a) by a finding of the State Railroad Commission, or (b) by a finding of competent appraisers selected by both parties to the agreement, it being clearly understood, however, that the value so determined shall be based only on the present value of the physical properties of the companies, with no addition thereto for either severance or going concern.

That such appraisal shall be binding on both parties, and that upon the finding of the value of the distributing systems, they (the distributing system) shall be at once delivered on lease to the city, and thereafter shall remain in the possession of the city; the city agreeing to make all needed extensions and to bear the expense of all necessary upkeep and maintenance.

The companies agreeing on or before two years from the date when the property shall be delivered to the city to convey to the city a clear title to such properties.

The city agree to pay the companies as rental under the lease for the first year of such period 7 per cent. interest upon the appraised value, and for the second eyar of such period 6 per cent. interest upon the appraised value, but all payments of interest to cease at the end of the second year.

The city agree to pay to the companies the appraised price of their distributing systems when the clear title to the properties is conveyed to the city.

The city at the option of the companies will agree to pay to the companies the sum of two or more millions of dollars upon the said purchase price at the date when the properties are delivered to the city under the lease, with the provision, however, that the companies execute to the city a bond with approved security for the return of said two or more million dollars so paid in event that they shall fail to convey to the city a clear title to said properties within two years, as agreed.

CALLS NEW CHARTER AN "ABOMINATION."

W. C. MUSHET URGES DEFEAT OF FREEHOLDERS' WORK.

Tells Woman's Club Members Civil Service Provisions Would Create an Autocrat, Who Would Have Absolute Power Over City Employees.

Asserting that the proposed city charter is an instrument of inefficiency and illogical conclusions, W. C. Mushet, who was a member of the board of freeholders, addressed the members of the Wednesday Morning Club at the clubhouse, No. 220 East Avenue 28, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mushet assisted in drawing up certain passages in the "book of ordinances," and later refused to sign it because of the civil service provisions in the instrument, which give that body almost unlimited power.

"If you want to place the power of life and death in the hands of a single individual; if you wish to create an absolute monarchy, vote for the new charter," said Mr. Mushet.

"The Civil Service Commission, which will be established if this charter is adopted," he continued, "will not be in the form of a commission, but will be under the power of one man. That person will have the right to go into any department of the city government and discharge any employee, or all employees, whether they are giving satisfaction to the department head or not. Under the present charter, an employee is discharged by the head of the department in which he works.

"Another objectionable feature is that a man who enters the service of the city cannot express himself politically. His mouth is sealed. Under the new charter, the Council will not have a word to say, and that body is composed of the true representatives of the people.

"There is no need to vote for this charter now, because the things in it that are good will be placed before the people next fall, providing the abomination is defeated, as it should be."

About 250 of the club members were present.

WIFE'S SACRIFICE.

Offers Own Property to Help Pay Debts of Husband, a Nordhoff Rancher, who is Adjudged Insolvent—Court Names Receiver for Ranch.

A. W. Taylor, who conducts a ranch and lemon orchard at Nordhoff, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday. He gives his debts as $28,-753.02, and of this amount $22,970 is secured. His assets are scheduled as $75,881.75, of which $35,000 is the alleged value of 147.99 acres of land, owned by the wife of the petitioner, Mary Elizabeth Taylor, which she is willing to surrender for the benefit of his creditors. The value of the exempt property is $13,-350.

The petitioner made an affidavit that, on account of ill-health, he was compelled to give up the management and control of the place, and that a crop of lemons is coming on which needs immediate and constant attention. His request for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the property was granted by Judge Bledsoe, who named J. J. Burke, who qualified in the sum of $5000. The schedule of personal property made by Taylor indicates that he has one of the most complete ranches, lemon orchards and apiary establishments in Southern California.

Court of Appeals Disposes of Twelve Cases in Two Hours Via Brief Route—County Salary Cases Again made Their Appearance.

The District Court of Appeal disposed of yesterday's calendar in less than two hours, briefs being filed in each of the twelve cases submitted.

Among others taken under submission were the actions brought by Chairman Pridham and other members of the Board of Supervisors present, and former County Auditor Lewis, and of Sheriff Cline, involving the question of the payment of official salaries under the county ordinance and the charter. Both actions were in the form of writs of mandamus. Sheriff Cline won in the lower court, while the petition of the Supervisors was denied, and an appeal taken to the State Supreme Court. That body later transferred the case to the District Court of Appeal.

The claims of members and ex-members of the Board of Supervisors follow: R. W. Pridham, $2994.34; R. H. Norton and W. E. Hinshaw, the same; C. D. Manning, $2990.34; S. A. Butler, $1577.72, and W. E. Woodley, $1416.61.

Sheriff Cline secured $4541.60 fudgment for the first eleven months of 1915. This was allowed by the Superior Court on the basis of $5000 annual salary under the county ordinance, and $4000 under the charter.

Ready for the Strawberry Day festival,

To be held at Gardena Saturday. Left to right, the girls are Misses Edna Kennedy, Mildred Watkins and Miss Marie Jamison, the latter a candidate for queen.

Next Saturday.

FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR STRAWBERRY DAY.

FINAL preparations are now being made for the celebration of Strawberry Day at Gardena next Saturday, under the direction of W. S. Rosecrans, who heads the Strawberry Day Committee. The festivities will start Saturday morning and continue throughout the evening. The principal events on the programme will be an automobile road race, a floral parade and an afternoon of dancing and Japanese sports, with a grand strawberry ball in the open-air pavilion in the evening.

Attendance records at previous Gardena festivities are expected to be shattered Saturday. A beautiful floral pageant in the morning will start the celebration, and throughout the day free strawberries, the large, luscious, juicy kind, will be served free to the visitors. Gardena girls are busy picking the berries from the extensive fields adjacent to the city.

The queen of the day is to be chosen by popular ballot, from among the numerous fair maidens of Gardena, and the towns nearby. A bevy of pretty girls are trying for the honor.

The course of the road race is a little more than two miles, and the contest will be for light cars. Speed and class are promised in this event, as the entry list contains the names of some of the best drivers in California.

The Japanese, who are extensive strawberry farmers, are planning an unusually interesting programme, made up of jiu-jitsu, fencing with Nipponese swords, and a "strawberry dance," to be done by the Japanese maidens of the colony.

Monster strawberries and pennants will be used to decorate the principal streets.

BEANS SOARING; SHORTAGE NEAR.

PRICES GO UP FIFTY CENTS IN THREE DAYS.

Sudden Demand for Legumes in Eastern Markets and Lifting of Freight Embargo Send Quotations up in the Air—State now has but Sixty-day Supply.

A sudden demand for beans from numerous eastern points has caused a sharp advance in the price of the more important varieties of dry beans, namely pinks and large and small whites. The California dry bean market has been very dead the last three months and the upturn in the market this week is liable to be followed by as sensational an advance in values as the one which featured the bean market last November and December. Pinks that were selling three days ago for $4.50 a hundred at the shipping point are now commanding a price of $5.15. Small whites and large whites have been marked up 50 cents a hundred in the last two days.

The available supply of small whites is not large enough to carry over to the new season, and there are not enough large white beans in California to last sixty days. One large dealer in Los Angeles, who has practically all the large whites in the State, has withdrawn from market for the time being.

The main reason for the sudden advance in values is attributed to the fact that the railroads have lifted the embargo on freight cars used for the purpose of shipping the California commodity to eastern markets. As a result California beans are again moving out rapidly with a consequent depletion of the supply here. All over the United States stocks are short and it looks as if generally higher prices will prevail during the next thirty days.

Among the other varieties, limas are moving slowly and black eyes are bringing lower prices due to the small demand for the same. Black eyes were raised freely in Texas, Louisiana and the Carolinas last season and this caused a slack demand for the California product. If reports are true that Texas and Louisiana are going to plant a tremendous area to black eyes this season, it might be a good thing for the California grower to investigate these rumors before planting very heavily to this variety. Practically the only sustained demand for black eyes comes from the negro classes of the South.

It is reported that the San Francisco bean dealers, who have been carrying large stocks of pink beans, have formerd a combination to advance prices. If this is so prices for this variety are liable to become as high as $5.50 shipping point before the new crop comes on the market.

In the opinion of F. E. Harris, local broker and authority on beans, the market in Los Angeles will rule high until the new crop comes on the market. In an interview yesterday Mr. Harris said: "I look for another very prosperous year for the California bean grower. Last season the bean growers of this State made millions of dollars profit on their crop due to the fact that Michigan had a small crop of whites and the heavy European orders. Even should the Michigan crop be a large one, the California growers have nothing to fear, as the California product became so widely known last year, on account of taking the place in numerous localities in the East of the Michigan beans, that these same localities have already expressed a desire for the California bean in preference to the Michigan product."

Hollywood Woman's Club Closes Exciting Campaign for Officers for Ensuing Year—Bylaws Revised and New Provision Adopted.

After an exciting and close contest, Mrs. Rollin B. Lane was elected president of the Hollywood Woman's Club at the election held yesterday at the clubhouse. Mrs. C. H. Richmond polled a large number of votes but fell short in the end.

The other officers elected are: Miss Jessica Lawrence, first vice-president; Mrs. Bessie Bartlett Frankel, second vice-president; Mrs. Grace Love, recording secretary; Mrs. J. E. Kent (incumbent) corresponding secretary, and Mrs. E. M. Crawford, treasurer. Those elected to the board of directors are: Mrs. Clyde J. Eastman, Mrs. L. Frank Baum, Mrs. George Melville, Mrs. C. E. Bireley, Mrs. Lewis B. Wood and Mrs. Richman.

The bylaws were revised at the election and a new provision for candidates was made. It sets forth that any candidate who receives twenty-five votes must be placed upon the ballot.

The Hard-Headed Business Man

Insists on a high degree of "fitness" in his employees.

That means proper co-ordination between brain and body, and for its best realization there must be care in the matter of food.

A well-balanced diet is essential—one easily digestible and rich in nerve-building material. Very often the result of improper food is seen in indigestion, "brain-fag," nervousness and general inefficiency.

Grape-Nuts

a delicious food made of whole wheat and malted barley, is admirably adapted for brain workers; for included in its rich nutriment, are the vital mineral elements—phosphate of potash, etc., grown by Nature in the grains.

These mineral elements are absolutely essential to well-balanced bodies, brains and nerves, but are often lacking in much of the food that goes to make up the usual dietary.

A daily ration of Grape-Nuts along with other food is just the thing to put one in fine fettle.

OPENS FIELDS OF LEARNING.

Picture Machine the Need of Every Classroom.

Board Members Give Approval to Pathescope.

"The Times" Plan Meets with Wide Favor Here.

If every school in the city of Los Angeles secures a $200 Pathescope moving picture projecting machine through the campaign for visualized education instituted by The Times it will be a source of great gratification to former Judge Waldo M. York, C. H. McCormick and other members of the Board of Education, as well as to parent-teacher associations and students themselves. Judge York and Mr. McCormick said yesterday, after inspecting one of the machines in the offices of the Pathescope Company of Southern California, in the Los Angeles Investment Building. That every schoolroom in the city should be equipped with this extremely simple, compact and safe projector.

Education by visualization is the best medium, and most successfully used, for teaching not only ordinary subjects, but many of the least-understood subjects of the modern curriculum. Along the film highway is a royal road to learning.

After Clyde W. Slater, vice-president and general manager of the Pathescope Company here, had demonstrated to members of the Board of Education how the motion picture has reached its highest field of fineness as an educator and instructor, both Judge York and Mr. McCormick were outspoken in its praise.

VALUE TO EDUCATION.

"I think it has the greatest educational value of any of the factors in education," said Mr. McCormick, "and I believe that every school, in fact, every schoolroom, should be equipped with such a machine. One of the excellent features connected with the Pathescope is the valuable library that may be purchased or leased. At all times there is available a variety of subjects, descriptive and educational. Moreover, arrangements may be made whereby a constant supply is always at hand."

Judge York was equally emphatic. "I think the moving picture is one of the greatest factors in education that has ever been known," said he. "One very valuable feature is that it attracts and secures the attention of people where other methods fail. It also gives a better understanding of historical and descriptive matter than any other method. I think it is especially valuable in showing industrial and mechanical processes."

This opinion of Judge York is shared by leading educationists not only in Los Angeles, but throughout the country. They are united in the opinion that every school should have a Pathescope to show by motion pictures the numerous mechanical operations, plant developments, animal growths and transformation, chemical combinations and so forth, which heretofore have not been clearly demonstrable by either printed descriptions or static illustration. The motion picture shows every process of change in a way best calculated to be indelibly impressed on the youthful mind.

INTEREST SPREADING.

The interest taken in The Times campaign to put one of these splendid machines in every school in Southern California is growing greater every day. From every section of the Southland inquiries have reached the visual education campaign manager, whose offices are on the second floor of The Times Building.

Teachers and scholars who heretofore have said: "If we only could have a motion-picture machine," now have the opportunity before them. The Pathescopes offered by The Times are the ideal machines for school purposes. A child can use them, and there is absolutely no danger in operation. "Safety first" is a primary consideration in the manufacture of these school cinematographs.

How highly successful have the manufacturers been in carrying out the safety principles that the Pathescope enjoys the enviable distinction of being approved by the underwriters' laboratories and adopted as standard by the National Board of Fire Underwriters for unrestricted use. It appeals especially to members of the Board of Education because of its noninflammable film and because it does not increase the insurance rates on buildings in which it is installed. It is so safe that it requires no inclosing booth and needs no licensed operator.

Just what this will mean in added interest and interest to the boys and girls at the Fifth-street school cannot readily be computed. No longer will they prefer the shipping docks and ball grounds to the schoolroom, for with the aid of the projecting machine their studies will become fascinating as well as instructive.

Speaking of the opportunity afforded her school by The Times visual educational campaign, Principal Wickersham said:

"Ever since the plans for our new building were launched we have considered the motion-picture machine a necessary part of its new equipment.

"In spite of the fact that our school board has been unable to make the necessary appropriations, we have never wavered in our efforts to secure one of these machines, and now at last the way is open for not only our school, but every school in Southern California, to obtain one of these valuable mediums for thought expression."

Not only Principal Wickersham, but every member of her faculty, is enthusiastic over the outlook of their school for the ensuing year. With visual education as a part of the curriculum, teaching of many of the more difficult subjects will become a pleasure.

One of the gravest problems of the teacher is arranging proper relaxation for the minds and bodies of her pupils during their hours of confinement in the schoolroom. With the recitation and study periods alternating with a period of motion pictures this problem remains no longer a consideration.

Faculties and parent-teacher associations who have not as yet entered their schools in this campaign can obtain full particulars for doing so by referring to the advertisement of The Times visual educational campaign on another page of this paper.

DIVORCE HASTENED BY ALASKAN ICE.

DISILLUSIONED GIRL-BRIDE BACK TO ARCTIC.

Case of Child-wife Against Man Thirty-five Years Her Senior is Set Forward on Calendar so She Can Return to Parents During Summer.

Saddened by an experience of the world, the unkindness of man, and a desire to sob out her story on the shoulders of her mother, Mrs. Margaret H. Rhind, 17 years old, will start soon for Alaska. The story as she told it in the divorce court yesterday was that of a light-hearted girl filled with the wonders of a great city. Mrs. Rhind was sent from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Los Angeles to be educated. She met Charles F. Rhind and he proved to be an impatient wooer.

Though he is her senior by thirty-five years, she was first attracted by him, then learned to love him. The result was that three weeks after they met they went to Santa Ana and were married. This was May 5, 1914. But spring and fall may not mate and always be happy. The wife wore her beautiful dark curly hair down on her shoulders. She looked very young; probably she acted very young.

Life turned from a rosy hue to a dismal brown. Mr. Rhind had been married before. There was a child by that marriage as old as the school-girl wife. She said that Mr. Rhind drank, and once when he had been imbibing she testified before Judge Wood in divorce proceedings yesterday that he spanked her with a hair brush. It hurt and humiliated the child wife.

She was humiliated when she said he came home one night bringing meat for their dinner, and seemed to enjoy seeing the dog eat it all. Life was one continual quarrel. Innocent 17 could not reason with the eyes of 52. They separated last March.

The trial of the divorce suit was originally set for July 27, but because Mrs. Rhind wants to reach her parents before the ice closes in, Judge Wood advanced the case on the calendar until yesterday. He granted the decree, but it will not be entered until July 27. Meantime the court wants the assurance that Mrs. Rhind has really gone to Alaska.

DEBATE ON IMMIGRATION.

Winners in High School Contest to Receive University Scholarships.

While noted speakers of the California State Conference of Social Agencies are discussing the important phases of the immigration problem, representatives from each of the city high schools will discuss the same subject extemporaneously in the auditorium of the University of Southern California Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The winner of the first place will be given a silver cup, to remain in the possession of the school which he represents until the time of his graduation, and also a year's tuition in the University of Southern California. The second prize will be $10 in cash and a half-year's tuition in the university.

Mayor Sebastian will preside and present the prizes.

MASK DOFFED BY FENNESSY.

Labor Temple Head Bares the Unionite "Peace" Scheme.

Says Internal Dissension is Likely to Kill Project.

Union labor leaders here who have been extending anxious fingers towards the county's exchequer, with the hope of closing them over $1000 in aid of their so-called "industrial peace festival," may never get the money. If they do, it will be only by complying with requirements that will give non-union made goods and wares fully equal showing at their festival as those made in closed shops — they will have to sign agreements with the Board of Supervisors that they practically admitted yesterday will be so seriously objected to by a radical element in the unions that the "festival" may never be held.

The union labor leaders had another hearing before the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon regarding their request for an appropriation for $1000. They boldly threw aside the mask and President Fennessy of the Labor Temple Association declared:

"Well, this is a direct request from organized labor. We propose to see if we cannot advertise this town in a little different way from what has been done. When they look at the map back East and elsewhere, they put their finger on Los Angeles and say, 'Here conditions between capital and labor are different.'"

Fennessy emphasized the idea that the unions are very anxious to bring about industrial peace, and Chairman Pridham questioned him.

"What are the labor troubles at the present time in this city?" inquired Mr. Pridham.

"Well, I understand the floor-layers are out; I don't know of any others," was the reply. Mr. Pridham remarked that he thought labor conditions here were in a remarkably harmonious condition.

Fennessy, Stanley Wilson and Arthur Hay were the spokesmen for the union labor crowd, and they were so closely questioned that they soon became aware the Supervisors had fully investigated the situation.

PLAIN UNION PROPOSITION.

The formation of the committee of five supposed to represent the employers, in connection with five union-labor men, as sponsors for the "festival" was dug into, and finally it was admitted that they have been practically appointed by the unions.

"The men who are supposed to represent the other side were appointed by you," said Chairman Pridham. "They are not employers of labor, except one. The others are not even in close touch with the labor problems here. These men possibly were placed in such a position that they couldn't turn it down. Three of them are officials of savings banks and they possibly have such savings accounts that they were forced into positions on this committee."

Then the question of space for non-union made goods was thoroughly discussed. Fennessy insisted that the "festival" would give non-union made goods an equal show, but frankly admitted that this would not please many union men, and that doubtless every effort on their part would be taken to prevent it.

The serious internal troubles of the Council of Labor were discussed, and Supervisors Woodley and Hinshaw stated that they had been told by various union men that they were opposed to the proposed industrial peace festival.

BREAKERS AHEAD.

Fennessy finally stated:

"I doubt very much whether we'll be able to pull it off, even if you appropriate the $1000, because the old troubles will be stirred up."

After a highly interesting discussion, in which the frailties of the union situation were the theme, members of the board expressed themselves as being willing to do what is within their power to bring capital and labor into the closest relations of harmony. They proposed that if the $1000 is appropriated there must be fully as much space given over for display of non-union goods as for those made by the unions, and that this must be set forth in a signed agreement to be prepared by the County Counsel. The subject was continued until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. If the appropriation is made, it is not to become payable until after the festival is held, so that the board may determine whether the committee has kept the proposed agreement.

It didn't take long for the brother dentists in the town to start an underground rumble that I was a dangerous rebel. It was the first time I had heard that name applied to me, and it jarred me, for I honestly couldn't understand just where I had committed any offense, merely because I had decided to travel a different road.

They even tried to induce my landlord to throw me out of his place. The buzzing grew so strong that many of my former friends got into the habit of passing me on the street with icy stares.

Then they got together in the form of a committee of "ethicals," and they called on me and solemnly interviewed me. I was hurting their dignity, and so they tried to point out to me how wicked I was. In truth, I was only letting a little daylight into the mysteries of tooth-pulling and tooth-filling. They sweated on my neck about "lowering the profession," whereas all I could see that I was doing was lowering a few misconceptions about a little understood business—and lowering prices, too.

They talked and talked—and I talked back, but we didn't arrive at any middle ground. I couldn't see—and I have never seen—what was wrong about telling the public simply something it has every right to know—truths that some day will become commonplaces.

After our talk-fest we were no better off than we were at the outset. The committee was long on advice, but short on showing me how I could perpetuate a meal-ticket for myself and those at home.

'Healthgrams' On Skin—Flashed to Thousands

One of Nature's signals is an unhealthy skin. It is a scientific fact that the skin indicates the condition of the blood and the blood is the building material for the body and all its vital parts. Unless the blood is nourished and kept rich and healthy, it will evenually react on the organs it feeds and reduce the individual to a pitiable condition. Little do people realise the physical ailments that drain away strength and vitality and that can be traced straight to the poor supply of blood. Pimples, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Carbuncles, Boils, Catarrh with its obnoxious results and the tendency to easily catch cold, Malaria and scores of other equally serious ailments, are all manifestations of bad blood. For over 50 years S. S. S. has been a mighty remedy for these disorders. Thousands of men and women have been relieved or actually cured by S. S. S. Many of them had spent years and hundreds of dollars for other remedies in a fruitless endeavor to regain health—a marvelous tribute to S. S. S. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and when taken into the stomach is absorbed by the blood, supplying certain elements which stimulate the action of the blood corpuscles and help them drive out impurities and build up the system. With such a tried and true medicine awaiting you at the closest drug store, will you go on suffering and looking badly when so many others similarly afflicted have turned to S. S. S. and found the meaning of perfect health. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about your case without cost to you if you wish to avail yourself of this service. This Book Tells All

Answers A Million Questions

Why

The First National Census was taken? (It was in America and for a peculiar reason.)

The Human Race is believed to have existed on earth for, perhaps, a hundred thousand years or more?

Coal in large quantities is found within the Arctic Circle, although the coal plants indicate a warm climate?

Storms can often be predicted several days in advance, and why an "easterly" storm really comes from the west?

A Swamp may sometimes be drained by blowing a single small hole almost anywhere in its depths?

Glass Disks can be so shaped as to make telescopes and microscopes? (It is a very interesting study.)

Electricity cannot be transported long distances profitably, so that all the machinery in the world could be turned by waterfalls?

Where

Cocoanuts, cocoa-beans, kola nuts or bamboo poles grow most abundantly?

Caviare comes from? Or fur-bearing seals are found? Or where monkeys or kangaroos are most abundant?

Rainfall is the heaviest on the earth, or what is the longest river or the most densely populated nation?

Relics of prehistoric man have been chiefly discovered? (What are the oldest?)

The bones of the largest land animal that ever lived have been found?

Diamonds or pearls or rubies or tin or tungsten or platinum are found in the largest quantity?

Land reaches farthest south or farthest north, or rises to the greatest heights or sinks in the greatest depressions? (One place is the Sahara Desert.)

Who

Wrote the Book of Mormon, from golden tablets which he dug up upon a farm in Western New York in 1827?

Circumnavigated the earth for the first time? (It was not Magellan; he died before they could get around.)

Ruled over the most extensive empire the world has ever seen? (It was not Alexander or Caesar or Tamerlane.)

Wrote the Code Napoleon? Or the Letters of Junius? Or the poems of Ossian? Or the Iliad or the Anabasis?

Built the Great Pyramid, or carved the Sphinx or constructed the Parthenon or the Circus Maximus, the greatest theatre ever built?

Was the Man in the Iron Mask? Or the Cid? Or Captain Kidd? Or the author of the "Gunpowder Plot"? Or who wrote the Declaration of Independence?

When

Mary, Queen of Scots was beheaded? Or women were first allowed to vote? Or a bear-keeper's daughter was a Roman empress?

Gunpowder was first used in a European battle? (It had been known to the Chinese for at least a thousand years before.)

Iron was first smelted by coal? (It was first done in England after iron smelting had been known for thousands of years.)

Liquid Fire and huge masses of burning material were first used in warfare? (Some new machines for hurling these were invented by Archimedes.)

North America was first sighted by European eyes? (It was more than a thousand years before the Cabots or Vespucci.)

Europe was all but overrun by the invading Saracens and nearly became a Mohammedan land?

Proof conclusive was first given that the earth is round? (It was more than 2,000 years before Columbus discovered America.)

What

Eugenics has come to mean, and who coined the word and who first spread the doctrine widely?

Pragmatism stands for and how it differs from materialism and idealism and mechanistic views of the universe?

Race was the most primitive ever found, and how many words these people knew and what things they could do? (They are now all dead.)

Lead pencils are made of? Or billiard balls? Or coat buttons? Or paint? Or glass? Or asphalt paving?

Part Shakespeare acted in Hamlet? Or what Ibsen meant by his Ghosts?

Was the "Story of the Diamond Necklace"?

Malthus (who was a clergyman) really taught; and what "Malthusianism" now teaches?

Novelist invented the name of "Nihilist"?

Machine was called the "lady's hobby horse"?

This Big Book (130 Pages) FREE

It is not an easy thing to give any idea of this monumental work, which consists of 29 volumes, 30,000 pages, over 40,000 articles and a total of 44 million words. It is very much like trying to describe all the countries and cities and races of Europe in a page or two. But the publishers of the Encyclopaedia Britannica have prepared a very remarkable book of 130 pages which does attempt to give you some idea of the wonderful variety and real human interest of these volumes. It is illustrated with nearly 200 pictures directly from the Britannica itself and gives you a hundred interesting bits of information revealing the Encyclopaedia Britannica from a hundred different points of view. It gives you portraits of 70 or more of the celebrated scholars and men of science, travelers and explorers, who have made the new Britannica; and it tells you, too, of the long array of great men like Sir Walter Scott, DeQuincey, Macaulay, and Huxley, and scores of others who have contributed to the Britannica in past days. It tells the story of the beginnings of this famous work, back in the days of King George III., and how it quickly took rank as the greatest of all encyclopaedias.

Then, there are interesting stories and clever dialogues describing how the Britannica may be useful to the most varied sorts of people and especially its unexpected interest for the wide-awake women of to-day.

It is as big as a magazine and far more interesting, and whether you intend to buy the Britannica now or not, you and every member of your family will thoroughly enjoy this book.

ONLY A LITTLE WHILE

The Encyclopaedia Britannica has hitherto been a very high-priced treasure. It has cost from $150 to $250 per set.

To bring it within the reach of a larger public which cannot afford to pay this, the publishers have prepared a new "Handy Volume" edition, unabridged and unchanged except as to size of the page and the type.

This new "Handy Volume" Issue—the entire 29 volumes—you can have now for a first payment of a single dollar and after that easy monthly payments for a short time.

And the entire cost is only one-third of the larger sized "Cambridge University" Issue, although every page has exactly the same contents and illustrations in the two books. Not one of the 30,000 pages has been altered by a line.

Although an enormous printing was arranged for, this wonderful bargain has been taken up so rapidly that it can remain open only a little while longer. The astonishing rise in the cost of materials for paper, bindings and all, makes it impossible to continue this sale at the present prices.

If you wish to take advantage of this opportunity you should send at once for full information, or go to one of the places mentioned below where you may see the volumes for yourself and place your order direct.

CAN YOU ANSWER YOUR CHILDREN'S QUESTIONS?

A great Frenchman once said:

Great inventive geniuses like Galileo, Newton, Faraday, Lord Kelvin, Edison, Graham Bell, all had a simply consuming desire to KNOW THINGS.

The average American Indian had very little curiosity about things. Even when they saw majestic spectacles like the Grand Canyon of the Colorado they uttered no exclamations of admiration or astonishment and turned away without interest.

The Tasmanians, who were the lowest race of men ever found, were devoid of curiosity. They are extinct. But there are millions and millions of living people very much like them.

CLEVER CHILDREN HAVE AN INFINITE CURIOSITY. Dull children have little. All fathers and mothers like to be able to answer their children's questions if they can.

But sometimes it is hard. You can't know everything.

But what you can do is to own a splendid set of books that do know practically everything—that can answer a million questions and can tell you about literally millions of things.

There is only one incomparable work of this kind. That is the new Eleventh Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, the costliest set of books and the greatest work of reference ever produced.

Do you know how easy it is to get it, just now? And how cheap?

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Record-breaking exports from our principal cities continue to be reported, Philadelphia's gain being three times that of last year. Extra dividends by copper companies reach 1 to 1½ per cent., with the demand seemingly unsatisfied for the refined metal. Speculative markets were affected by foreign influences, and wheat by damage reports from the Southwest, where bugs and the fly have appeared.

(For details, see financial pages.)

AS TO SYMPATHIES.

The Tribune accounts for the result on Tuesday by the statement that the great mass of voters whose sympathies were with the Progressives expressed their "sympathies by staying at home" rather than take the slight trouble of going to the polls and voting.

Those "sympathizers" resemble the fond wife who suffered her belated husband to shiver on the doorstep rather than arise from her warm couch to open the door.

BUT JOHNSON—

The Tribune boasts that Gov. Johnson registered as a Progressive and then gave his support to the United-Republican ticket. This was quite in line with his conduct in obtaining an election as a Republican and subsequently giving his support to the Progressives. Judas Iscariot attended the Last Supper as a disciple and gorged himself on the bread and wine, and then sold his Savior for $30. But Judas did throw the money on the ground and then hanged himself.

"TRUE INTERESTS."

The Los Angeles Tribune says that it regards the result of Tuesday's election as "injurious to the true interests of the Republican party and hurtful to the true interests of the nation." Since when was it to the "true interests of the Republican party" to hitch it to the garbage wagon of Progressive office and plunder seeking? How were the true interests of the nation ever hurt by Republican success, or promoted by the mad Rooseveltian treachery that deliberately procured Democratic success?

LET 'EM GO!

Whatever else betide, this is the end of the discoverer of the lost river, and it is also the termination of the rule of the Johnson gang that has remorselessly plundered the taxpayers of California for several years. It is to be expected and hoped that the leader and members of the gubernatorial plunderbund will now do what they falsely accused the Old Guard of doing in November, 1912—go into the Democratic party en masse. It will not help the Democrats any, but it will be a relief to the Republicans to be rid of the Iscariots and Arnolds who made a business of being traitors!

THE DEPARTED.

A feature of the election of Tuesday was the utter expiration of the Progressive party of California. Those of its members who voted the Democratic ticket returned to their original allegiance. Those of Republican antecedents who did not come back to march with the Old Guard walked into the "United-Republican" shack as a half-way house to the regular Republican castle. Next election they will again be Republicans without a hyphen, an if, a but or a peradventure, and will thank their fortunate stars that they are forever rid of the graft and craft, and dirty and devious direction of Johnson and his plunderbund.

The Progressive party in California in its lifetime represented no righteous purpose and no healthy tendency in politics. It was organized and kept alive by Johnson and Earl and Stimson and Rowell and their associates mainly to obtain power and develop opportunities for plundering taxpayers, and over its inodorous remains the people of California will sing the good old hymn:

"Thou art gone to the grave and we will not deplore thee."

RESTORE REPUBLICAN RULE.

Evil days for labor are in store unless we shall expel from our national policy the revenue heresies embodied in the Wilson-Underwood tariff. That wise legislation can aid the worker the rule of the Republican party has proven. That unwise tariff legislation can harm him; that Democratic success in the nation can work him injury, was abundantly demonstrated twenty-three years ago, and that the Democratic victory of 1912 did not work a repetition of the disastrous conditions of 1892-95 was only prevented by the European war.

Credit the men of both parties with their virtues and charge them with their sins and the indisputable fact remains that the best interests of both laborers and capitalists have always been advanced under Republican rule.

The Times does not mean to intimate that the great honest Democratic masses are not good men, though misled in their politics. But a spoonfull of milk will color a tumbler of water and a drop of cyanide will poison it. "With what a little leaven is the whole mass leavened," and until the anarchic element shall be expelled from influence in Democratic councils it will be the duty of every citizen who wishes well to his country to aid in restoring the Republican party to power in State and nation.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT HARMONY.

The Times observes in some of the sody-watery comments of Republican leaders on the great Republican success in California, Tuesday, too much inclination to worry about harmony. Brethren, harmony is not the thing to worry about and prate about. What the Republican party needs, Dr. Keesling, is not a hypodermic injection of harmony, but a baptism of loyalty and good faith. Was it worrying about "harmony" that won Tuesday's magnificent victory? No, it was a stand-by-the-flag fight! Will the Republican party win in November by seeking harmony with those who are trying to destroy it? No, a thousand times, no! It will win by beating them back and beating them out.

A party, to survive and triumph, must be a solidified phalanx, not a turbulent mass meeting; it must be organized and have leaders; it must be true to its principles and think more of them than any temporary advantage; it must count upon a faithful and devoted membership and must be red blooded with party spirit. Such a party the Republican party has always been—and such it must be if it is to endure. It must place principle above harmony or expediency; and in the name of high heaven it must stamp out treachery even as Beelzebub was thrown over the Most High Parapets of the Blessed.

The Republican party will have all the harmony it wants if it shall deserve it. It will not have harmony if it invites into its councils those who have sought to wreck it. No, it will not have harmony if it shall ignore solidarity and promote perfidy. It will not have harmony if it gives one jot of authority or opportunity to self-seekers who have tried to use the party to further their own mercenary ends, and failing in that, to defeat and destroy it. Better a thousand vigorous foes outside the breastworks than ten trouble makers inside. You cannot harmonize with a man whom you find, torch-in-hand, in your house, threatening to burn it down if he cannot run it to suit himself.

The Republican party of California can have more harmony and greater success without Hiram Johnson and Earl and Brundidge and their coadjutors who framed the "United Republican" jobbery than with them. Tuesday's result proved it. To talk of "harmony" with these mischief-making bosses is the veriest nonsense. What—play into their hands? What—help them carry out their tricks? Oh, no, brethren, the olive branch is not what the Republican party of California should hold out to these fellows; what should be extended in their direction is a club.

Yes, the Republican party will continue to win battles by fighting them out! It will win with loyalty, good faith, aggressiveness, boldness, confidence and devotion—not with timidity and politics-playing and fictitious "harmony." And if the Republican party of the nation is strong, firm, true and steadfast, exhibiting a brave and unwavering adherence to its convictions, not a mere truckling with opportunism—then will it attract a great army of sincere voters to its colors to fill the vacancies left by unfaithful deserters ten times over. It will gain ten steadfast adherents for every disgruntled soldier lost. That is the way to have a party, a party worth while, a victorious party, gentlemen! The Republican party has always stood for something more than harmony, and be sure it will grow greater and stronger by standing and standing and STANDING for what it stands for. If it shall pursue this course without fear or shadow of turning, it will poll the largest vote in November next that it ever polled in all its bright history. The men and women of America admire a strong-kneed party like that and will flock to it.

And so, fellow-Republicans, let us put an end to worrying about party harmony and think more of party duty. The inscription and device to be placed upon the party standard—here is what it is, not "harmony," but STEADFAST PARTY LOYALTY.

THE SHIFTING SCENES.

"All the world's a stage"—but the scenes shift much more rapidly than ever before, and with newspapers covering the earth with sensitive telegraphic tendrils, no change even in the remote parts of distant lands goes many hours without being fully known throughout all other countries.

These are busy days in the world's business, and between the last edition of the evening papers and the first edition of the morning papers, the aspect of crucial situations changes so quickly that prophets are confounded and the wisest observers are betrayed into foolish deductions. How feverish and emotional the old world has grown! The whole of Europe is in the well-known turmoil; Japan bulking large on the western horizon makes crises for England, Germany and China and the United States as easily as a child blows soap bubbles; Mexico one days cries "amigo" at our sentries and the next puts a bloody dagger under their noses; and within our midst Presidential booms are fizzling and sizzling and banging like firecrackers on a rainy day.

Schopenhauer called the newspaper the "minute hand on the clock of time," but what in these unstable days the monthly and weekly commentators on current events—"Current Opinion," "The Review of Reviews," "The Literary Digest" and a few others not so prominent—wish to have themselves called, we do not know. Even to the best of their undoubted ability they cannot keep from discussing what reads like ancient history, and if they venture into prognostications ever so cautiously the vagaries of the shifting scenes seem to be inexorably against them.

In the current number of "Current Opinion" the estimable editor and his young men are found to be talking of dead issues and past phases of volatile situations. Behold! In the May issue we find a large and solemn account of "The Mysterious Growth of Mr. Roosevelt's Presidential Boom," and the magazine lends its precious space to comments solemnly assuring those who read that the nomination of Roosevelt is "inevitable."

In the past three days the whole aspect of Roosevelt's publicity-made "popularity" has been changed. He is a dead one. For one thing, Root has definitely entered the field, and the country at large views the comparison between Root and Roosevelt as Hyperion to a satyr. For another thing, it is definitely established that Roosevelt cannot, with all the support of the "prodigal" Progressives, control more than a third of the delegates to the nominating Republican convention and that number represents every last and single man that will tolerate T. R. And still another thing is that the recent elections, particularly in California, the stronghold of Progressivism, show how emphatically the people have repudiated the Great Opportunist—if, as his friends insist, "great" must in some way be credited to the most successful demagogue of our generation.

And there is humor in that bold headline—"The Mysterious Growth of Mr. Roosevelt's Presidential Boom." "Mysterious," indeed! There is nothing mysterious about a well-organized publicity bureau so efficient that even The Times, 'way out here in Los Angeles, is furnished gratis with advance copies of Roosevelt's speeches delivered at banquets in the East, as no doubt are all other newspapers throughout the country. There is nothing mysterious in the fact that during the past six months two laudatory books have been written about Roosevelt by way of assisting the stimulation of interest in him; and two books have also been written by him; and still another book has been written about his travels; and he has written—only the Recording Angel knows how many—prefaces and introductions to other books in the past six months. "Mysterious" forsooth!

But to return to other shifting scenes. In the same issue of "Current Opinion" is found an article discussing the "End of the Chase After Villa." It is to laugh. That was old news two weeks ago, and Monday's Times carried authentic dispatches relating how Carranza had been informed that American troops were in Mexico to stay till their work was done, and yesterday morning's dispatches related how American troops had been stationed so as to intercept the movements of certain of Carranza's generals.

And still another important false guess in the same issue shows how rapidly scenes shift and how futile it is to try to discuss today the issues that will be of importance tomorrow, and especially those that will be of importance the whole of the next month.

Yesterday morning's news dispatches relate that the attack on Verdun has failed. The Crown Prince admits it. The Germans have been pushed back. Those dispatches definitely confirm the rumors of the past week. But to the "Current Opinion," Verdun is still a vital issue, and the editor goes so far wrong as to preface its comment with "assuming that the fall of Verdun is written in the book of the war's destinies." Ha!

And yet "Current Opinion" is easily among the best and most discriminating of the commentating magazines. In times of peace one really gets live news out of it that the capable editors have assembled entertainingly and illuminatingly, but when the blasts of war blow in our ears, when Presidential booms are swelling and exploding, when Yankee troopers chase Mexican bandits, when nations on battlefields shake human bones as dice in the game of empires, then the world is no longer a stage but a kinetic theater, and none may guess what will appear on the next reel.

THE AUTHOR OF SHAKESPEARE.

The Judicial—not judicious—decision, which has since been set aside, that Bacon was the author of Shakespeare was only at which the ghost of Ignatius Donnelly flapped its seraphic wings and made the aisles of the place which Sherman said war was resound with its cock-a-doodle-doo.

The decision is questioned by many on the ground that Bacon never failed to claim everything that belonged to him, and a good deal that belonged to other people, and of this habit Bacon was never cured. But if Bacon was the author of Shakespeare it is next in order to inquire who was the author of Bacon? The answer that at once occurs to every student of literature and natural history is that it must have been Hogg—not a Governor of Texas of that name, but the Scotch poet known as the Ettrick Shepherd. Hogg received but a small sum for his poems, but realized $1500 from his treatise on the diseases of sheep. With this money he went into farming and, as a consequence, went broke and was forced to marry for a living.

Some doubt is thrown upon the statement that Hogg was the author of Bacon from the fact that Hogg did not enter the scene of human activities until about a century after Bacon had departed therefrom. But this trifling anachronism is reconciled by the explanation that Hogg was only the spiritual father of Bacon, and in spirit parentage centuries don't count.

COULDN'T THEY WALK?

One of the reasons assigned by the Express for the failure of the United Republicans to carry Los Angeles was a scarcity of autos to carry women, and cripples, and pampered Progressives to the polls. Republicans were willing to walk in order to aid in the establishment of their political principles. But no sacrifice that involved pedestrianism could be expected of the followers of Hiram.

RETURNING HOME.

Where did the immensely increased straight Republican vote come from Tuesday? Certainly not from the Democrats. It came from Progressives who refused to again be led by the nose into the Johnson slaughter-house.

Come to the banquet board, Republican brethren, and take your fill of the roast veal. As for the misleaders who failed this time to again mislead you, let them return to the desolate places where they belong.

At one point in the speech of Senator Garfield in nominating John Sherman for the Presidency in 1880, he said, "And now, gentlemen, what do we want?" "We want Garfield," said one of the delegates. Here is a pointer for Senator Warren G. Harding.

Other aspirants for that Chicago nomination declare that this will not be a good year for a candidate whose whiskers run east and west from the face. Wonder who they mean?

The very latest in girls' stockings sport dinky little bows matching the color of the silk and deviating in size up the leg. This is an improvement on the old style that had beaux at their feet.

Suppose a Bavarian Duke is sent to rule Poland, who will rule the Duke? But one guess is allowed.

THE FIDDLING CONGRESSMEN.

Half the World Afire, and America Threatened, but Congress Does Little for Preparedness.

[Wall Street Journal:] Overshadowing all other important matters for governmental consideration at this time is that of national defense. How magnificently Congress is putting the country in a state of defense is to be seen from the Congressional Record.

The issue of April brings this publication up to 4735 double-column pages of talk. A member from Maine rises to present a resolution adopted by the "Androscoggin Rural Letter Carriers of Maine," and asks to have it extended in the Record. Pages of talk are devoted to the subject of a monument in itself appropriate, but which should not have consumed five minutes.

A discussion of an appropriation bill covers page after page of such profundities as to whether the repairs on a second-hand automobile were $1300 or $1400 a year, and statements are "branded" as untrue. One member takes the time to say that another member has not had experience with second-hand machines, and this is resented as an attempt to "mislead the House." In the same discussion comes this important colloquy:

Q.: What is the salary of the assistant telephone messenger?

A.: Seventy-five dollars a month.

A.: Yes.

Then the Speaker informs them that the question is on agreeing to the resolution.

National defense is furthered when a member from New York gets on his feet, and the Speaker solemnly asks:

Another statesman objects, and the Speaker informs the House:

"The gentleman from New York asks unanimous consent to have extended his remarks in the Record, and the gentleman from Illinois objects."

Again time is taken in requesting a member to yield a portion of his time to another member who is bursting with something to say, and the gist of it all is whether another member said that a girl in private enterprise was fortunate if she could earn $7 a week. Such puerilities take up the time of Congress while national defense waits.

However much we may desire peace there is an inexorable logic of events which cannot be overlooked. The police expedition into Mexico proves how pathetically unprepared we are to meet what may come out of tomorrow. Momentous events are in the happening, but Congress, instead of devoting its time to preparing for them, is content to play at marbles. Half the world is afire, and flames are threatening America; but the national leaders at Washington, like another Nero, sit in their seats and—fiddle.

LABOR'S SHARE OF INDUSTRY.

All Cost of Manufacture, Except Overhead Expenses, Goes to Labor.

[Washington Post:] The late Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, when asked what part of the cost of production was paid out in wages, replied that the two terms were synonymous. In the manufacture of lumber, for instance, the pay roll at the factory may take only 40 or 50 per cent. of the gross income, but the money paid for raw materials and everything under the item known as overhead expenses all goes to labor. The man who cuts down the tree in the forest gets his share, while the man who worked to construct the building where the lumber is turned out gets his share. The workingman who made the machinery obtained his share of the profits, even before a single order was received. The only part that goes to capital is the portion that is known as dividends, and these have not always given a fair return on the investment. Stockholders may go for years without any dividends, but labor must be paid continuously.

Labor, as a matter of fact, runs none of the risks that are encountered by capital. Yet the share which is received by investors is decreasing. The case of the railroads is an example of what has been happening. While dividends have been cut down or passed altogether in recent years, labor's share of every dollar which the railroads collect from the people has been steadily increasing. In 1900 labor received 39 per cent. out of every dollar paid by passengers and shippers to the railroads. In 1914 labor received more than 45 per cent. out of every dollar collected by the roads. During the same period the amount of money earned net on the total capital invested in American railroads declined by more than one-half. While the returns from the capital of the owners had been reduced by more than one-half, the wages paid to labor had been increased by nearly one-sixth.

Labor is the chief beneficiary of prosperity. Good times open the opportunity to demand higher wages, but the stockholders must balance any increased returns they may receive against the losses which they sustained in dull periods.

First Visit to London.

[Manchester Guardian:] A countryman has various ways of sizing up London, and this is one of them. A Scottish soldier arriving at King's Cross with his kit was met in the station by one of those kind women who have banded themselves together to welcome and befriend such men. She offered him rest and refreshment and other kindnesses, but the Scot refused everything. "But is there nothing I can do for you?" urged the kindly lady. "Well, ma'am," replied the soldier, "I'd be obliged if you'd tell me how far is the toon from the station."

THE SHOPPER'S DOLLAR.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY BELLE A. WHITNEY.
Consulting Fashion Expert of American Textile Manufacturers.

What the diminished purchasing power of her dollar means to the shopper is only to be gauged correctly when we put beside it the fact that her dollar will buy less than it bought last year, the corresponding fact that the great majority of women have no more of these dollars to spend than they had last year. That is to say, the increase in price in dress has not been accomplished by a corresponding increase in the average income, as in other years. As the bottom cause of the economic conditions out of which has come the increase of prices is the abnormal one of war, no principle of the equipoise between wages and prices that obtain in normal times holds good.

People who consider fashion in dress a trivial matter of no importance to the average human being lack imagination.

Fashion is a profoundly important cause in the commercial movement of the world, in war time and out. And it affects most families to an extent scarcely to be believed by the lay observer who is not a student of dress in its relations to social conditions.

The majority of American families have an income of less than $1000 a year. Out of that sum must be paid rent, food, fuel, light, insurance, doctor's bills and all other incidentals besides clothes—though drygoods stores of national reputation do not depend to any extent on the trade of families whose income is under $1500 or $2000.

To be specific in the relation of clothes to family income it is possible to quote from the confessions of a professor in a small college, printed in the Atlantic Monthly some time ago, who stated that his family of three people, on an income of $1200 a year, was able to spend no more than $200 a year for clothes, including hats and shoes. Families of refinement, with social positions to maintain, are struggling valiantly with the problem of "keeping up appearances," into which the fashion element must enter, on a sum of money so small that the shrinking of a dollar's purchasing power is an economic calamity.

Why are prices going up? Largely because Europe's production is crippled by war, and America's normal production is crippled by abnormal demands on her materials and labor to clothe and shoe and feed and arm the fighting nations. Prices of clothes are going up, too, because of styles of the wide skirts and high boots are calling for increased yardage of cloth and leather.

What is the merchant going to do about it? Will he cut off a part of his trade by carrying only high-priced goods, or will he offer at the usual prices inferior qualities. Will he sell no more extremely new styles requiring expensive material, or will he offer the latest styles at prices women are accustomed to pay but of poorer quality and workmanship?

This is a critical time in the shopping world, and it depends upon the average woman whether American industries shall be debased by a demand for cheapened and worthless goods, of poor quality, of poor workmanship, of style that will go out like the newspaper of yesterday; or whether by her discriminating shopping she buys the best values in clothes and avoids whatever in materials or styles she cannot afford.

The woman shopper can never too fully realize her responsibilities. She is the great buyer of the country. The large bulk of demand in the second and third greatest industries of America, in point of labor employed and money invested—food and textiles—is influenced by her. She not only clothes herself, but she is the distributor of a large percentage of the family income. The stretching of the dollar is part of her business in life. She is directly and personally concerned to know all the inside facts she can learn about merchandise and American industries, why she should buy certain things and avoid buying others, to make the dress dollar stretch as far as it will. All these things are not only vitally important to her welfare and that of her family; they have to do with the industrial foundations of America.

Though it is well known that the man shopper insists on buying his own cigars, and, to some extent, his own neckties, the women folk of the family in the majority of cases exert a potent influence on his choice in clothes, and buy outright his underwear and hosiery. Moreover, most men buy quality first and style afterward as a rule—the whole quality and price range of men's fabrics is proof of this—so that this appeal to buy quality is less needed by the shopping man. It is the woman shopper who hunts "bargains" and to whom price is the strongest argument beyond style.

Will she buy quality? And to buy quality today one must pay for it.

The answer is: Demand quality in a less-perishable goods—wear the best wool if you can't afford the best silk. Have one good silk dress rather than two poor ones. Demand simple styles that are well made and not so conspicuous that they go quickly out of fashion. Buy fewer clothes but buy good ones. Add gumption to increase your dollar's purchasing power.

Put Diplomatically.

[Richmond Times Dispatch:] He: One thing is sure. I don't intend to be criticised and censured because I have failed to realize your expectations.

She: You misunderstand me completely. All that I have done is to express my conviction that you have more than justified my fears.

SHARP CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY

Tomorrow's Big Day of Social Agencies Conference.

Judge Olson Luncheon Guest of Lawyers.

Many features combined to make yesterday one of the notable days of the Social Agencies Conference. Almost before the opening session began it was announced that Hiram Johnson, president, would not be a candidate for re-election. Next was an enthusiastic campaign on the part of Oakland delegates for the next annual convention, countered by an equally enthusiastic system of electioneering on the part of San Francisco and Alameda, to the same end.

Tomorrow is expected to be the day of the conference. Election will be held and the successor of Hiram Johnson will be named. It is expected that there will be a warm contest, but as yet no candidate has been named for the place. Ballotting for the next annual meeting place will also occur tomorrow.

The work yesterday was carried on simultaneously at the Friday Morning Club, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Hotel Alexander, Columbus Auditorium, the Young Women's Christian Association and Trinity Auditorium.

WORDS OF CAUTION.

At Trinity last night Rev. Michael Hanna, director of the Catholic Charities Bureau at Boston, cautioned social service workers against permitting their zeal to carry them across the boundaries of efficiency. He declared the power of social service is greatest when not synonymous in the mind of their clients with the rigid, compulsory enforcement of the law, and said:

"Public employees, by virtue of their positions, may be obliged very often to assume the role of prosecutor, but I have yet to become reconciled to the representatives of private societies assuming this role. Social service must recognize its limitations if it is to be effective.

"There are bounds beyond which we may not go unless invited. There is often a conflict between the desire of the social worker to be of assistance and the right of the intended beneficiary to withhold the help to that service. A worker may feel that something should be done, but yet his efforts may be obliged to wait upon the pleasure of the client, who perhaps cannot accept service at the cost of revealing a long-locked secret of the heart."

Dr. Arthur W. Briggs, State organizer of the California Dry Campaign Federation, spoke on the liquor traffic in relation to social service, and Dr. William T. Foster of Portland, spoke on State-wide education in relation to social purity.

LAWYERS ENTERTAIN.

In connection with the work of the social agencies, an informal luncheon was tendered Judge Harry Olson, chief justice of the Chicago Municipal Courts, by members of the Los Angeles County Bar Association. The luncheon was held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and many prominent local attorneys were present.

Following the luncheon, with R. P. Dillon presiding as toastmaster, Attorney Stephens spoke on the proposition to establish a municipal court here. He stated that under the proposed charter, provision is made for a step in that direction.

Judge Olson then told of the work done in the municipal courts of Chicago, and said that it is the most efficient method of handling legal difficulties.

Following there was an informal discussion of the handling of court problems and Judge Olson was asked many questions, regarding the details of his municipal court.

MEMORY LEAVES HIM.

Farmer Injured in Runaway is Victim of Aphasia—Unable to Identify Self, Though Conscious and His Mind Fully Rational.

Alfred Hoffman, rancher, suffered from a peculiar form of aphasia yesterday, according to reports received by Sheriff Cline, who was asked to help identify the man. Before the sheriff could act, however, he was informed the man's memory had been restored, and Hoffman had recovered himself again.

The rancher had been doing some work on his place in Coldwater Canyon and was returning to the city early in the morning, when his horse became frightened and ran away. He was thrown out of the rig and suffered injuries that rendered him unconscious.

For about an hour Hoffman lay beside the road, until an automobile party picked him up and hurried him to a physician's office, in Sherman. When he regained consciousness Hoffman was unable to recollect anything about his name or address, although discussing other matters rationally.

Several persons were called to identify him, and there was nothing on his person to give a clew. It was later that the Sheriff's office was called. Less than half an hour after the man suddenly sat up and declared that he was Alfred Hoffman and that he lived at No. 1630 North Alvarado, in this city. Investigation proved this to be correct and Hoffman took him home. His injuries, although serious, are not fatal.

WELLS-FARGO TO MOVE.

The ground floor of the Los Angeles Investment Building, Broadway and Eighth streets, it was announced yesterday, has been leased by the Wells-Fargo Company for use by its main express office after June 20. The present location of the Wells-Fargo Company is at 309 South Main street. The office of the express company is formerly occupied by the main offices of the Los Angeles Investment Company. The general and local offices of the Wells-Fargo Company will remain in the Central Building.

Appreciative.

LYONS (N. Y.) April 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read your editorial entitled "A Request Complied With," in which you answer the request of the New York Tribune to express your sentiments on the editorials that appeared in that so-called Republican paper in favor of the nomination of Col. Theodore Roosevelt for President.

I want to congratulate you upon your reply which analyzes the situation completely. The cheap politicians whose minds operate like tin weathercocks, whose backbones are like that of the oyster, and whose courage would disgrace the cradle, talk about the Republican party nominating the apostate Col. Theodore Roosevelt for President on the Republican ticket. No more ridiculous proposition was ever advanced outside of a political insane asylum. The patriotism and loyalty of the Republican party is not for sale to this political adventurer, who is now being again financed by the steel trust, the harvester trust and the millionaires who were indicted under the Taft administration. Those who think that Col. Roosevelt would be elected or that he would be supported by the rank and file of Republicans of this country are ignorant of human nature and they insult the intelligence and morality of the Republican voters of the country.

In your editorial you say:

"The Republican ship was freighted with the prosperity, the progress and the hopes of a nation, and he deliberately steered her into the breakers in 1912—not even to gratify his ambition, for he knew his candidacy would result in the election of Wilson—but to glut his rage at his personal defeat.

"Pretending to be a friend of protection he aided to bring a triumph of free trade; pretending to be a friend of Americanism he aided to cause our country to crouch at the feet of British rapacity and to tangle our commerce in the coils of European diplomacy.

"For the Republican party to nominate him for President would be as if the eleven loyal apostles had selected Judas Iscariot as a leader; as if the soldiers of the Continental army had voted for Benedict Arnold as President; as if Jefferson Davis had been chosen to succeed Abraham Lincoln in the Presidential chair."

These are strong words, but they are true and they voice the sentiment of every loyal Republican in this country who is not a coward. If Col. Roosevelt should be nominated on the Republican ticket the rank and file of the Republicans would take care of him on election day. They would march to the polls, enter the booths and immediately begin to whack his Bull Moose horns until the cracking and splintering of those horns by the ceaseless whacking would make a noise that could be heard around the world. Not even Roosevelt himself with all his genius for making noise could compete with the racket that would be made in the booths on election day when the Republican voters began to whack his Bull Moose horns.

OUT OF WORK; SUICIDE.

The taking of his own life, Sunday, by William Dickerson, No. 5061 Huntington drive, was due, not to anger, but to his having been out of work for some months, according to a statement made yesterday by his widow. Mr. Dickerson, according to the widow, had been employed for years by Wells Fargo & Co., and was a skilled book-keeper, but lost his job. He tried vainly to get other work, but was unsuccessful, and the financial straits to which he and his wife were reduced preyed on his mind.

Two Killed

covered to be that the left front wheel had become disconnected.

"The machine careened to the left of the road and hit a telegraph pole. That's the last I remember," Mr. Platt said last night at the hospital.

The sideswipe given the car by the pole threw the car over, and, turning over and over, it rolled crazily through the plowed field just north of Santa Monica boulevard for seventy-five feet, finally coming to a stop, upside down, with Stagg and Strong beneath.

A few minutes later several machines passed. Mr. Platt was seen wandering about the overturned machine, mumbling. The motorists who found the tragedy got help from other passing cars. Motorcycle Officer Roeder answered the call from Hollywood Police Station. By concerted effort the car was righted.

Roeder saw quickly that nothing could help Mr. Strong. Mr. Stagg was still breathing and a hurry call for the County Hospital ambulance was sent in. Before it could arrive Mr. Stagg had died, despite the first-aid help administered by Dr. Roen, a physician who happened to be among the motorists on the scene.

Mr. Platt was taken to the Sisters' Hospital, where it was found his left arm is broken and his back injured. While bending over Mr. Stagg, trying to resuscitate the dying man, Dr. Roen heard him murmur the request that his sister, Mrs. George McCurty of No. 1930 Colorado street, Denver, be notified. The bodies of both victims were taken to the Strother morgue in Hollywood.

GUILTY OF ASSAULT.

Decision is Against Negro, but May Strengthen Case Wherein He Charges that Plaintiff Offered to Accept Bribe, Says Prosecutor.

O. B. Daniels, colored, was found guilty of assault on H. S. Cogan in Judge Craig's court yesterday. The verdict of the jury will strengthen to a great extent, the charge against Cogan and his brother-in-law, C. B. Anthony, of offering to accept a bribe from the defendant, according to Deputy District Attorney Hogan.

Daniels boarded a Watts car while in a semi-intoxicated condition several months ago and fell against Cogan three times, according to testimony yesterday introduced. On the last occasion, Cogan remonstrated, and the colored man pulled a knife, slashing the white severely about the face.

After the arrest of Daniels, Cogan and Anthony are alleged to have approached him and offered to withdraw from the case pending against him if he would pay them about $200. This he was unable to do and reported the matter to the authorities, resulting in the arrest of the two white men.

They were bound over to the Superior Court by Justice Forbes, and their trial will come up on May 26. Daniels, who had been out on bail, was sent to the County Jail after the verdict, pending the passing of sentence on him next Monday.

SEARCH FOR ASSAILANT.

Police and Posses of Citizens Scour Hollywood Hills to Find Brutal Fellow Who Lured Little Girl into Grove and Attacked Her.

The Hollywood hills were searched last night by the police and posses of citizens for the assailant of Miss Marjory Housinger, 6 years old, who was lured to Mt. Olive yesterday afternoon by a young man, and there attacked. She fought off the advances of the man, and when she returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Housinger, No. 1535 North Kenmore avenue, she was so overcome she could not relate what had happened.

When her father returned home, she told him of her experience and he notified the police. Searching parties were at once organized, and the hills thoroughly searched. The little girl describes her assailant as being about 24 years old, smooth shaven and of medium height.

STAGE COMPLETED.

First Open Air Rehearsal for "Julius Caesar" to be Held.

The great open-air stage at Beachwood Canyon, Hollywood, where "Julius Caesar" is to be presented on the night of the 19th inst., is completed. It contains 12,000 square feet of space.

The first open-air rehearsal of the great spectacle will take place tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Temporary lighting has been provided, as the huge lights that will be used for the final production have not yet arrived from the East. The open-air rehearsal will proceed from now on without delay.

The rehearsals this evening will be for the mobs and dancing girls. Rehearsals for the battle scenes between legions of Brutus and Antony, which will be under direction of Capt. Ball, will take place later in the week. The first full cast rehearsal on the new stag will take place some time next week.

Sufficient automobiles to transport the hundreds of Romans to and from the rehearsals have been volunteered for service by the business men and students of Hollywood.

Wong Chung, a Chinese, gave United States Commissioner Hammack something to think about, yesterday, when he was arraigned before him on a charge of being illegally in this country. Wong claimed to be 30 years old, born and reared in California, yet he could not speak a word of English.

But the most remarkable part of Wong's story was his assertion that though he was born in San Francisco in 1886 his mother died in 1876. The commissioner gave the accused until the 13th inst., to figure out how this could be.

COLUMBUS GETS FRANCIS

Board of Education Elects Head of Los Angeles Schools to Similar Position There for Five Years—Duties Begin Next September.

J. H. Francis, superintendent of the Los Angeles public schools, was notified yesterday that he was elected superintendent of the city schools of Columbus, O., at a meeting of the Board of Education in that city Tuesday. He was elected for five years at a salary of $6500 a year, and will begin work in his new position next September.

Mr. Francis said last night that he had made no definite plans for his departure for the East and stated he had not decided upon a date for the presentation of his formal resignation to the local Board of Education.

"I do not know when I shall tender my resignation, and I have no idea of the name of my successor," Mr. Francis said. "The withholding of my resignation, however, should not interfere with the appointment of a new superintendent of the Los Angeles schools."

COULTER'S—215-229 South Broadway 224-228 South Hill Street—COULTER'S

SOCIETY.

At her home, No. 1340 Crown Hill avenue, Mrs. William H. Bonsall will give a garden party between the hours of 4 and 6 tomorrow afternoon, about one hundred guests having been bidden.

Tea is to be served on the lawn, with the table ideally placed beneath the shade of a maple tree, and pouring will be a number of prominent society ladies, augmented by a bevy of pretty girls in summery frocks assisting. A large number will also assist the hostess, who is to receive with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest G. Hamilton, who has but recently come to make her home in Los Angeles, after a residence in the northern part of the State—in Hamilton, a town named for her husband. It will offer a delightful opportunity to the many friends of this charming woman to extend a personal welcome.

Later on, Mrs. Bonsall is to give a second function, also in the nature of an outdoor fete, which at this time of the year is especially the correct mode of dispensing hospitality to one's friends, for California was never lovelier than now in its riot of flowers and greenery.

To Meet Miss del Valle.

Cleverly etched and particularly handsome are the invitations which have just been issued by Frank Nelson Rust, for 3 o'clock on Sunday, the 14th, at Casa de Caza, No. 6026 Hayes avenue, to meet Miss Lucretia del Valle, of whom the Southland is proud. This talented girl is leaving this fall for an absence of at least two years, and prior to her departure many smart affairs will be showered upon her in farewell.

Many to Assist.

For the reception which Mrs. James Tabor Fitzgerald, Mrs. John Bannister and Mrs. Maude L. Baldwin are giving this afternoon at the palatial Fitzgerald home on Western avenue, just off of West Adams, a large number of ladies will assist as parlor hostesses. The personnel will number Mrs. George P. Thresher, Mrs. Horace Miller, Mrs. John Newton Russell, Mrs. Harry T. Coffin, Mrs. C. T. Valliet, Mrs. George Ellis, Mrs. Guy Cuzner, Mrs. Roland Paul, Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, Mrs. Howard Schoder, Mrs. Lester U. Satterlee, Mrs. Harmon D. Ayus, Miss Bessie Bedell, Miss Dora Collins, Miss Madeline Souder, Miss Edna Miles, Miss Marguerite Burns, Miss Dorothea Whitnah, Miss Florence Gates and Miss Agnes Britt.

Spanish dancing girls and singers will entertain in the garden, while indoors, music with Miss Farner, the principal artist, assisted by Miss Chapin, violinist, accompanied by Miss Aileen Northup; Miss Corson in songs, and Roland Paul and Miss Farner in duets, will add to the afternoon's pleasure.

It will be one of the largest of the spring functions, the men having been asked, as well as the gentler sex to the number of several hundred. The hours will be from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Here to Reside.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore and daughter, Miss Marion, are recent acquisitions to Los Angeles, having arrived a few days ago, from their former home in Salt Lake to establish a residence in this city. For the present they are at the Prince Rupert.

Kneale-Sachs Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Kneale, No. 812 East Forty-second street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding last evening when their daughter, Ruth Downing, became the bride of Dr. Adolph Sachs of Omaha. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by Rev. Scott Anderson.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory armeuse satin, and was attended by her sister, Miss Norma, as maid of honor, who wore a white embroidered gown with rose trimming. The Misses Mabel and Grace, sisters of the bride, attended as bridesmaids. Miss Mabel's gown was of white embroidery with trimmings of king's blue satin. Miss Grace's gown was pale green crepe de chene, with rosebud trimmings. Mrs. Kneale wore a gown of black satin charmeuse.

The couple left for the Grand Canyon immediately, and after an extensive wedding journey through the Northern States, will make their home in Omaha, where the groom is a prominent physician and surgeon.

Surprise Party.

An enjoyable birthday party was given last Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Wiley W. Childs at their home, No. 238 West Forty-seventh street, as a surprise in honor of their daughter, Leonara M. Babe. Streamers and bouquets of pink and white roses, ferns, lilies and potted plants were used for decorations. The large white birthday cake, with its pink candles and roses, was set in a ring of white roses. Pink and white refreshments were served and the evening was passed with music, dancing and games. Beautiful and numerous gifts were received from the many admiring friends of the young lady.

Church Wedding.

The Church of Our Lady of Loretto, on Union avenue, was the scene of an exquisite wedding last Wednesday, when Miss Mary Hazel Schambeck and Milo Boock were married. Miss Willia Schambeck was bridesmaid and Charles Boock assisted his brother as best man. Dainty little Helene Connelly was ring bearer. A wedding breakfast was served the bridal party and immediate family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Connelly, No. 130 North Coronado street. Mr. and Mrs. Boock left the same afternoon for a wedding trip to San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, and on their return, June 1, will be at home to their friends at No. 1810 Roosevelt avenue.

Graduation Exercises.

A delightful affair will be the reception and dance to be given the members of the graduating class of 1916 of the Hospital of the Good Samaritan, by the board of directors, at the Friday Morning Clubhouse, Monday evening, the 15th inst., at 8 o'clock. The members of the class are: Florence B. Knight, Elsie Mills, Dorcas Churchill Avery, Fannie Cole Clause, Hilda Louise Marshall, Claire Ada Downing, M. Esther Kuns, Ebba Elizabeth Klarquist, Jean Rogerson, Lucia Mary Jones, Margaret Loveday Truscott, Nettie Evelyn Bentley, Cassis Capper, Catherine Anna Epp, Ethel E. Cutler, Sara Imogene Shamp, Marguerite Kockerston, Fern Esther Wicks and Ingenora Engh.

Children's Day.

Saturday will be children's day at the Midwick Country Club. The little hostesses have already issued a number of invitations to their supper parties, which are to be preceded by the flying of kites, putting, see-saw, ring tossing, rolling hoops, a potato race and various other thrilling diversions.

A partial list of committee includes: Maypole—Mrs. Rufus P. Spalding, Mrs. Michael J. Connell and Mrs. Todd Ford, assisted by Miss Ann Peterson, Miss Theodore Robbins and Miss Phila Miller; refreshments and decorations—Mrs. Freeman Ford, Mrs. Edward M. Fowler and Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, Jr.; pictures—Mrs. Earle C. Anthony, Mrs. H. Langdon Laws and Mrs. R. A. Rowan; dancing and music—Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow and Mrs. Sydney I. Wailes, assisted by Mrs. Morgan Adams and Mrs. Nutting Wigton; games—Mrs. William A. Brackenridge, Mrs. Elmer R. Williams, Mrs. Lawrence R. Burck, Mrs. Samuel Cupples Pierce, Mrs. Dr. Dudley Fulton, Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Mrs. William A. Clark and Mrs. Harold Cook, assisted by Miss Sherk, Miss Dorothy Bailey and the Misses Brackenridge.

While the children enjoy their party, a special committee, headed by Mrs. William May Garland, Mrs. A. L. Chaney and Mrs. Frank L. Carpenter, will have charge of the arrangements for a juvenile tennis tournament. The tournament will be played on the Midwick courts for silver club cups. After the juvenile players complete their racquet and ball exercises a party supper will be served at the clubhouse at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Adolph Sachs,

A bride of last night, who was formerly Miss Ruth Downing of this city. She will reside in Omaha.

Universal.

BIBLE DAY CELEBRATION

Special Services to be Held Throughout the World Next Sunday, and Great Mass Meeting is Planned Here for Institute Auditorium.

Next Sunday is to be recognized throughout the United States and the civilized world as "universal Bible day." Special services will be held in practically all religious organizations, celebrating the centennial of the founding of the American Bible Society. Sermons, addresses and programmes will be given in the churches, Sunday-schools, young people's societies and brotherhoods, presenting the character, influence and achievements of the Bible and the life and service of the Bible Society, during the 100 years of its existence.

Aside from the church services arrangements have been made through the local Bible Society auxiliaries for mass meetings on Sunday afternoon in nearly all the principal cities of the Union. These are to find their culmination in the great national celebration to be held in Washington, D. C. on May 8, at which time President Wilson is to make the address. Representatives of all the auxiliaries throughout the country are expected to be present.

Not only will ministers of Los Angeles recognize the day by fitting services, but through the Bible Cause Committee of the Los Angeles Church Federation, arrangements have been completed for a mass meeting to be held in the Bible Institute auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All religious organizations are invited to participate. Dr. James A. Francis of the First Baptist Church will deliver the principal address.

DRAMA.

Mixed Bill.

SHAKESPEARE SCENES.

TYRONE POWER GIVES RICHLY SIMPLE PRODUCTIONS.

By Edwin Schallert.

It was a well tuned harmony of richness in simplicity that Tyrone Power brought to bear upon the imaginations of his audience in the atmosphere of his scenes from Shakespeare last night at the Mason. It was a harmony whose permeating influence sprung from the stealthy monotones of impressionistically exquisite settings, something after the style of Granville Barker, and the soft cadence of azure-like verse, and that blased forth in the vibrant vital tones of Power himself.

The pity is that this harmony could not have been welded into one perfect and homogeneous whole by following the melodic line of the plot of a complete drama, instead of resting on three fragments from the works of the master poet and playwright. Barring this drawback which ever exists in the case of a mixed bill, and which to a great extent was overcome by the manner of the interpretation, there is little doubt that the offering as far as the adequacy and worth of its interpreters and the method of presentation of the individual scenec is concerned, ranks among the best in Shakespeare we have had in this city.

The Othello death scene, the final offering of the bill, probably stood out more vividly than the others by the force of its action. It became a work of beauty and tragic in the hands of Mr. Power and Sarah Truax and Mrs. Power, the former as Emilia and the latter as Desdemona, despite the deadly atmosphere of unmitigated gloom that pervades it. Not absolutely flawless it was perhaps, but of compelling tragical strength.

Mrs. Power gave a charmingly artistic reading of her lines in the role of Portia in the Garden Scene from "Julius Caesar," and Sarah Truax showed her convincing worth in the severe outlines of the role of Lady Macbeth. Her Emilia in "Othello" was beautifully conceived.

Sight-seeing.

MOVIE PLAYERS TO HAVE DAY AT FAIR.

WILL SHOW CROWD HOW FILM DRAMA IS MADE.

Special Train to Carry Members of Twenty-six Companies of Southland to San Diego for Week-end of Entertainment and Outing.

Next Sunday will be "Photoplayers' Day" at the San Diego exposition, and co-operation of all the leading players in the twenty-six motion-picture companies operating in Southern California is assured. Hobart Bosworth is to be director-general for the day. Under his supervision the programme is now being arranged.

Miss Ruth Rowland, the Balboa star, is to sing from the rotunda of the world's greatest organ. Miss Myrtle Stedman of the Morosco studio is to give several popular songs.

In the morning a setting of four rooms will be built, in full view of the crowd, and four directors from various studios will direct the scenes and enact them before the public with actors and actresses from various companies. Comedy companies will present their acts in the open. One feature will be the working of the audience into the films.

Several of the foreign governments will entertain the players with receptions. On Saturday night the photoplayers' ball will be given at the Cafe Cristobal. A special train will leave the Santa Fe station at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will leave San Diego on the return trip at 6:10 o'clock Sunday evening, arriving here at 10:30. More than 150 photoplayers will go on this trip.

SHOW WORLD IN REVIEW.

The big Passing Show of 1915 will be the attraction at the Mason next week. A feature of this production is the travesties on various dramatic successes of the past season, including "Twin Beds," "Under Cover," "Trilby" and others. A host of popular entertainers are in the company, including Willie and Eugene Howard, Marilynn Miller, Daphne Pollard, Edmund Goulding, Margaret Warde, Arthur Hill and many others.

Burbank.

The Burbank appears to have come back into its own with the re-opening Monday night, "The Lion and the Mouse" being the offering. Good-sized audiences are proving the renewed popularity of the old house.

Forrest Stanley, Winifred Bryson, Harry Mestayer, Warner Baxter, John Burton, Ralph Bell and Grace Benham, as well as the others of the cast, are winning honors in the famous play.

"Raffles" will be the offering next week, with Marjorie Davis, the talented Chicago girl, in the leading role.

Morosco.

"The Brat," with Maude Fulton in the leading role, is still packing them in at the Morosco. The last act has been rewritten, and as this was considered the only weak spot in the play, at the time of its first presentation, it is now practically in the shape in which it will be sent to New York. Maude Fulton, Edmund Lowe, James Corrigan, Grace Travers and the others of the cast are daily adding much to the success of the play.

Orpheum.

Calve, the world's greatest "Carmen," and one of her greatest prima donnas, and her husband, the noted singer, Sig. Gasparri, will top-line the Orpheum's new bill opening Monday. Calve is said to be in her supreme heights now, and it is asserted that never were her golden tones so strong and sweet. She will be heard in the "Habanera," from "Carmen," among other solo numbers, while her husband will join her in the famous Faust duo.

Other attractions on the bill will be a new Edward Su Hussley play, with Fay Wallace and Regan Hughston: "The Girl in the Moon," a novelty; Mason and Murray, in a patter act; the Two Tomboys, and the holdovers, including Pietro, the accordionist; Willard Simms and company in "Flinders' Furnished Flat," and Benny and Woods.

Hippodrome.

The Casting Lamys, four of the most daredevil gymnasts who ever defied death on the stage and in the ring, headline the new Hippodrome bill to open Monday afternoon.

Others will be the Seven Castellucis, in a comedy musical offering; John Riggins, champion jumper of the world; Adams brothers, comedians, dancers and singers; Soana, in a protean divertissement, "Great Men, Past and Present;" Marie Stoddard, character comedienne, and Manders and Millis in "A Little Idea of Their Own."

Pantages.

Manager Walker announces that owing to the increased length of the Pantages programmes performances will henceforth begin at 7 and 9 o'clock instead of a quarter after these hours, as heretofore. Next week's programme is even longer than usual, having eight vaudeville numbers and two reels of pictures.

The "Secret of the Submarine" is the name of the new picture serial to be inaugurated next week.

The vaudeville programme is headed by a musical fantasy, "The Dream Pirates." Little Lord Robert, the tiniest comedian, is also listed. Volant and his flying piano, and Nan Gray, the Scotch singer and dancer, will be added attractions. Byal and Early, dancers; the Rials, acrobats and jugglers, and the Jack Henderson trio complete the regular list. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher in "The Half-way House" are a special feature.

Republic.

Texico and company, presenting spectacular solo, descriptive and pantomime dancing are the much-applauded headliners at the Republic Theater this week. Jennie Osborne and her collection of wonderfully trained dogs are also meeting with the approval of the audiences.

Henry Walthall and Lillian Gish are starred in "The Floor Above," a D. W. Griffith production, which is the feature film offering of the week.

The Guistat Duo, Italian street singers and accordeonists, the Allen Trio, "singers, who really sing;" Nolan and Nolan, comedy and novelty jugglers, and Winifred Tirrell, a singing commedienne, complete the bill.

Clune's Auditorium.

"The Birth of a Nation" continues to draw well at Clune's Auditorium.

Next week, beginning Monday, "The Ne'er-Do-Well," one of the most successful and artistic pictures ever produced, directed by Colin Campbell of "The Spoilers" fame, will be the attraction, having been secured for another showing. The photoplay is a picturization of the well-known Rex Beach novel of the same name. Kathlyn Williams and Wheeler Oatman have the leading roles.

Superba.

Jack Barrymore, the famous comedian, in a picturization of "The Red Widow," is drawing good houses at the Superba this week.

Pauline Frederick in "The Never, Never Land," appears next week, the photoplay being a screen version of Israel Zangwill's striking drama, "The Moment Before."

Tally's Broadway.

Anna Pavlowa, the famous dancer, in the only picture play in which she has ever appeared, viz., "The Dumb Girl of Portici," will be the attraction at Tally's Broadway next week, commencing Monday. It is said to be one of the most beautiful and artistic pictures ever shown, having been directed by Lois Weber, producer of "Hypocrites."

Palace.

Mary Pickford in "Poor Little Peppina" is drawing well at the Palace. In this photoplay, little Mary is seen first as a working girl in Sicilian vineyards. She runs away to America, where she has many exciting adventures.

"Ben Blair," a strong western drama featuring Dustin Farnum, will be the attraction next week.

Symphony.

Mme. Olga Petrova, in "Playing with Fire," is pleasing the crowds at the Symphony this week.

Next week those film favorites, May Allison and Harold Lockwood, in "The Come Back," will be featured.

Clune's Broadway.

"The Flames of Johannis," from Sudermann's celebrated drama, with Nance O'Neil in a dual role, is the drawing card at Clune's Broadway this week.

Majestic.

"Civilization," Thomas H. Ince's cinema spectacle, continues to draw heavily at the Majestic. It appears to have settled down for an indefinite run. The music is an impressive part of the production.

Woodley.

Marguerite Clark in "Mollie-Make-Believe" is charming large crowds at the Woodley this week.

Next week the picture will be Marie Doro in "The Heart of Norah Flynn," the first in which Miss Doro has appeared for the Lasky company.

Miller's.

Virginia Pearson in "Blazing Love," is the offering which is packing Miller's this week.

Next week the offering will be Theda Bara in her latest Fox triumph, "The Eternal Sappho."

Alhambra.

Crane Wilbur in "The Love Liar" is scoring heavily at the Alhambra this week. This is the best role in which Mr. Wilbur ever appeared.

Next week, "Blue Blood and Red" will be the offering. This is a comedy of western life.

Garrick.

The crowds that are attending the Garrick Theater this week are getting an idea of what actual warfare is like, when they view the five-reel production "Somewhere in France." This film is not composed of "movie battles," but real scenes from the European war, taken in the trenches and on the battle lines on the Belgian, French and German fronts, and shows modern fighting in graphic detail.

The greatest fighting men that Europe has ever known, the Kaiser of Germany, the President of France, the Czar of Russia, and all the nobility of the warring nations are revealed at the front directing the movements of their respective troops.

To Test Acoustics.

Eddie Out Among 'em.

Edmund Lowe, the boy beautiful of the Morosco Theater Company, without any make-up except his new canary-colored shirt, is to sell tickets today for prizes at the Belgian Relief Committee's rooms on South Broadway. He plays a matinee, but will endeavor to make a ticket-selling record between 12 o'clock and 2.

Grace's Double Life.

Grace Benham is a very busy girl these days. Besides playing at the Burbank in "The Lion and the Mouse" she is also appearing across the street at the Optic in the photoplay, "The Flirt."

Change in Management.

The Garrick Theater has been taken over by a new management, Sunday, May 14, first run pictures, the best in the market, are promised. The new owners have secured exclusive rights to the series of Chaplin Mutual specials, featuring Charlie Chaplin in his productions. In addition to these the programme will contain each week a five-reel Mutual masterpiece. The features announced for the opening week are Charlie Chaplin in "The Floorwalker" and Marguerite Courtot in a beautiful picturization of Nathaniel Hawthorne's poem, "Feathertop."

Sport Note.

Gertrude Vanderbilt, at the Orpheum, gets a vacation next week and will spend it at the Tia Juana races. She declares she never misses a chance to bet—if there's nothing else to bet on, two lumps of sugar and a fly will do.

Maybe.

Rumor hath it strongly that Grace Cunard and Francis Ford are to rejoin the Universal in New York, to continue work on "Peg o' the Ring," the big U picture featuring Ruth Stonehouse.

Oracle Stuff.

William de Mille uttered a prophecy in my hearing two years ago, when he first came to Los Angeles, that in two years' time the picture makers would be up against it for story material. The prophecy has come true, and Mr. De Mille said yesterday:

"The thing which this studio is struggling for at present, and the thing which all the studios are struggling for is good stories. We have used up our stage plays, and our screen play writers are not yet fully trained. A new race of writers will arise, trained to the needs of the screen, and prices will be such as to induce the best brains to enter the field."

Just Seems Long.

Forrest Stanley plays the part of a white-haired captain of finance in "The Lion and the Mouse," at the Burbank, this week. This is his first appearance since going into photoplay work a year ago. One of Stan's admirers sat behind me at the show, last Monday night:

"My gawd," she whispered to her companion, pointing to Stanley's white wig, "my gawd, ain't the pictures aged him!"

George's Yearnings.

George Moore, at the Orpheum, yearns to be a playwright. In fact he has a little young play in his trunk right now. He is learning technique out of a book, entitled "Fifty Hints to Playwrights." His play would appear to contain a really big idea, but he wants to do it according to Marquis of Queensberry rules. Moore should attend a rehearsal of a new Morosco play, and see what Manager Morosco, Jose Montrose, Bert Wesner and all the friends and relatives of an author do to a play.

She Doesn't Speak.

"The Dumb Girl of Portici," in which Anna Pavlowa, the famous dancer, is starred, is to be shown at Tally's Broadway next week, but at no advance of regular prices.

Big Money.

REQUA OPTION SECRET PACT.

At Witness Relates History of Alleged Plot.

Tells of Efforts to Protect Stockholders.

The examination of John Garrigues, leader of the faction opposed to the alleged Stewart family control of Union Oil stock, was confined largely, before Judge Myers yesterday, to the history of the Mark Requa option. The testimony was given in the suit of Mr. Garrigues and others to dissolve the United Petroleum and the Union Provident, holding companies of the Union Oil.

Mr. Garrigues claimed that the crowd back of the Requa option included Hallgarten & Co., Salomon & Sons, Mark Requa, Andrew Weir, W. L. Stewart, E. L. Doheny and Thomas O'Donnell. The general plan seemed to be to consolidate with the Union Oil, undercapitalized, various other corporations, overcapitalized.

Mr. Garrigues said that in a conversation with the Stewarts over this option he was told that Mr. Requa and his crowd had offered $95 a share for the stock. He said he replied that it would be a physical impossibility for the "crowd" to dig up $95 a share cash for all of the Union, United Petroleum and Union Provident stockholders on a proposition like that.

NO FAITH IN "CROWD."

"Lyman Stewart said he understood that the Kuhn-Loeb Co. was behind the deal. I said if they were I would suggest that we jump at it quick, but I know the whole crowd and they cannot raise the money," testified Mr. Garrigues.

"It was decided that night that no offer would be considered if it did not include all stockholders, the three companies, and no one less 51 per cent. of the stock consented. The next morning Mr. Blackstone called on me, asked the Lord's blessing on it, said: 'Good morning, Brother Garrigues, I have something on my mind.' I told him to shoot and said the option had been signed.

BLESING ENOUGH.

"I asked him 'How in the name of the Lord did you do that?' He criticised me for my language. I told him I had been promised a deal would be made at any price unless it had the consent of 51 per cent. of the stockholders. He said that Mr. Requa informed him that he could not make the deal that way, and we signed the option. I went home and prayed over the matter, he continued. 'I now have the Lord's approval and I want yours.' I told him, 'If you have the Lord's approval, you don't want mine.'

Milton Stewart, the brother of Lyman Stewart, who resides at Norristville, Pa., was called. He has been visiting in this city and stayed here for the trial. With other members of the Stewart family, he is charged with conspiracy. Mr. Stewart is 70 years old, and like Lyman Stewart is an experienced oil man.

He declared he had gone to other organizations to secure for them an advantage over other stockholders. His information as to the organization of the United Petroleum was merely hearsay, but it was his understanding that that company was organized for the benefit of the Union Oil Company. His interest in the Union Oil was confined principally to field work, and he had only come to Los Angeles once or twice to discuss this work.

Seal Steak.

[London Chronicle:] In the arctic there is not the immense variety of game which is to be found in North Polar regions, but on the other hand it is very abundant and can be turned into food with the smallest exertion. The Weddell seal, which sometimes weighs as much as half a ton, allows itself to be approached and cut up with placid equanimity, natural enemies are in the main absent, and for long generations it has been accustomed to bask in the sun undisturbed. Seal steak is an acquired taste, but when acquired one will prefer it to tinned provisions. There is a common assumption that the flesh tastes of train oil. This is a mistake; the flesh is self coloured and fat, but it is extremely rich and delicate, and in taste suggests the delicacy known as black pudding.

CARDINALS TURN DOWN AMERICAN FOOTBALL.

Murry, Norton and Carroll Make Firey Speeches in Favor of the English Pastime—Faculty Comes Out Strong Against Proposed Change—Resolution to Play with Santa Clara is also Rejected.

PALO ALTO, May 3.—American football was turned down today by Stanford students after a hotly-contested campaign by forty-nine men, thereby postponing for at least one year all chances of a big game with California. The balloting showed 441 votes for Rugby against 367 for the old game.

However, the resolution presented by the Advisory Committee in favor of a two-year agreement with Santa Clara in Rugby was also rejected by 16 votes, placing Stanford in a peculiar position. With a student body divided on the football question and no possibility of meeting California in this sport, there can be nothing more than a makeshift Rugby game with Santa Clara next fall.

BITTER ELECTION.

The election was one of the most bitterly contested in the history of the institution. It had been preceded by an afternoon of argument on Monday, during which the leading students and representatives of the faculty and alumni presented their views.

The preliminary assembly clearly brought out the fact that the issue was considerably clouded by traditional feelings of pride and rivalry with California. Had not the Cardinals feared that a change to the American game would be construed as "giving in" to their old enemies, there would have been a better chance for a change.

The faculty was very strongly against a switch back to the old game. Resolutions were presented by Prof. A. T. Murray, who represented the athletic advisory board. They were as follows:

(1) That Stanford continue to play Rugby.

(2) That an agreement of at least two years be made with Santa Clara.

(3) That California be invited to play a game of Rugby at such a time as might be convenient to them, even if it be "by moonlight on top the Campanile," as one speaker expressed it.

JORDAN FAVORS RUGBY.

Chancellor Jordan gave a short talk, asking that these resolutions be carried out in order to maintain the ideals and honor of the institution. Among the orators in the heated debate were Murray and Horton, hurdlers of national reputation, and Danny Carroll of the Rugby fifteen, all speaking for the retention of the present system.

One assertion of Prof. Murray appeared to be significant, since he represented the faculty and President Wilbur: "The adoption of a game requiring highly-paid coaches and the development of a machine will never come to Stanford to stay."

This left it doubtful as to whether President Wilbur would or would not exercise his veto power in case the voting had gone in favor of American football.

One run and a sob—here they are.

This was all Vernon got yesterday in the opening game of the Tiger-Salt Lake series. Don Rader is shown skidding over the platter in the ninth inning with Vernon's only run. He scored from first, after singling, on a double by Risberg.

Dropping.

SALT LAKE BEES BEAT THE TIGERS.

VERNONITES ONLY MANAGE TO CHALK UP ONE RUN.

This Sad Defeat Places the Tigers in Third-place Position—Rath, Brief and Ryan Place the Skids Under the Aspiring Vernon Aggregation.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

All that Vernon got out of yesterday's overdue opener was one run and a sob. Had it been possible to make the sob count the same as a tally it would have been a tied score. As this was impossible, sobs having no standing in baseball, Salt Lake salted the game away, 2 to 1. That isn't a joke. It is merely a pun.

FIRST APPEARANCE.

This was the first appearance here of the Bees, and quite a few were out to see whether they could still throw the same old harpoon in the same old way. They returned home with their worst suspicions confirmed. While the Bees didn't break down any of our well-known fences, Jack Quinn never standing for anything like that, they demonstrated that they have not lost the ability to hit the pill when hits are symbolical of runs.

Salt Lake's victory dropped Vernon into third place and characterizes the visitors as positively brutal. Plainly, Blankenship and his men were peeved as a result of having been compelled to remain dormant Tuesday. Thus the scenery continues to shift. San Francisco, so recently floundering in the mire of fifth place, eased into the runner-up position, while Los Angeles increased its lead over Vernon to three and a half games. In a race of this closeness there is never any telling what a day may hatch in the way of surprises and shifts in the standing.

PLACING THE SKIDS.

Those low-browed gentlemen, Morris Rath, Bunny Brief and Buddy Ryan, placed the skids under Vernon. Rath paved the way to the first run with a hit in the opening round, while Brief and Ryan drove in both of Salt Lake's scores with well-placed hits.

When Buddy had his appendix pruned from the parent stem last winter it was feared that he might never hit a baseball again. Perish the thought. Buddy hit twice yesterday with all the vigor of an athlete who still retains his appendix, and one of his blows took deadly effect, counting, as it did, for the winning run. It is Blankenship's expert opinion that Ryan is even better than before he was separated from his appendix. "He shows more life and displays more speed," says Blank.

Thus is an avenue opened to profitable reflection and a few surgical operations, which are also profitable. An X-ray examination of tail-end teams would probably show that they are in last place because the players are weighted down with their appendixes. Losing teams do not necessarily need more pitching or hitting, but a reduction in the number of appendixes on the pay roll. Why lug eighteen appendixes, that being the maximum number now allowed by the league, around the circuit week after week, when they are merely a detriment to the game? When it comes to playing ball give us the appendixless team every day in the week and twice on Sundays. Had Dad Meek only known of this he might have been another Ty Cobb.

PITCHING BATTLE.

The game ran largely to pitching between Paul Fittery and Jack Quinn. Too much so for the general health of the batting averages. But for a low throw by Don Rader in the sixth, when the Bees accumulated the winning run, Fittery and Quinn might not have been able to settle their argument prior to the evening feed.

STANTON NAMED AS COACH AT OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE.

Former Pomona Man Chosen Athletic Director, will also be Instructor in English and Boss of Dramatics—Has Some Job as Successor to Pipal but will Undoubtedly Get Away with It.

WILLIAM L. STANTON will coach Occidental's athletic teams, commencing with September, 1916.

The next announcements that we will expect are that Woodrow Wilson is running for President on the Republican ticket and San Pedro has gone dry.

With the resignation of Joseph A. Pipal after five years of success at Occidental, what is more fitting than the selection of Stanton, his greatest rival, to succeed him?

President John Willis Baer of Occidental made the announcement last night that the board of trustees yesterday afternoon had chosen Mr. Stanton as athletic director and instructor in English. He will have Mr. Pipal's place on the faculty and will also coach dramatics.

Coach Stanton was engaged last night in rehearsing a play at Claremont High School when he was reached over the long-distance 'phone and had the news broken to him in the gentle manner for which sporting reporters are noted.

"This is news to me," he said, "and I certainly am glad to near it. With the new buildings, new athletic field and many other things to help, there will be a wonderful opportunity at Occidental and I am going to do my best to take advantage of it."

Just as the announcement of the return of Dean Cromwell to the University of Southern California produced a sudden thrill, which soon gave way to the realization that he

RIVERSIDE POLO SHARKS WIN OUT.

ANNEX THIRD SET OF CUPS IN THE TOURNAMENT.

San Mateo Defeated in Finals of Novice Championships—Thirteen Goals Run up by Riverside Stars While Northern Men are Stacking Away Four.

HILLSBOROUGH (Cal.) May 3.—The crack Riverside polists carried off their third set of cups today by outclassing San Mateo in the finals of the novice championship. The match concluded the annual tournament of the San Mateo Polo Club.

The Riverside novice four fell on the San Mateo polists like an avalanche and ran up thirteen goals while San Mateo scored only four times. For the first two chukhurs San Mateo looked like a contender, but after that the visitors let their ponies out and the game only became a question of how often Riverside would charge through the San Mateo indifferent defense. Nothing could stop the dashing southerners in the six and seventh, when they whipped over eight goals.

PEDLEY SHINES.

Lionel Pedley, another Stanford youth, made his debut this afternoon and he soon proved to be of the same timber as his younger brother, Eric, whose playing was the sensation of the tournament. Always sure of his strokes, he would dash on the ball and lift it through the air for long gains. He showed he also had an eye for goal shots by making eight scores.

The fourth was San Mateo's only period. Encouraged by Tevis's goal late in the third, San Mateo came back riding strong. Cameron cut the ball to Tevis, who sent it through, and later in the chukhur Tevis scored again on a pass from Hayne. San Mateo's only other score was made in the seventh, when Spilvalo got into one of Riverside's plays, took the ball away from them and ran it through the goal.

HOOKS BROADBILL; BARRACUDA HUNGRY.

Fishing about Catalina is improving as the weather warms, and not all the anglers are devoting their spare time to trout.

Some swordfish of the hard-fighting "broad-billed" species, have been on the feed of late, and Friday, A. C. Coy of Chicago hooked up with one, which he was in a fair way to whip until after forty minutes of the usual rough-and-tumble, the leader broke—probably thrown into a kink by the whirlwind tactics of the fish.

William and Dustin Farnum the film people, are fishing at the island.

Dr. Sawyer of New York, fishing with a sled off abeam of the boat in the modern manner of carrying the bait clear of the wake in untroubled water and bearing it dapping the surface in imitation of a frantic flying fish, was successful in interesting a 26-pound yellowtail Friday, which he landed after the customary pleasurable work.

Capt. K. S. Walker reports that many parties are enjoying the fine weather and the uncommonly good barracuda fishing in the quiet waters under the lee of the island.

Huh!

IS TENNIS TOO ROUGH, GIRLS?

City Authorities Place Ban on Racquet Sport.

Girls Barred from Interscholastic Competition.

New Law Causes Sensation Among All Tennis Fans.

BY WARDE FOWLER.

Knitting and tatting for the athletically-inclined girls from now on. Sewing, cooking and dish washing allowed when they feel especially boisterous. An exciting game of checkers now and then as a last resort.

Tennis and kindred games are entirely too rough and undignified, and are to be relegated to the ash heap forthwith.

Vice-Principal Clayton of Manual Arts High School, chairman of the Interscholastic Tennis Committee, made this announcement yesterday. The women vice-principals of the city high schools have taken this strenuous action and the undignified game of tennis is to be forever under the ban.

It seems that there has always been a rule barring girls from interscholastic competition. It is an old law, however, and has never been enforced as far as tennis is concerned. Football games, track meets, etc., have felt the force of the rule, and the girls have never made any very energetic efforts to be allowed to indulge in these sports.

Now, however, comes a new interpretation, and tennis is dragged into the mix-up. No girl from the city high schools will be permitted to compete in the Southern California interscholastic tennis tournament next Saturday unless something happens between now and then. The sport, which has always been equally popular with men and women, has been declared unsuitable for the feminine enthusiasts of the local prep schools.

The powers that be admit that the game would not be so objectionable if played before an audience composed entirely of gentle onlookers. But when a mixed crowd gazes admiringly on the sport, it is absolutely wrong.

Every girl tennis player in the city is figuring just how she can protest the loudest against this latest fad. Tennis as a sport for girls has become so firmly established here that the very idea of giving it up brings a feminine scream of rage from each and every player. If the gentle art of racquet-wielding is too undignified for the ladies to undertake, what's the world coming to; that's what all the players are demanding. "Why, it's simply terrible," gasped one young exponent of the pastime. "I never heard of such a thing and don't intend to pay any attention to it."

"Good lands!" said Miss Mary Browne, former national champion yesterday, "who would ever think of such a thing. The matter has never really entered my mind as a ry," says the baseball nine.

ALLYN BARBER, TENNIS LEADER.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) May 3.—Allyn H. Barber, of Los Angeles, was named captain today of the Stanford University tennis team. He succeeds Herbert L. Hahn of Pasadena.

possibility and I'm sure I don't know what to say about it."

This expresses the general consensus of opinion among the men, women and children of Southern California. The idea of taking tennis away from the girls and calling it an objectionable game is so new that it makes one gasp.

All over the civilized world tennis is recognized as an excellent athletic sport and has been played by both men and women. All athletic directors have been boosters for the sport and restricting the game to the masculine gender only has never been seriously considered.

The action of the local authorities has caused a tremendous sensation. There may be two sides to the question but the knockers of the proposed law have made much the loudest yell up to the present time. The tennis players affected, knock the plan, tennis authorities knock it, and disinterested spectators have taken up the hue and cry.

But the rule has been passed and is in effect. Girls will not play tennis Saturday. The drastic action has a few staunch backers who mean to carry it out to the bitter end. The final outcome is doubtful. However, if yells, screams, knocks and shrieks count for anything, girls will play tennis to the end of time.

DR. PECK CATCHES LARGEST TROUT.

What is reported to be the largest trout ever caught in Southern California was brought into the Cline-Cline Company yesterday by Dr. Peck. This beauty weighed nine pounds and twelve ounces, and measured thirty-six and one-half inches in length. The monster was captured after a terrific fight.

Lonnie Garwood also exhibited a trout which measured thirty inches and weighed seven pounds and nine ounces. Louis Kennedy captured the third best specimen, which was a twenty-seven inch, six-pound wonder. All these giants were taken in the Ventura River near the Casitas bridge.

SAD DIFICULTIES FOR FOOTBALLERS.

Spring football practice at L. A. High has been postponed indefinitely. When Coach Featherstone arrived on the field with a plow and team he found himself confronted by a dozen husky baseball players armed with stout bats. "Nothing doing with that farmyard stuff until the baseball season's over," was the unanimous verdict, and Featherstone retreated.

Featherstone hopes to get things started about the latter part of next week. His gridiron warriors are chewing their mustaches and stamping impatiently. "We should worry," says the baseball nine.

MANY ENTRIES IN GARDENA CLASSIC.

MAGEE HILL ENTERS CHEVROLET AT LAST MINUTE.

Several Cars Turn Out for Practice and Find Course in Very Good Condition—Six Machines Classified Places at the Tape on Account of Cubic Displacement.

With the entry of George Hill at the wheel of his Chevrolet in the Gardena road race, scheduled for next Saturday afternoon, there is to be a shift in the list of officials. Hill was to have served on the technical committee with Louis Nikrent, William H. Henry, William Neiman and Ben Ellis. The vacancy is to be filled by Harris Hanshue, former racing driver and present manager of the Apperson branch, who was appointed yesterday.

Several of the cars entered in the Gardena event were on the course for practice yesterday morning. The course is to be open for practice this morning from 6 to 7 o'clock, and practically the entire speed squad will be out.

Leigh Bacon with his Fiat is to be out for his first practice today. This little car is a newcomer in the 231 class in this section and much is expected of it in the race Saturday.

If the management of the race had not limited the entries to cars of 231 cubic inches piston displacement there would have been a field of more than twenty cars. The day before the entries closed six cars were refused on account of too much displacement. There were several drivers who wanted to get in the race with cars just a few inches over the 231 limit, and the officials had to make many explanations.

ANNUAL AFFAIR.

It was announced yesterday by C. L. Tilly, chairman of the Gardena Race Committee, and secretary of the Gardena Strawberry Day Association, that the race is to be an annual affair. It is the intention of the directors of the strawberry day celebration to make the Gardena road race for small cars a real "midget classic."

LAKE FISHING RECORD SPORT.

Opening Day Turnout Sadly Underestimated.

Fish and Game Commission Men Grab Offenders.

Water Low and Clear, Experts in Their Glory.

All estimates of the "opening day" turnout of anglers based upon the 9000 advance sale of angling licenses by the Fish and Game Commission fall far short of the facts. Reports as to the goodness or badness of the sport are colored by individual experience—or inexperience—but on one point they all agree. Nobody ever saw anything like it before.

When fishing interest rises to such a fever heat that several towns have "anglers' parades" in full streamside "regalia," one can readily believe that these parades were merely preliminaries to a real "big show" staged under the boundless "big top" of the Almighty in cerulean blue.

TOO MANY ANGLERS.

That the fishing suffered from the crowds goes without explanation. The wonder is not that many were disappointed, but that so many came home wholly satisfied with their day—or two, or three—living with nature as she meant man to live. Many who failed of limits had all the trout they could eat while away, and after all, that's the thing.

The sport in the mountain lakes was wonderful, fully up to all predicted for it; but, of course, the pitiful tragedy in Little Bear put a damper upon the holiday thereabouts. The accident happened right out in front of the boat landing where a great number saw it; the men went down in thirty feet of that icy light water and never rose; it was cold enough to cramp them instantly.

MANY LIMITS.

Of those who fished many took limits and the deputies weighed in one of twenty-nine inches length and eight and one-quarter pounds; another of five and one-half pounds. They were a fine lot of trout, and the upper lake provided quite as good fishing; few failed to get a fine mess, and none was disappointed who understood how to go about catching these big mountain lake "rainbows" and were equipped practically for the fishing. Next Sunday will be the big day and it is likely a thousand machines will be in Little Bear then, with from 3000 to 4000 anglers. The lake sport averaged so much better than that in the streams, as judged by the casual fisherman's luck, that the experts will have much less competition on the creeks this week-end than at its beginning. The roads will be beaten down and cut up somewhat in places, but the trip is comparatively easy and the rewards quite certain as compared with brook fishing.

EXPERTS DAY.

This was the expert's opening day on the streams; midsummer lowness and clarity of the water suggested flies and placed extra premium upon skillful display thereof, with many a crystal pool for the fanciest of methods. But the expert, too, is whipped by undue competition and on all the rivers he had it almost prohibitively. In the upper creeks, particularly those rising in the snows, the best fly fishing in years is now in swing; larger fish are to be had, and the rewards of hard work are both certain and good to look upon.

Close patrolling of the streams and lakes showed its effect in the arrest of three men in Little Bear Sunday by the Fish and Game Commission's division detailed there, the pressure of big fish in the stream being too much for the offenders to resist; so, not content with doing the thing at an illegal time, they also had to do it in an illegal way, namely, by shooting the fish through the head. When getting them out they were taken red-handed right in the act. Up Ventura way the commission's country deputy took a man fishing Sunday night right at Lacroix, near the Matilija junction, and bemoaned the fact that he could not get up after three more, owing to a clutch which chose the deep ford on the Ventura as the best place to slip and tie up further official action.

MATILIJA GOOD.

Limits were taken everywhere, with the best fish up the Matilija. The Devil's Gate was easily passable and parties journeying up six or eight miles found distance no bar to competition. The San Gabriel, of course, was fairly flailed to death. Yet many fish were taken everywhere. The best sport will be heard from when those going into the head waters report back at the week-end.

Fish and Game Commissioner Connell, Judge H. H. Rose and a few others fished the Malibu with excellent sport. The commissioner, as usual, relied entirely upon the fly and took a fine lot of eight, ten, and a few better-sized fish. Judge L. R. Myers, with only two hours' time on the upper Malibu, landed one twenty-two-inch steelhead and a nice mess of smaller fish. Judge John York for the first time in twenty-odd years missed the opening because of illness at home, but aside from that the "bench and bar" of Los Angeles county was well represented at "extra sessions" along the stream's side.

DICKINSON COLLEGE DEFEATS BUCKNELL.

CARLISLE (Pa.) May 3.—Dickinson College baseball club "came back" this afternoon and defeated the Bucknell nine, 1 to 0. The game was a pitchers' battle throughout with the odds in favor of the Red and White twirler. The contest was cleanly played with no errors on either side. Vaughn, the local moundsman, had the honor of pitching a no-hit, no-run game. This youngster is only a sophomore at Dickinson and has the making of a first-class slab artist.

The game was the annual straw-hat contest but a rain preceding the start caused the straws to be conspicuous for their absence.

The score:

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 3.—Additional mails bearing the date May 1 were received at the Indianapolis motor speedway today, bringing the number of entries for the international sweepstakes race to be held here the 30th of this month, up to a total of twenty-seven cars in all. Five nominations ruled as being eligible were in the day's list, and this will likely complete the field.

MYSTERIOUS CARS.

Three cars were entered from Hagerstown, Md., and are called Crawfords. Little is known of the race cars except that it is their first appearance as speed contenders. They are built by the Crawford Auto Company and were entered by Billy Chandler. They weigh 2290 pounds, have four-cylinder Duesenberg motors, 3 2-4 bore by 6 3-4 stroke, and 208 cubic inches piston displacement. Chandler expects to initiate these new speed contenders on the speedway at New York and then bring his crew to Indianapolis. Louis and Johnson are the drivers besides Chandler. Chandler appeared at Indianapolis in 1914 with the Braender Bulldog. He used to ride with Ralph Mulford.

BIG LEAGUE.

In the spring a millionaires' son's fancy turns to auto racing, at least the fancy of Grover Bergdoll has returned to the dangerous, but exhilarating sport. He sent in his entry for two cars today. He will drive one of his cars and the other is to be piloted by Eugene Stecher. Bergdoll has had the Erwin Motor Company at Philadelphia build him two Erwin specials, reputed to be real classy boats. They weigh 2300 pounds, have four-cylinder motors, 4-inch bore by 5 15-16 stroke, and a cubic inch piston displacement of 298.5. Harry Muller will ride as mechanician with Bergdoll, and Thomas E. Furrey will play second fiddle for Pilot Stecher in the second Philadelphia entry. These cars are to be shipped to Indianapolis at once for practice. Bergdoll appeared at Indianapolis last year at the wheel of a car named after him. He used to ride with Willie Haupt, the former Benz star.

T. E. Myers, general manager of the speedway, announced the speed elimination trials will be held May 26 and 27. This allows two days, May 28 and 29, for drivers to rest, or to work on their cars if any eleventh-hour repairs are needed.

FINE FISHING AT BIG BEAR LAKE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BIG BEAR VALLEY, May 2.—Fishing such as the sportsmen here have been enjoying since the opening of the season has never been surpassed. Everybody is getting the limit and doing it with four and five fish. It only takes two or three hours of knowing how to snag as many as the law will stand for, according to the experts.

Herbert Gowland, Frank Matthews, Orson Loimaugh and Harvey Phillips have gone out of the valley with one of the best catches of the season to their credit. Each had the limit, Loimaugh, Matthews and Phillips had five fish each and Gowland had five weighing about three pounds each, and two smaller ones.

Anglers' luck was shown in the fishing of Walter Alden and Guy Stone, who were on the lake all morning in a boat. They were using identically the same tackle, but were fishing from different sides of the boat. Alden caught the limit in just a short time, but Stone never got a bite.

BATHING BEAUTIES IN GIANT PARADE.

VENICE SUMMER SEASON TO OPEN WITH BIG EVENT.

Motion Picture Companies Enter Stars in Stylish Parade—Latest and Niftiest Costumes to be on Exhibition—Immense Crowd Expected for Opening Affair.

Next Sunday Venice will celebrate the opening of her summer season with a mammoth bathing-suit parade. Five hundred beach beauties attired in the latest 1916 bathing styles will parade on the Ocean Front Broadwalk and the Windward-avenue Pier. Fifty new Overland automobiles will carry the paraders while several prominent Los Angeles newspapermen with the Venice officials will award the $300 in cash prizes to the contestants.

The different motion-picture companies have entered some of their prettiest girls and some wonderful creations will be seen in the line of march. Thomas Ince is entering his famous Civilization Girl, while the Horsley studios will present Margaret Gibson and Claire Alexander. The biggest crowd in the history of the beach is expected and indications point to a wonderful parade, which starts promptly from Brooks avenue at 1:30 p.m.

In the evening dare-devil Tex la Grone will present his daring night aerial flight in a magnificent display of fireworks. Afternoon and evening concerts by the Venice Band with Constance Balfour as soloist will more than make Venice the Mecca for the amusement seeker.

SEALS HIT HARD AND BEAT OAKS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—San Francisco defeated Oakland today 3 to 8 in a game that was characterized by heavy hitting on both sides. Four home runs attest to the vigor of the stick work. The Seals used three pitchers and the Oaks two. The score:

LARGE CROWDS FOR GOLF MEET.

Supplementary Event to Bring Out Class.

Virginia Team Loses to Orange Aggregation.

Goodhue Defeated with Ease by F. B. Browning.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The supplementary event to the Southern California championship will take place at the Midwick Country Club next Saturday afternoon.

It takes the form of eighteen-hole medal play handicap, with a best gross prize and four handicap prizes.

It may be played in twosomes or foursomes, according to taste.

There is likely to be a large entry, although Midwick is not quite sure that she dotes on crowds. After her last multitudinous invitation tournament, when she beat all records for entries, including Del Monte, there was some talk among her exclusives about the superfluity of entertaining so many—er—well, merely so-so, you know.

That, however, is probably not the attitude of the club as a club, but of a small handful of her more royalist members. Midwick would not really be more happy if her invitations were not accepted.

THE TEAM MATCH.

The Virginia team went to Orange county for its league match yesterday and won the scratch 3 points to 2, but lost the handicap 3 points to 2.

The Virginia team included A. M. Goodhue, A. C. Sellery, W. W. Campbell, Dr. Foote and E. R. Gamble.

A. M. Goodhue was defeated by F. B. Browning on both counts, 5 and 4, and 6 and 4. Dr. Sellery won the scratch from C. G. Twist 1 up, but was beaten on handicap 3 and 2.

W. W. Campbell won from E. B. Stanley on both counts, 6 and 4, and 2 up. Dr. Foote won from A. C. Twist on both counts, 6 and 4 and 1 up. Lee Collins defeated E. R. Gamble after being 4 down at the ninth, 2 and 1, and 1 up. Collins made the second nine in 33-par, 37.

Campbell and Foote of the visitors both had good medal scores, 76 and 77 respectively, which is encouraging for next week's invitation tournament.

THE ORANGE EVENT.

That event, by the way, has been changed to a two-day tournament owing to the difficulty of local accommodation for the players.

It will now take place on the 13th and 14th, Saturday and Sunday, with eight trophies for competition.

On Saturday morning there will be eighteen-hole medal place handicap, and a similar event in the afternoon. Prizes for best gross and best net thirty-six holes, and for each best net.

Sunday will be devoted to best ball foursomes, eighteen-hole medal play handicap in the morning, prizes for winning pair, and best ball foursomes match play against par in the afternoon, prizes for winning pair.

This was a very wise change and will insure a large attendance, for Balboa is a long journey to make four days running, yet not quite far enough away to make a regular four-day out-of-town stay.

The Los Angeles, Midwick and San Gabriel team matches will be arranged accordingly.

Honolulu will enjoy horse racing after a lapse of two years. Starting June 10, and concluding June 12, a trotting and running meet will be conducted.

Some trout—Wow.

In the center is the biggest trout of the season, said by some to be the best catch ever made in Southern California. It was landed by Dr. Peck, was 36½ inches long and weighed 9 pounds and 12 ounces. Lonnie Garwood (left) caught one weighing 7 pounds, 9 ounces, which was 30 inches long and Louis Kennedy (right) caught one 27 inches long and weighing 6 pounds, 11 ounces. George Cline (center) is presenting the Cline-Cline trophies to the exuberant fishermen. Photo by Hromatka.

HORSTMAN HAS A WILD TIME.

Sees Sights Around the Coast League Circuit.

Blankenship may Sign Mitze, Former Tiger.

Pruiett Purchased from the Oakland Club.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

A Horstman, it seems, mounted his steed and went out to see the sights around the Coast League circuit. He had some truly Quixotic experiences. Some allege that Horstman, after making half the trip, got saddle sore, and finished the trip in a Vann, but this is denied. If he had been weary, he simply would have seated himself on a Couch. His stay in Vernon was very Brief—just long enough to have a handshake and a smile with Jack Doyle.

WELL SUPPLIED.

He was well supplied with provisions, having a slab of Lim Berger, several pounds of Hogg and a pocket full of Old-ham. Then, of course, he had some Coffey in his knapsack. In case he ran short of provisions, he knew where to find a Butler and a Cook. Furthermore, he knew of a Gardner in Oakland, and this meant that he could secure a Berry or two. Thus assured of three squares a day, he felt very Gay.

On the way north he encountered a number of Brooks, but this did not hamper him greatly, as he had no difficulty in hiring a boat with a Jess Prough. While in the boat he was seized with a lust to become a seafaring man, and felt tempted to go Whaling. However, the fear that he might strike a Berg, caused him to give up the idea. He feared that if the Prough of the boat struck the Berg he might be unable to reach Schorr.

FAGGED OUT.

After fording the Brooks he was pretty well fagged out, and stopped on the Schorr to do some Fanning with a stranger. While resting there he observed a number of birds, including a Martin, a Perritt and a Brant.

A little further on he encountered a rancher, and naturally inquired the price of horse feed. "Ha-worth," repeated the rancher. "If I was you I wouldn't buy hay. Instead, I would put that hoss on the Block and knock it down to the highest bidder."

This didn't make a Hitt with Horstman, and he asked the rancher where he got that Noyes.

Crossing the Downs, he encountered two Fishers, both of whom claimed to be within the limit.

Reaching Oakland, he put up at the hotel for the night. The next morning he walked down the Hall and out into the Lane. Resuming his journey he became consumed with a great thirst. Seeing a modest dwelling place he entered through the gate. He found little Willie playing in the yard, and began talking to the youngster. Not knowing him, Hannah appeared at the kitchen door armed with a rolling pin and said, Nix-on that. This stumpf-ed him.

MORE TROUBLE.

Resuming his journey, Hortsman encountered what appeared to be a ledge. Thinking that it might contain Orr, he dismounted to investigate. In climbing the rocky ledge he slipped and skinned his Shinn. Take it From-me that hurt, and he did a War-hop with considerable Guisto. It also aroused his Hath. Because of this injury he was unable to return to his steed until he had secured a Kane. The injury hurt him so that he saw many Hughes.

In an effort to kill the pain he sought the nearest town where Beer is sold, and proceeded to Lush. The next morning he woke up with a dark-Brown taste in his mouth, and signing the pledge, solemnly declared, "By all the Powers that be, that will Be-all."

Cliff Blankenship, manager of the Salt Lake club, may sign Henus Mitze. Learning last night that Mitze had been released by Vernon, the Salt Lake skipper began investigating Mitze's record this year, and making inquiries concerning the condition of his arm.

Blank is well satisfied with Hannah, his first string catcher, and believes that Vann, his younger backstop, is the goods. However, the latter has been handicapped by a lame arm. Either Salt Lake or Oakland could us Mitze to advantage. Honus has been catching grand ball for Vernon, and hitting the ball hard. He is entirely too valuable an athlete to be allowed to escape from the league.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW ORLEANS, May 3.—Pete "Kid" Herman, the boy who missed winning the world's bantamweight championship by his over-confidence in his fight with Kid Williams, was operated on today for nasal troubles at the Touro Infirmary. Before going under the operation from which he expects to recover in three weeks, Herman issued a defi to Kid Williams, Johnny Ertle, Frankie Burns and all the other bantamweights to meet him over the twenty-round distance. "I can lick Williams or Ertle over this distance surely," said Herman. "I am willing to fight any or all of them at any time inside of the next two months."

With Herman's nasal trouble removed expert followers of the sport say he will be unbeatable as this has been his handicap.

Cliff Blankenship, manager of the Salt Lake club, may sign Honus Mitze. Learning last night that he had been released by Vernon, the Salt Lake skipper began investigating Mitze's record this year, also making inquiries concerning the condition of his arm.

Mitze was yesterday given his unconditional release by Vernon along with Roy Mitchell and Fred Fairbanks, pitchers; Mickey Schiltz, outfielder, and Jerry Coleman, catcher. Fairbanks, Schiltz and Coleman are youngsters of unusual promise, but there was no chance for them to break into the line-up this year.

Mitze originally was slated for Wichita, along with Kane, Berger and Bayless, but as all know, these deals never materialized.

Blankenship yesterday put through a deal of considerable importance when he purchased Charles Pruiett, pitcher and shot-putter, from the Oakland club. In addition to being a shot-putter of prominence, Pruiett is generally rated as some pitcher. Withall he has been an unlucky pitcher. One of the toughest men to score on in the circuit, he has lost a lot of well-flung games. Last season he won sixteen and lost twenty with a fifth-place team. This year he has had difficulty in locating the plate, and in his two appearances against the Angels last week did not last beyond the second inning. However, he has a world of stuff, and within a short time should be going great. Blankenship originally had intended to trade John Beall to Oakland for Pruiett, but as yet has been unable to put through the deal for Beall, and rather than bother longer decided to purchase the pitcher outright.

"I judge a pitcher a good deal by what my club is able to do against him," said the clever manager of the Bees. "Last season the Salt Lake club feared Pruiett more than any other pitcher in the league. When he went on the mound we knew that we were up against a tough game. That's one of the main reasons why I bought him."

Dad Munholland, Elk, Shriner and Angel fan, is absent from his accustomed place at the ball yard. Dad is on his way to Keen Camp. He dropped me a line to this effect from San Jacinto yesterday. "With the Angels away from town life held no further interest for me," he writes. "But I will be back there for the big finish. Keen Camp is a mile high. So you see I'm still with the Angels, even if they are up in Portland." Dad is one of the true blue sort.

George Banks continues to mix up billiards with baseball, and judging from the results last night his baseball has not seriously interfered with his billiards. Both games require a keen eye, especially in the case of Banks, who is on the pass gate. In last night's relay of the 620-point match at all styles, Banks defeated Byron Gillette, 94 to 62, in pocket billiards at the Stevens parlors. In the first relay, Gillette beat Banks, 35 to 16, in three-cushions. This gives Banks a lead of 110 to 97 to date. Tomorrow night they will cross cues at the L.A.A.C. in 18-2 balkline billiards for 150 points. Some versatile cue artists, these gents.

Paul Fittery in size, shape and delivery is almost a duplicate of Claud Williams. This much is admitted by the average fan. Blankenship goes the a. f. one better, and pronounces Fittery even a better pitcher than Williams. Williams carried the club through the major part of the season last year, but at the finish Fittery was twirling the better ball of the two. In the last month he looked better than the "Little Giant," who is now performing such Herculean feats for the White Sox. Fittery's game yesterday was a classic, and had he not grown a trifle careless in the ninth, a shoutout would have been put down to his credit.

"Fittery has everything that Williams ever had, and on top of this a much better curve ball," declared Blankenship. "In short, he is a better pitcher than Williams." You've simply got to hand it to the Bee boss when it comes to recognizing them in the rough. The guy who "discovered" Walter Johnson and "Bullet Joe" Bush was not deceived in Williams and Fittery.

Al Koch, vice-president of the Tigers, not content with being one of the most popular men in baseball, is adding a few laurels and cups on the ballroom floor. Saturday night he won the cup at Nat Goodwin's Cafe, and this added to three won previously at the Sunset Inn, gives him a large and imposing collection. He and his partner have received a large number of invitations to give exhibitions at private dances, but would not accept. The stage may yet put in a bid for their services. No use. The footwork of the Tigers on the bases holds more interest for Koch than his own.

FRITSCH TO STAGE ALL-AROUND EVENT.

The pentathlon was introduced three years ago and has been put on to develop all-around athletes. Last year the event was won by George Blewett with a scort of 4050 points, the highest ever scored by a Toiler. Harry Lamport, this year's favorite for first place, was only a few points behind the winner last year.

According to the scoring system used by Coach Fritsch, a perfect score of 1000 points is allowed for the following performances: 100-yard dash, 10 2-5s.; shot put, 45 ft.; high jump, 5 ft. 8 ins.; broad jump, 21 ft.; mile run, 5m.; pole vault, 10 ft. 6 ins. (Pole vault may be substituted for either of the jumps.)

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
NEW ORLEANS, May 3.—Pete "Kid" Herman, the boy who missed winning the world's bantamweight championship by his over-confidence in his fight with Kid Williams, was operated on today for nasal troubles at the Touro Infirmary. Before going under the operation from which he expects to recover in three weeks, Herman issued a bid to Kid Williams, Johnny Ertle, Frankie Burns and all the other bantamweights to meet him over the twenty-round distance. "I can lick Williams or Ertle over this distance surely," said Herman. "I am willing to fight one or all of them at any time inside of the next two months."

With Herman's nasal trouble removed expert followers of the sport say he will be unbeatable as this has been his handicap.

CINCINNATI WINS BATTING AFFAIR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
ST. LOUIS, May 3.—Cincinnati won today's game 6 to 5. Schneider was batted from the box in the fourth as was his successor, Schulz, in the eighth. In this inning the locals threatened to tie the score. After two were out Hornsby singled, Gonzales walked and Snyder, batting for Jasper, tripled, driving in two runs.

BRAVES TAKEN DOWN A PEG.

BOSTON, May 3.—Philadelphia bunched hits off Barnes in the second inning today and defeated the Braves 3 to 0. Philadelphia's runs were made after a double play, one of four during the game, had been made in the second inning. Paskert shot a double to right and Niehoff followed suit, the former scoring. Burns was given a pass and Niehoff stole third. Alexander hit to center for three bases, scoring Niehoff and Burns.

LAJOIE'S HOMER LICKS NEW YORK.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—A home run drive by Lajoie with Oldring on first in the eighth, gave Philadelphia the victory over New York today, 3 to 2. Nabors and Keating had a battle with the score even at one run each at the start of the eighth. Then Pipp singled and took third on Peckinpaugh's single. Bush took Nabor's place and fanned Nunamaker and Caldwell, who batted for Keating. When Peckinpaugh started to steal second Bush intercepted Schang's throw and caught Pipp off third.

GEORGE BLEWETT ATHLETIC BOSS.

George Blewett, one of the best all-around athletes ever turned out at Manual Arts, has been appointed assistant physical training instructor at the University of California for the coming term.

George Blewett has just returned from the North, where he has completed arrangements for next year's work. He will have full charge of the boxing classes and will help in other indoor classes.

Blewett was a star at football, basketball, track and boxing while at Manual Arts. During the present year he has been taking special instructions from Coach Fritsch and gaining experience for his next year's work.

Arthur Duffey, ex-champion sprinter, says "Johnny Overton of Yale seems to have either the mile or the two-mile race at his mercy in the Intercollegiate track and field sports, to be decided at Harvard stadium May 26 and 27. If Overton can keep up the gait he has shown this indoor season it is hard to figure how any of the other collegians can beat him. If the Blue crack should not elect to start in the two-mile there is no reason why he shouldn't be heard from in the mile as well as in the half. John Paul Jones was able to do such a stunt back in 1913 and there seems to be no reason why Overton shouldn't be able to do likewise."

was just the man for the place, so will this announcement at once thrill and satisfy.

There are few coaches who would care to try to succeed Pipal. His record has become an Occidental tradition, just as Stanton's is inseparably linked with Pomona. But of all men capable of stepping in, Stanton is, after all, the logical choice.

For five years Pipal's Tigers and Stanton's Huns faced each other on sawdust and cinders. Pipal took the honors in football while Stanton won the laurels in track. The brilliance of Pipal's teams was always stacked up against the everlasting thoroughness of Stanton's.

Stanton will have some fine material to work with next year, both in football and track. That he will make the best of it goes without saying.

Just as Pipal needs on eulogistic farewell, so Stanton needs no three-cheering welcome. It is another case of "The king is dead, long live the king!"

The Glasgow Celtic soccer team has again won the Scottish League championship, and has established a record by scoring over 100 goals.

LOW PRESSURE CUTS TIRE LIFE.

ABUSE of tires is common with all motorists, according to John G. Boss of the Portage Tire Company. Mileage is often cut down to the minimum by running the tire at low pressure for a short time.

According to Boss, tires should carry eighty or ninety pounds of air at all times to insure long wear on the tread. If a tire is run near flat, not only rim cuts result, but damage is done, and when put under high pressure again, expansion takes place and often a blowout is the result.

All long mileage records are made on tires kept under maximum pressure at all times. Some motorists claim that easy riding is produced by low pressure but this is costly and the life of the tire is greatly shortened.

AMONG THE MUMMERS.

SCINTILLATIONS FROM STAGE AND STUDIO LAND.

By Grace Kingsley.

Helene Richards, reciting the stately lines which William Winter wrote especially as an epilogue and accompaniment of Tyrone Power's Shakespearean production, made a most favorable impression last night on the occasion of her debut at the Mason. Miss Richards is a beautiful young woman, with a voice of great sweetness and power, and clad in Herald's costume of black stuff, with a light on her classic face, she seemed like some lovely emanation from the spirit of Shakespeare's genius. The idea of welding together the various Shakespearean scenes by means of Miss Richards's reading of Mr. Winter's lines was a very happy and artistic one, and adds incalculably to the atmosphere and illusion of the production.

Miss Richards may be said to be a discovery of Mr. Power's, as heretofore she has done only amateur work. It was in an amateur production of "The Servant in the House," given by the Sock and Buskin Club, in San Diego, a few weeks ago, that Mr. Power first saw the young woman, and at once engaged her for his present tour.

Miss Richards is the guest during her stay in Los Angeles of Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand. She is the half-sister of Mrs. Lyman Gage. Mrs. Gage is the founder of the Sock and Buskin Club, which numbers among its members many noted dramatic people.

Foote with Selig.

Hurrah Stuff.

Bright Lights Beckon.

Thomas Meighan has received an offer from Cohan and Harris to assume the leading masculine role in Blanche Ring's new play by Willard Mack, which, after its name being changed as often as Lillian Russell's, is now known as "Buttermilk and Broadway." Meighan is at present playing leads with the Lasky company, but is seriously considering accepting the offer.

New One for Canary Cage.

Laurence Wheat, well-known comedian of New York, has been engaged by Manager Oliver Morosco to appear in "Canary Cottage."

Wheat is one of the best-known comedians in the country and he will be a distinctive addition to the new musical show.

Miss Normand Honored.

Mabel Normand is to be the guest of honor at the Pals Club next Saturday night.

The popular comedienne will be welcomed by her hosts of Los Angeles friends and a notable programme has been arranged.

Sob Stuff.

Back from Joy Jag.

Mr. Hopper has just returned from San Francisco, having motored up to attend the Press Club celebration at the Tivoli. His high-power chauffeur burned up the road, and he did the trip in record time, viz., thirteen and a half hours. Next time he goes, however, he avers he will wear his make-up, and a veil to keep off the sunburn.

"When I reached San Francisco," said Hopper, "my face was perfectly gorgeous. Why a broiled lobster looked like an anemic consumptive compared to me."

Belongs with Giants.

In playing "Casey at the Bat," Griffith asked Hopper if he didn't want a double to do the stiff playing.

"He said he knew I could play Casey all right, but he didn't know about the ball. I registered deep pain and he said no more, and as luck would have it I got in some really spectacular plays."

HORSE RACING SCRAPS SETTLED.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Horsemen today welcomed the news that differences among the three organizations in control of harness racing had been virtually settled. The board of review of the National Trotting Association, in session here, is expected to ratify the harmony plan arranged yesterday through a telephone conference by officers of the National Trotting Association in New York and of the American Trotting Association and the Trotting Register Association in Chicago.

The arrangement calls for the united publications, distribution and sale of the "Yearbook." It was agreed that the National and American associations will hereafter entrust the duty of amending rules to a joint committee to consist of six members.

ROLLER SKATERS TO STAGE BIG EVENT.

Elaborate eleventh hour plans are being made by the Roller Skaters' Association of Southern California for their big masquerade at the Los Angeles Rink on Saturday night. W. J. Simpson is chairman of the committee on arrangements. The hall will be specially decorated for the occasion, there will be special music features, and handsome prizes will be awarded for the most unique costumes. Special skating events are to be staged, and a large delegation of roller enthusiasts from all over Southern California is expected to attend the unusual festivities. This will be the last big affair before the summer season starts.

The famous racing stallion, Amar, recently presented to the Canadian government by King George of England, has arrived in Toronto. It has been loaned to the Canadian Breeders' Association for a year. The income from the horse will be devoted to premiums for agricultural shows for the production of thoroughbreds.

Bees Beat Tigers.

Quinn's spitter was obeying its helm so perfectly that he issued only one pass.

Fit's control was so good that at times it was hard to believe he had been brought into the world a southpaw. One could but feel there had been a mistake some place. He walked only one guy, the favored party being Griggs. This accident, however, had no bearing on the result. It is hard enough to find the plate when throwing with the right hand. How a pitcher can throw a ball at all with his left hand, let alone getting it over, always has been beyond me. Just imagine pitching nine innings with your left hand, and failing to get it over only to one man, the same guy in other walks of life has no control whatever over his left hand. He simply lets it dangle at his side, or tucks it into his pant's pocket so that it won't be in his way. Such a demonstration as that of yesterday is annobling, and calculated to uplift the business of southpawing.

MUCH TOO LATE.

Not until the ninth did Vernon display a lust for conquest. Rader started something in the fag inning that blossomed into a run when Risberg doubled. After Griggs had walked, placing two on with two out, Ham Patterson showed himself to be a person of "guts" by going in to bat for Pete Daley. Pat's career came to an untimely end when Morris Rath, arrayed in all the glory of a poppy-colored undershirt, made a two-handed stop of his grounder and threw him out with one hand.

Going back to the beginning, old man Rath's son is found figuring as prominently as he did at the finish. He was both the Alpha and Omega, or other Greek words to that effect. Those who feel like it also might work in a few swear words in this connection.

Anyway, Rath opened the impressive ceremony of winning a ball game by slapping out a left-field single in the first. Orr laid down a sacrifice, Rath taking second as is customary under the circumstances. Quinn fanned Quinlan. Brief then tore a breach in the Vernon defense with a single to right, Rath rounding third and ruffling the rubber for a perfectly good score. Ryan drove to Rader, Risberg dropping the throw. This put runners on first and second. Shinn calmed himself by popping to Bates.

SINGLES DON'T COUNT.

No results were derived from singles by Spencer and Doane in the third, Fittery tightening. Bates collected a one-base blow after Risberg had fanned in the fourth. Shinn pulled down a line fly by Griggs, and Bates, already to second, was easily doubled on Jimmy's throw to Brief.

The fatal flaw came in the sixth. Rader's low throw spared Orr, first up Quinlan sacrificed. Orr advanced from second to third on Brief's distant fly to Doane. Ryan singled, and Billy breezed in with the winning run.

RUSSELL CATCHES LIMIT UP NORTH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA PAULA, May 2.—The fishing season opened yesterday with many anglers on the job, and the fish were hungry and biting freely, both in the Sisar and Santa Paula creeks. Mr. Jesse N. Russell of Alhambra took the limit, and the record catch for size was made by his young daughter. Mr. Adolph Frankel of Los Angeles caught forty speckled beauties in about an hour and a half in the morning.

Andy Elwell of the Santa Paula Chronicle, and N. L. Claberg, also of Santa Paula, took the limit, while the following local anglers caught around forty each: M. N. Shedenhelm, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank; William Frey and P. F. Helton. These streams were stocked at Sulphur Mountain Springs several years ago, and the fish are plentiful.

ANGELS TAKE GAME FROM BEAVER KIDS.

PORTLAND FIELD WORK IS SOMETHING TERRIBLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 3.—Portland unveiled a new southpaw pitcher today in the person of Herbert Kelly, formerly of Notre Dame University, but even Herb's college education and his assortment of fraternity hooks did not precent the Angels from winning another ball game. Score, Los Angeles, 4; Portland, 2.

KELLY SHINES.

Kelly, himself, twirled good ball and his deportment at bat was far better than that displayed by his team-mates. No fault can be found with the new pitching acquisition on his showing, but, "oh! my!, with the support he got it'll be a wonder if he consents to remain with such an aggregation.

His backing, was neither nifty, smart nor cute.

The Beavers could not hit old man Jack Ryan at all, and some of them pulled some baseball out on the field that was worse than "corner lot" stuff.

To be explicit Jack Ryan allowed only five scattering hits and both Portland tallies were due to his wildness. Kelly was nipped for ten hits, but at least two of them ordinarily would have been captured and stowed away by a pitcher's supporters.

AWFUL ERRORS.

Wille tripped a drive in left center in the seventh that was scored as a hit and a moment later Capt. Vaughn close in let Galloway's grounder skip past him. These two slips gave the Angels two runs, and another was donated by Billy Nixon in right field in the fourth.

Nixon dropped an easy fly ball with two out, and it's a safe wager Los Angeles would have had to wear rubber heels on the Portland bench at that moment if permitted around at all. Boles scored from second on the error.

The one sparkling play of the game was negotiated by Bill Speas subbing in left for Southworth.

WHITTIER STATE WALLOPS MANUAL.

Batting out five hits and scoring five runs in the initial inning, the Whittier State ball team succeeded in beating the Manual Arts nine yesterday afternoon by a 7 to 1 score when they met on the Manual diamond.

Whittier gathered another run in the fifth inning and the final score in the sixth. The lone Manual tally came in the third frame when Thomas knocked out a three-bagger and scored on a single by McAlpine.

WASHINGTON CREW STARTS WORK AGAIN.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, SEATTLE, May 3.—The crewmen have resumed training after a three-weeks' lay-off following the Stanford race. The men are working now for the boat race with the University of California, which is scheduled to be held on Lake Washington on May 27, though there are rumors that a team will not come north.

The board of athletic control of the university will meet tomorrow night to determine whether or not the California crew shall be brought here. Because of the defeat of California by Stanford after Washington had beaten the Cardinal eight, the race with California may be cancelled.

Washington's line-up will be the same if the crews meet.

Minneapolis Athletic Club has ordered a $10,000 high-power motor boat to be called Miss Minneapolis. The money was raised by popular subscription. It will be ready in June and will represent the city of Minneapolis in various national power-boat races this year.

Schools Grasp Times Free Pathescope Offer

Dozens of City and Rural Schools in Southern California Have Already Entered The Times Visual Educational Campaign in Order to Obtain a Pathescope Motion Picture Projecting Machine.

No previous movement of the kind has aroused so much interest among Educators and School Patrons as The Times Visual Educational Campaign inaugurated for the purpose of equipping our schools with Pathescope Motion Picture Projectors.

Although the offer was made to the schools of Southern California faculties and Parent-Teacher Associations throughout the entire Southwest are asking permission to enter their schools in this wonderful campaign.

Representatives from Phoenix, Arizona, and cities in New Mexico have come to Los Angeles in the interests of their respective districts.

In many of the schools, organizations have already been effected and work commenced on securing the One Hundred new six-months paid-in-advance subscriptions necessary to obtain one of these machines.

In most instances the entire membership of the various associations have volunteered their services and the work has been greatly simplified and the responsibility distributed.

Early Monday morning the faculty of one of the first schools to enter the campaign appointed a campaign manager with the balance of the teachers as his assistants. The district was divided into units and each teacher given supervision over the work in one of these. Parent teachers were then called upon to co-operate with the instructors, and at present over one hundred active workers are out in the interests of the Fifth Street School. This enthusiasm will go far in securing visual education for the harbor city.

All films to be used in the Pathescope Projector will be furnished by the Pathescope Company of Southern California. This Company maintains the largest and most elaborate selection of educational films in existence. Likewise all accessories and parts for the Pathescope can be obtained from this company.

Free Demonstrations of the Pathescope

Anyone interested in this movement can witness free demonstrations of the Pathescope by making arrangements therefor at The Times office. When you become acquainted with the merits of this wonderful machine, you will not rest until you have performed your full duty toward securing one for your school.

If faculties and Parent-Teacher Associations can find it convenient to witness these demonstrations collectively rather than individually it will be advantageous to all concerned. Remember that the Pathe Library of Educational Films is the most elaborate and comprehensive of any of the Film Producing companies.

Rules and Regulations—How to Enter

Send name of the School or the name of the Parent-Teacher Association which is to be nominated as a participant to the Visual Educational Campaign Manager.

There are no obligations attached to entering this campaign, and it costs absolutely nothing to try.

After credit has been given for subscriptions, they cannot be transferred from one School or Association to another.

Any questions or controversies that may arise are to be settled by the Campaign Manager, and his decision will be final and conclusive.

The campaign opens Monday, May 1st, 1916.

The closing date will be announced later.

All entrants are assured that they will have ample time in which to obtain a Pathescope provided an effort is made to do so.

The Pathescopes will be delivered at Los Angeles, California, immediately after the required 100 new six months' paid-in-advance subscriptions have been procured by successful participants.

All subscriptions must be paid in cash, and credit will be issued only on new subscriptions.

No agreements or promises, either written or verbal, made by solicitors, other than those published in The Times will be recognized.

All entries will be accepted subject to the foregoing conditions.

From Report of the U. S. Department of Education

"Within the next decade the Moving Picture will be the indispensable adjunct of every teacher and Educational Lecturer. On the public platform the cinematograph will inevitably have its recognized place, and it may even invade the pulpit. As the attention and interest of educators are more and more drawn to its merits, the future usefulness of the educational cinematograph bids fair to surpass the predictions of its most sanguine advocates."

TRIES TO BREAK IN UPPER CRUST.

Pasadena School to Have Big May-pole Festival.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 4.—Instead of remaining in the slums to further study settlement work Miss Jean Lovelace Kimball, for four years office secretary of the East Side Settlement House in New York and later assistant manager of the Junior League Hotel, came to the Maryland Hotel to see the "other side of life," the "upper crust, as it were." She has been acting as mail clerk and has absorbed much local color." Last night, on the eve of her return East, she declared that there is no field in California for the kind of work she has been doing in New York.

"In California, and especially in Pasadena," she said, "there is no real poverty. You do not have the grave problems of drunkenness, poverty and tuberculosis that we have in New York. Of course, you have tuberculosis here, but it is nothing compared to the distressing cases we must look into and help.

"California is a haven of rest to its tubercular patients, who are not the type of those in New York. There is poverty here, too, but as compared with the poverty of New York and other cities of the East it is not poverty—for your poor are not so miserable and ignorant as ours are."

Miss Kimball has been in Pasadena since early autumn. She came here primarily to rest, after having suffered a nervous breakdown after having complete charge of the Junior League Hotel for six weeks, during which time there was one tragedy after another, and she was dragged through the courts as a witness in more than a dozen cases. Two of these were suicides. Three other girls died there and she had to bury them and send their clothing back to Europe.

The only fault Miss Kimball could find with Pasadena and the other California cities she has visited is that something should be planned in the scheme of things for people who work. There is a lack of something to interest those who work here, she said.

Miss Kimball is also chairman of the Art Committee of the Philomath Club of New York, one of the State's federated clubs, and is its youngest member being just 26 years old.

MAY FESTIVAL.

Two hundred and seventy children will stage a spectacular May festival at the Polytechnic elementary school on Friday and Saturday morning. It will consist of unusual May-pole dancing, folk dancing and open-air choruses and an exhibition of their work, all of which will be staged in the patio.

The stage-setting will carry out a color scheme of orange and white, the school's colors. Curtains in these shades will hang outside the windows. Here Miss Phyllis Waldron, 13 years old, will be crowned queen of the May. After this picturesque affair there will be an exhibition of pottery, rug weaging, basket-making, pottery, rug-weaving, basket-making, poster-painting, pose work, block printing, furniture-making and sewing, which the children have done. The boys of the manual training department will have on display furniture for a six-room house which they have made.

On Saturday morning there will be an exhibition of eurythmic work, this school being the only one in the Southland giving such a course. Miss Barbara Neff will be the queen of the eurythmic festival.

PREPAREDNESS PLANS.

The local branch meeting of the Women's section of the Army and Navy League, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. Page Warden, named two committees and made plans to wage a membership campaign.

On the Membership Committee are Mmes. H. C. McGoodwin, A. B. Johnson, Harrison J. Drummond, George B. Trautman, Joseph Hunker and A. A. Libby. The Press Committee is composed of Mrs. Harrison Guthrie, Mrs. Robert Flint and Miss Marjorie C. Driscoll.

The object of the league is to arouse the preparedness sentiment, and women are also assisting the local Red Cross chapter by making articles of use for the chapter. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Langdon Laws on May 10.

CITY BRIEFS.

Mrs. Eliza Arnold, a resident of Pasadena for thirty-five years, died yesterday at her home, No. 147 East Walnut street. She was 70 years old. She leaves a brother, W. Shreve Fisher of New Brunswick, and a sister, Mrs. E. A. Harlow of Pasadena. Funeral services will be held at All Saints' Episcopal Church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Hall will officiate. Burial will follow in Mountain View Cemetery.

Thirty members of the Pomona College debating class attended a banquet at the Hotel Maryland last night. The students made the trip by automobile.

PLAN BIG FURNACE.

San Bernardino County Ores to be Worked at the Harbor—Plenty of Cheap Fuel Available. A Large Industry is Developing.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WILMINGTON, May 3.—The construction of a blast furnace in the west basin of the inner harbor for the purpose of making cast iron and steel from the ores of San Bernardino county appears a near possibility, as the people interested in the project have become so thoroughly convinced of its feasibility that they are already endeavoring to finance the project.

Plent yof fuel in the nature of oil and electricity is available, but the high cost of coke has been the principal drawback to such a project in the past. Balanced against the expense of freighting iron and steel from eastern points, the coke question is becoming less of a bugbear than heretofore. The successful establishment of a blast furnace would be likely to bring other iron industries to the Pacific Coast.

When Henry Ford was here, before he went on his famous peace mission, he announced that he would locate a factory on the inner harbor here if he could secure the raw material, as it would not pay to haul the steel over the mountains. In fact, he was investigating the question of raw material at that time.

There is plenty of oil for fuel, and the Southern California Edison Company announces its ability to furnish any required amount of electric current for the enterprise. The electricity will be used in arcs to break up the ore, after which it will be kept in a molten state by a mixture of oil and coke fuel.

Plenty of raw ore can be obtained from San Bernardino county at such rates that the proposed furnace can successfully compete with other localities. The enormous ore beds of China will also be available if the local supply should prove inadequate, which fact will also help keep the freight rates at a reasonable figure.

TO SHOW INDUSTRIES.

Through Chamber of Commerce, Interest of Local Manufacturers is Invited in Great Permanent Exposition Projected in New York City.

Los Angeles manufacturers, fruit growers, jobbers and big industries generally may have opportunity of organizing a permanent exhibit for the greatest national permanent industrial exposition ever attempted. This will occupy four city blocks in the heart of New York and reflect the industrial life of the entire country.

A preliminary announcement of the plan came to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, in a communication from Robert H. Sexton, managing director, who is recognized as one of the greatest exhibition experts in the country.

According to the tentative plan, a large group of the strongest business men in the metropolis have obtained control of four blocks centrally located and containing immense buildings used as department stores and similar enterprises, having floor space of more than 600,000 feet. In this space it is planned to display permanently products from all parts of the country.

Before the huge undertaking is finally decided upon a canvass is being made to ascertain to what extent the larger cities will respond with exhibits. Secretary Wiggins of the chamber was among the first to be notified, in that he has been identified with every large exhibition proposition in the country for the past quarter-century.

"It is a splendid idea," said Mr. Wiggins yesterday. "An exposition of that magnitude on a permanent basis would afford a tremendous advertising advantage to such a city as Los Angeles. I sincerely hope that our big industrial concerns will realize what a great opportunity it will present."

BIRD CARRIES AWAY DOLLAR.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, May 3.—"I'll bet you this dollar bill I can hit that blackbird over there," said Herbert Hill, a freshman at Redlands University, to a crowd of fellows as the bird fearlessly flitted near the group as if challenging the young men to capture it.

"Take you," said another, and Hill crumpled up the bill into a ball and hurled it at the blackbird.

Hill missed. The bird flew a few feet and then circled back, seized the dollar in its bill and disappeared through the park into a tree far away. Hill could not pay the bet. Somewhere inside a blackbird's nest or under a tree the bill eventually may be found.

Long Beach in Mourning Over Citizens Who Die.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, May 3.—Though he willingly consented to the appearance of Immigration Inspector Connell as intermediary between the California Shipbuilding Company and individual strikers at the plant, Manager W. C. Foley today unqualifiedly stated that he had nothing to mediate with the unions; that the plant would continue to remain an open shop, and that he would be glad to treat with his workmen and hear their grievances individually.

Manager Foley received a letter from Inspector Connell asking permission to act as a go-between in an effort to bring the strikers and the shipyard officials together. Mr. Foley expects a visit from Mr. Connell within the next few days and will receive him cordially. Regarding a conference with the union heads, or the strikers as union men, however, there will be "Nothing doing." The sign over the shop office, "Positively, this is an open shop," will remain where it is.

"This trouble began to brew several weeks ago in the offices of the unions in other places," said Manager Foley today. "The local plant was singled out for a strike though I know that our men are better treated than those in the majority of ship plants on the Coast. Union labor agitators visited me and laid down the ultimatum, and, of course, I refused their demands. We will not allow the unions to build these submarines or this lighthouse tender, or run this plant. We claim the right to do that ourselves."

Mr. Foley this afternoon presided at the usual weekly meeting of the heads of departments in his office. Reports were received showing that the work on the war vessels was well up to the delayed receipt of steel. Dozens of letters and telephone messages from experienced mechanics who applied for work have been received in the past two days. Manager Foley states, however, that he will wait a little while longer for his workmen to come to their senses before he hires men to take their places.

HALF-MAST FLAGS.

With flags at half-mast, and the bodies of four of her distinguished citizens lying awaiting burial after a series of accidents, Long Beach today sadly the useful lives and the good works of Fire Chief Shrewsbury, Dr. Clyde M. Trumpower, Ben M. Rapp and Guy Fowler. The funerals which will close the last chapter in the history of Chief Shrewsburf, Dr. Trumpower and Mr. Rapp will be largely attended. The body of Mr. Fowler will be shipped to his former home in Newton, Kan.

A special memorial meeting of the City Commissioners will be held Saturday at which resolutions of condolence with the families of the four dead men will be passed. The condition of Fireman Wright, injured in yesterday's accident, was precarious tonight and he was not expected to live many hours.

Assistant Chief Craw's broken right arm, it is feared, will not be of use to him during the remainder of his life because of the serious nature of the fracture. An X-ray photograph was taken of Clark Shaw's vertebrae and the fear that his back was broken was dispelled.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

Work on Citrus Experiment Station to be Begun at Once Since Inspector's Tour is Completed. Farmers are Asked to Plant Beets.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, May 3.—Active work on certain features of the new citrus experiment station will be begun immediately. This is the word brought by H. B. Foster, engineer of the University of California, who was in the city today on an inspection tour.

The contract for the construction of the irrigating reservoir and pipe line has been awarded to the Cresmer Manufacturing Company of this city at its bid of $4732. Hudson & Shaw of Los Angeles will construct the domestic reservoir and pumping stations, its bid of $2866 having been accepted by the regents.

The group of buildings to be erected under the first appropriation of $125,000 will comprise the administration building and residences of the director and the superintendent.

FARMERS PLANT BEETS.

Five hundred acres have been planted to sugar beets this season in the Arlington section, according to J. D. Berry, manager of the Chino sugar factory, who was in the city today looking over the planting in company with W. J. Hole, owner of La Sierra Heights. Mr. Berry says he expects to see 2500 acres planted to beets the coming season in the district lying between Arlington and Corona.

Mr. Hole is desirous of seeing a sufficient acreage planted to insure the erection of a factory here and says ranchers should profit by the harvesting of beets from the rich lands lying westerly of Arlington.

BLAMES PHYSICIAN FOR FATHER'S DEATH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UPLAND, May 3.—Declaring that Dr. C. H. Wimpress, well-known Upland physician, was responsible for the death of their father, Jose Rodriques, who was struck by the physician's motor car and killed almost instantly near Cucamonga on October 24, 1915, Guadalupe and Aurelio Rodriques, through F. G. McLain of San Bernardino, guardian ad litem, have filed suit to collect $50,000 damages from the Upland man.

The complaint recites that Rodriquez was riding a bicycle and that Dr. Wimpress was driving at a speed of forty miles an hour. At the inquest, which immediately followed the death of Rodriquez, the Coroner's jury exonerated Dr. Wimpress, bringing in a verdict of accidental death.

SAILING CRAFT BACK IN TRADE.

SCARCITY OF BOTTOMS BRINGS OUT ANCIENT SHIPS.

Wind-jammers to Transport Lumber to Southern Coast Ports. Reduction of Rates Asked for Summer Months—Rail Fare may also be Lowered in Competition.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 3. —The sight of two windjammers in the coastwise lumber trade, the first for many months, is promised within a few weeks. The schooners Caroline and Louise are loading cargo at Gardner City, Or., on the Umpqua River, for the Kerchkoff-Cusner Lumber Company. They are the only sailing vessels engaged for the coastwise trade, which for several years has been monopolized by the steam schooners.

Since the European war boosted charter rates to offshore ports, all the sailing vessels have been taking cargo to foreign ports at fabulous charter rates. Before the war began both the Caroline and the Louise were tied up at this port for months, unable to get charters. For several months they have been running from northern lumber ports to Honolulu.

Recently the shortage of tonnage began to affect the coastwise lumber trade on account of the withdrawal of steam schooners, and the two sailing vessels were released from the offshore run.

The lumber business since the first of the year has been unusually good in the Southwest, and until a few weeks ago wholesalers had difficulty in getting their orders at northern mills delivered here. During the past few weeks, however, there has been a lull in the market, generally attributed to the Mexican situation, but dealers are still stocking up their yards.

RATE REDUCTION.

The Pacific Navigation Company has applied to the State Railroad Commission for permission to reduce the one-way rate between San Francisco and this port to $6 for transportation only between June 1 and September 30. The commission has taken the request under advisement.

This is the first request of the kind since the coastwise shipping and passenger rates over water routes went under the jurisdiction of the commission, although requests for round-trip excursion rates have been frequently granted.

It is expected that other lines will make corresponding reductions and possibly the Southern Pacific may ask for permission to reduce the rail rate, although the water competition has never been recognized by the rail lines so far as meeting rates is concerned.

Mrs. Howard was 54 years old. She was a native of Wisconsin and contracted the disease in the Middle West, although it is commonly supposed to be a disease peculiar to the Southern States. Physicians claim that it has spread all over the country in recent years and that there are now about 75,000 cases of it, with an annual mortality of 10 per cent. It ranks third among the dread diseases.

Mrs. Howard leaves a son, Ross Howard, who is professor in Highland Park College at Des Moines.

Two weeks ago he decided that there was not enough money in the job, so he resigned to study law. Mayor Vandegrift told the City Council he would serve as desk sergeant without pay if the Council would furnish him a telephone with which to handle calls. He was immediately appointed to fill the vacancy.

We have that identical instrument in the very latest development of science, which plays the regulation 88-note rolls, in the

Flexotone Electrelle

The Key to the Soul of Music

Which Can Be Installed In a Couple of Days In any Upright Piano

This player device is so constructed that when not in use it can be moved completely out of sight. It is a player of the highest class, most simple and easier to operate than any other. It enables those who know nothing about playing by hand, or very little about music, to play with delight on the first day it is in your home.

THERE IS NO FOOT PEDALING

One little electric light furnishes all the power and it can be set so it will play itself, which is ideal for the hand-made artists' rolls or for dancing. Besides, it possesses exclusive facilities, such as the phrasing and accenting lever, enabling a true lover of music to play according to his or her interpretation.

The price is most reasonable, for a strictly high-grade player. It will cost you nothing to learn all about the

TRIES TO BREAK IN UPPER CRUST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 4.—Instead of remaining in the slums to further daily settlement work Miss Jean Lovelsia Kimball, for four years office secretary of the East Side Settlement House in New York and later assistant manager of the Junior League Hotel, came to the Maryland Hotel to see the "other side of life," the "upper crust, as it were." She has been acting as mail clerk and has absorbed much local color." Last night, on the eve of her return East, she declared that there is no field in California for the kind of work she has been doing in New York.

"In California, and especially in Pasadena," she said, "there is no real poverty. You do not have the grim problems of drunkenness, poverty and tuberculosis that we have in New York. Of course, you have these hardships here, but it is nothing compared to the distressing cases we must look into and help.

"California is a haven of rest to the tubercular patients, who are not the type of those in New York. There is poverty here, too, but as compared with the poverty of New York and other cities of the East it is not poverty—for your poor are not as miserable and ignorant as ours are."

Miss Kimball has been in Pasadena since early autumn. She came here primarily to rest, after having suffered a nervous breakdown after having complete charge of the Junior League Hotel for six weeks. During which time there was one crisis after another, and she was dragged through the courts as a witness in more than a dozen cases. Two of these were suicides. Three other girls died there and she had to bury them and send their clothing back to Europe.

The only fault Miss Kimball could find with Pasadena and the other California cities she has visited is that something should be planned in the scheme of things for people who work. There is a lack of something to interest those who work here, she said.

Miss Kimball is also chairman of the Art Committee of the Philomath Club of New York, one of the State's oldest clubs, and is its youngest member being just 26 years old.

The contract for the construction of the irrigating reservoir and pipe line has been awarded to the Cresmer Manufacturing Company of this city at its bid of $4732. Hudson & Shaw of Los Angeles will construct the domestic reservoir and pumping stations, its bid of $2866 having been accepted by the regents.

The group of buildings to be erected under the first appropriation of $125,000 will comprise the administration building and residences of the director and the superintendent.

FARMERS PLANT BEETS.

Five hundred acres have been planted to sugar beets this season in the Arlington section, according to J. D. Berry, manager of the Chino sugar factory, who was in the city today looking over the planting in company with W. J. Hole, owner of La Sierra Heights. Mr. Berry says he expects to see 2500 acres planted to beets the coming season in the district lying between Arlington and Corona.

Mr. Hole is desirous of seeing a sufficient acreage planted to insure the erection of a factory here and says ranchers should profit by the harvesting of beets from the rich lands lying westerly of Arlington.

SANTA MONICA NOTES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UPLAND, May 3.—Declaring that Dr. C. H. Wimpress, well-known Upland physician, was responsible for the death of their father, Jose Rodriquez, who was struck by the physician's motor car and killed almost instantly near Cucamonga on October 24, 1915, Guadalupe and Aurelio Rodriquez, through F. G. McLain of San Bernardino, guardian ad litem, have filed suit to collect $50,000 damages from the Upland man.

The complaint recites that Rodriquez was riding a bicycle and that Dr. Wimpress was driving at a speed of forty miles an hour. At the inquest, which immediately followed the death of Rodriquez, the Coroner's jury exonerated Dr. Wimpress, bringing in a verdict of accidental death.

Wind-jammers to Transport Lumber to Southern Coast Ports. Reduction of Rates Asked for Summer Months—Rail Fare may also be Lowered in Competition.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 3. —The sight of two windjammers in the coastwise lumber trade, the first for many months, is promised within a few weeks. The schooners Caroline and Louise are loading cargo at Gardner City, Or., on the Umpqua River, for the Kerchkoff-Cuzner Lumber Company. They are the only sailing vessels engaged for the coastwise trade, which for several years has been monopolized by the steam schooners.

Since the European war boosted charter rates to offshore ports, all the sailing vessels have been taking cargo to foreign ports at fabulous charter rates. Before the war began both the Caroline and the Louise were tied up at this port for months, unable to get charters. For several months they have been running from northern lumber ports to Honolulu.

Recently the shortage of tonnage began to affect the coastwise lumber trade on account of the withdrawal of steam schooners, and the two sailing vessels were released from the offshore run.

The lumber business since the first of the year has been unusually good in the Southwest, and until a few weeks ago wholesalers had difficulty in getting their orders at northern mills delivered here. During the last few weeks, however, there has been a lull in the market, generally attributed to the Mexican situation, but dealers are still stocking up their yards.

RATE REDUCTION.

The Pacific Navigation Company has applied to the State Railroad Commission for permission to reduce the one-way rate between San Francisco and this port to $6 for transportation only between June 1 and September 30. The commission has taken the request under advisement.

This is the first request of the kind since the coastwise shipping and passenger rates over water routes went under the jurisdiction of the commission, although requests for round-trip excursion rates have been frequently granted.

It is expected that other lines will make corresponding reductions and possibly the Southern Pacific may ask for permission to reduce the rail rate, although the water competition has never been recognized by the rail lines so far as meeting rates is concerned.

LOSES HOME RUN IN HIGH WEEDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, May 3.—The apparently unimportant circumstance of a baseball getting lost in the weeds at a recent match game played between the high schools of this city and South Pasadena may result in an important reform. Out of this incident has grown a demand on the part of the public that the weeds be cut not only on the high school grounds where the humiliating circumstance occurred, but that attention be given to all of the vacent lots which are overgrown with spring verdure. The following is an abstract from incensed citizen's communication:

"Imagine our disappointment and the disappointment of the team to make a good hit which might prove a home run, then have the ball lost in the weeds so the umpire gives the player only two bases. The weeds must go."

This seems to be a fair expression of the sentiment in Alhambra toward the weed question. It appears that the city administration will yield to the popular demand and that the weeds will be cut off close to the ground.

Hotel Lankershim's famous $1.25 table d'hote dinner is served from 6 to 8 p.m., main dining-room.—[Advertisement.

PELLAGRA FATAL.

Pomona Woman Dies After Illness of but a Few Days—Mayor Serves Gratis as Desk Sergeant in Place of Paid Officer.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, May 3.—The first victim ever claimed in this locality by the pellagra is Mrs. Martha P. Howard, formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, who has been a visitor at the G. A. Dial residence on San Bernardino avenue for several weeks. Mrs. Howard passed away at the Pomona Valley Hospital Tuesday night after an illness lasting only a few days. Local physicians say it is the first acute case of pellagra that they have ever had to deal with.

Mrs. Howard was 54 years old. She was a native of Wisconsin and contracted the disease in the Middle West, although it is commonly supposed to be a disease peculiar to the Southern States. Physicians claim that it has spread all over the country in recent years and that there are now about 75,000 cases of it, with an annual mortality of 10 per cent. It ranks third among the dread diseases.

Mrs. Howard leaves a son, Ross Howard, who is professor in Highland Park College at Des Moines.

MAYOR POLICEMAN.

Mayor Vandegrift enjoys the unique distinction of being probably the only Mayor in the world who holds the position of desk sergeant in the police department. He began work today.

Until recently the desk sergeant job belonged to Police Judge Mason. He acted as sergeant for the $35 a month in addition to his salary as police magistrate.

Two weeks ago he decided that there was not enough money in the job, so he resigned to study law. Mayor Vandegrift told the City Council he would serve as desk sergeant without pay if the Council would furnish him a telephone with which to handle calls. He was immediately appointed to fill the vacancy.

FIRE AT MONROVIA.

MONROVIA, May 3.—Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed early today La Vista Grande Hotel, one of the landmarks of the city. Only a few patrons were in the hotel and they escaped without difficulty, aiding in carrying out much of the furniture. The fire started near a large tank of distillate which burst. The loss was estimated at $40,000.

Have You a Piano That Is Little Used?

Don't you often wish that it could be brought to Life? That you and every member of your family could play all the music you liked on it?

We have that identical instrument in the very latest development of science, which plays the regulation 88-note rolls, in the

Flexotone Electrelle

The Key to the Soul of Music

Which Can Be Installed In a Couple of Days In any Upright Piano

This player device is so constructed that when not in use it can be moved completely out of sight. It is a player of the highest class, most simple and easier to operate than any other. It enables those who know nothing about playing by hand, or very little about music, to play with delight on the first day it is in your home.

THERE IS NO FOOT PEDALING

One little electric light furnishes all the power and it can be set so it will play itself, which is ideal for the hand-made artists' rolls or for dancing. Besides, it possesses exclusive facilities, such as the phrasing and accenting lever, enabling a true lover of music to play according to his or her interpretation.

The price is most reasonable, for a strictly high-grade player. It will cost you nothing to learn all about the and how to secure it most easily, if you will write for booklet or call at our warerooms.

Market as a Whole Suffers Further Impairment of Values Because of Steady Selling of the Popular Issues—The War Group Loses One to Five Points. Coppers are the Exception, Showing Marked Strength.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—The market today suffered a further impairment of quoted values. Early prices seemed to favor the Bull account, but steady selling of popular issues soon caused a general reversal with unmistakable signs of liquidation at the end. Mercantile Marines were the most unsettling features of the session, the preferred stock registering an extreme loss of 5¼ points on its decline to 77, and the common losing 2¾ at 24¾. Marines were weakest in the afternoon. There were steady offerings of the munitions stocks, Crucible Steel, New York Air Brake, American and Baldwin Locomotive, and Pressed Steel Car losing to 3 points, while Motors were even more heavy. The distilling group was strong at times, but failed to hold. Firmness verging upon actual strength marked the course of coppers most of the time, American Smelting recording an extreme gain of 2 points, with almost as much for Anaconda on its remarkable exhibit of earnings for 1915. The zinc shares were out of line with this movement, selling off a point or more. United States Steel appeared to be in demand during the forenoon, but relinquished all its gain later, while Bethlehem Steel, which showed an early loss of almost 15 points, made complete recovery. Rails were irregular at best, but shaded in the afternoon, with some substantial losses. Total sales were 585,000 shares. The irregularity of the bond market was traceable to the extensive selling of Anglo-French 5s, large blocks of that issue changing hands at 95. Total sales of bonds, par value, were $3,129,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

TROUBLES FOLLOW HIS SUDDEN WEALTH.

BROTHER CONTESTS WILL OF TRACK GREASER.

Ceylon Fortune Brought Small Enjoyment to Humble Beneficiary, Whose Nieces Must now Fight to Retain What He Bequeathed to Them.

Raised from poverty to affluence by half of the nearly $500,000 estate of his sister, Mrs. Kate French Taylor, who died at Colombo, Ceylon, William B. French, a track greaser of the Pacific Electric, did not live long to enjoy his fortune. Dying six months after he became rich, he willed his estate of $158,000 to his nieces, Ellen Lawrence Pitt of Bridgeton, N. J., and Ethel Adel Wood of New Brunswick, N. J., in the proportion of two-thirds to the former and one-third to the latter.

While the money gave little pleasure to the humble track greaser, only the worry of picking true friends from the satellites who had ignored him when he carried his greases pail and broom, it brought further trouble when yesterday Stephen A. French of Asbury Park, N. J., a brother, filed a contest, with the object of breaking the will. He alleges that Miss Pitt and Miss Wood are nieces of William's wife, who died twenty-five years ago, and that they had not seen him for seventeen years prior to his death.

It is further alleged that Sherman G. Pitt poisoned the mind of William against his brother and influenced him to execute his will in favor of the nieces. This alleged undue influence was by correspondence.

When William B. French came into his fortune, Stephen attempted to have a guardian appointed to handle his estate. Judge Rives held that William was capable of taking care of himself, and dismissed the petition.

LIBEL ALLEGED. HE SUES NEWSPAPERS.

Suits for libel aggregating $30,000 were filed against Edwin T. Earl, doing business under the name of the Express-Tribune Company, the Herald and the Record, by W. P. Ellis, yesterday. The alleged libel is based on practically the same article published in the papers named, to the effect that W. F. Sterling, president, and W. P. Ellis, secretary, of the Domestic Utilities Company, "are under indictment by the Federal grand jury charged with having used the mails in a scheme to defraud."

Mr. Ellis asks $10,000 damages in each case. Since his residence in this city he says he has won a deserved reputation for honesty, integrity and fair dealing.

Suits aggregating $40,000, based on the same publications, brought by officials of the company, were filed some time ago. Before Judge Hewitt t he demurrers of the defendant newspapers were overruled.

WINS FIRST ROUND. DEFENDS HER PROPERTY.

Mrs. Isabella Strait, who though 80 years of age, is not too old to fight for her rights, won a temporary victory yesterday when Judge Wellborn granted an order restraining Burton G. Adams from proceeding further in excavating for the foundations of an apartment-house at Witmer and Ingraham streets until the court determines the ownership of a 156-foot strip varying from one to nine inches in width.

Mrs. Strait, whose property adjoins that of Mr. Adams, claims the strip belongs to her. Mr. Adams alleges that he is entitled to it, and began to excavate, endangering Mrs. Strait's fence and loved rose hedge. She stood guard at the disputed spot, finally bringing suit for injunction.

The case was called in Judge Wellborn's court yesterday, and the first round in the legal fight went to Mrs. Strait. On the 13th inst. the case will be tried on its merits.

RUNAWAY COUPE. BIG DAMAGE DEMAND.

M. Golden, an actor, filed suit yesterday for $103,000 damages, resulting from an accident of a most unusual character. Mr. Golden was crossing at Figueroa and Fremont streets when he was run down by an electric coupe which was on an escapade. According to the complaint, the coupe had been left at the corner of the streets while its occupant entered a building near by. Impelled by gravity, the car struck off on a little spree and wound up against Mr. Golden, who claims he sustained eight distinct injuries.

He brought suit against John Doe and Caroline Chilberg, alleging negligence. He claims he receives a large salary weekly from a moving-picture company and receives a large income from a drug store in the East. By reason of his injuries, he claims, he has lost $2500 on a theatrical venture.

COMPENSATION. NEGLECT ALLEGED.

The Western Indemnity Company, insurance carrier under the workmen's compensation act, in the case of J. P. La Salle, who was crushed and killed beneath a wall at Seventh street and Grand avenue, filed suit yesterday against Spizer & Watson, contractors, for $25,000, as employers of Mr. La Salle.

Under the finding of the commission the Western Indemnity Company alleges it is complying with the terms, which include installments weekly to the widow until they aggregate $8025. It is alleged that Mr. La Salle's death was due to negligence on the part of the contractors. Dynamite was used to destroy the wall which fell on Mr. La Salle.

IN AND OUT ABOUT THE COURTS.

SUES ON JUDGMENT. Alleging that her husband, Jack Standing, moving-picture actor, is in arrears in alimony ordered by the Philadelphia courts to the extent of $375, Mrs. Sarah Standing, through Attorney Turnbull, yesterday brought suit to recover on the foreign judgment, given in separate maintenance proceedings, and for the continuance of $75 a month.

INCORPORATIONS. The Beneficial Order of Operating Engineers, incorporators, W. H. Russell, C. A. Spencer, R. W. Anderson, F. R. King and A. T. McGee. The First Pentacostal Church of the Nazarene, of Alhambra, incorporators, J. W. Winget, J. H. Stevenson and R. E. Parker. The Honey Rock Mining Company, incorporators, C. A. Croutch, M. R. Engle, H. G. Bittleston, C. J. Riley and George Leonard; capital stock, $10,000; subscribed, $128.

NEW VIADUCT PLAN IS CONSIDERED.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE EXPERT ON HOW TO BUILD THEM.

Council Committee Names Committee of Engineers to Consider Details and Report Before Bond Issue is Proposed for City's Share.

Detailed explanation of a new plan for eliminating grade crossings at Seventh and Ninth streets presented by the Municipal League was made to the Council Viaducts Committee yesterday by Samuel Storrow, chairman of the league's special committee. These plans were referred to a special committee consisting of Mr. Storrow, Chief Engineer Howell of the Utilities Board and City Engineer Hamlin. This committee was asked to report next Monday with recommendations for the adoption of a definite plan for meeting the grade crossing situation at these streets. In the meantime, the City Attorney will be asked to prepare resolutions calling for the submission of the question of a small bond issue to take care of the city's share of the expense for viaducts at Seventh and Ninth streets.

In general, the Municipal League's suggested plan is to depress the railroad tracks about twelve feet at Seventh and Ninth streets and to construct a short viaduct over the tracks. Mr. Storrow urged that adoption of this plan will mean that the viaducts will have a grade of only about 3 per cent.; there will be little damage to adjoining property and there will be no serious interference with delivery of cars to spur tracks in the industrial district.

In connection with this plan Mr. Storrow said that the Southern Pacific should be compelled to abandon the use of Alameda street for through trains and only use the street for serving the industrial district. Furthermore, he said, in order to bring about desired results the city must adopt and enforce strict regulation of the use of the spur tracks by limiting the hours and requiring more careful handling of the freight trains crossing the streets at grade.

With reference to finances, Mr. Storrow said that the cost of readjusting the railroad grades should be borne by the railroads and the cost of the remainder of the structures and the damages should be borne one-half to one-third by the railroads and the remainder by the city and county by an assessment area extending over as much area as possible.

Chairman Topham favored the small bond issue to be used to start the general viaducts construction work and expressed the hope that the question can be submitted to the voters at the next election. Councilman Wheeler and other members of the committee said the plan proposed yesterday "sounded reasonable" and expressed the hope that the city may soon begin work on the viaducts.

Reciprocity Forbidden.

If the latest rule of the Police Commission is enforced to the letter no owner of a saloon or employee of a retail liquor establishment hereafter may buy his groceries or his hardware, jewelry or clothing from any patron of the saloon where the purchaser is employed. The resolution, passed at the request of the Chief of Police, intends to prevent saloon men or their employees from loaning money to customers or buying jewelry outright across the bar. Strict interpretation of the resolution, however, would prevent the purchase of any merchandise from a customer at any time, although no mention is made of live stock or real estate.

MAKES FIFTH TRIAL.

Mrs. Margaret Dillingham Again Files Suit for Divorce, Alleging Desertion by the Paper Company Head—Last Effort Made in January.

After four unsuccessful efforts to obtain her freedom in the divorce courts, Mrs. Margaret Dillingham yesterday, through her attorney, M. I. Grossman, made her fifth appeal by filing divorce suit against W. C. Dillingham of the Dillingham Paper Company. Desertion is the charge. In the previous suits desertion, failure to provide and a statutory charge were alleged.

The last suit was heard in January of this year. At that time Mr. Dillingham's attorneys set up as a defense a waiver signed by Mrs. Dillingham by which she secured $200 cash and a payment of $25 a month for a period of six months. Although Mrs. Dillingham alleged she signed the agreement under misrepresentation, the court refused her a divorce on the ground of nonsupport.

The Dillinghams have been married for ten years, but separated shortly after the marriage. Three of the former suits were tried in this city and one in San Diego.

THEY IDENTIFY DAVID CAPLAN.

Witnesses in Dynamiting Case Give Telling Testimony.

Agree He was the Associate of the McNamaras.

Burns to Tell Today of Capture of the Fugitive.

David Caplan, alleged dynamiter, was again positively identified as a companion of the McNamaras and M. A. Schmidt, convicted murderer, by witnesses who appeared in the case before Judge Willis yesterday. Today one of the star witnesses of the State, George H. Phillips, is expected to clinch the identification already given. Mrs. Belle Lavin will do the same and William J. Burns, the detective, will tell of the pursuit and capture of the man. Burns arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon.

Probably the strongest testimony given yesterday was that of John H. Baker, a salesman of the Giant Powder Company, who was absolutely positive of his identification of the defendant, who, in 1910, at the time of the purchase of dynamite, masqueraded under the alias of William Morris.

THE SAME MAN.

He declared that he had been particularly designated by General-Manager P. H. Rennie to investigate the purchase of the 500 pounds of dynamite by the conspirators, whose actions had been sufficiently strange to attract special attention. He described Caplan as he was at that time, stating that the only difference he could see now was in the glasses which he wore, the gray of his hair and also that he has a lighter skin.

Mr. Rennie also identified the defendant positively, testifying that Caplan, alias Morris, had appeared in the San Francisco office of the Giant Powder Company and spoke to him relative to the purchase of 80 per cent. dynamite for use in blowing up granite rocks and boulders on an Oregon farm.

"At that time I said to Caplan: 'Morris is a good American name. You look more like a dago.' He flared up at this and became sulky so I didn't go any further," said Rennie. The next time he had talked to Caplan was in the Los Angeles County Jail, and the broken English used by the defendant and the peculiar idioms identified him positively in his mind as Morris.

DYNAMITE PURCHASE.

He also stated that Caplan had given his address at No. 2410 Mission street, the address of the Lavin rooming-house. This same fact was testified to by Bruce McCall, a salesman for the company. He gave details about the conversation he had over the phone with either the defendant or Schmidt, relating to the dynamite purchase.

Other employees and officials of the Giant Powder Company called to the stand were William Flynn, a foreman in the packing department, who identified wrappings and boxes in which the dynamite found in San Francisco and a part of the McNamara-Schmidt purchase had been carried. J. H. Annesly, another foreman of the same company, who testified regarding the destruction of the explosive after it had been held for a time, following the confession of the McNamaras to the local crime.

M. E. Arnerich, a State wharfinger, testified to the leaving of the Peerless from a Howard-street pier, carrying three men, the conspirators involved in the dynamiting. Daniel McCarty positively identified Caplan as the man who had rented his home, No. 1565 Grove street, in San Francisco, for six weeks covering the period before and immediately after the blowing up of The Times Building.

"OLD MAN" HERE.

Mrs. A. Stewart, a former housekeeper at the Chapman Hotel in Los Angeles, stated that she also assisted at the desk, and that up to the time of the dynamiting Schmidt had resided in that house under the name of F. A. Perry, as had Olaf Tveitmoe and Anton Johannsen, the latter with his wife.

Jesse D. Smith, general manager of the Pan-American Manufacturing Company of Newcastle, Ind., testified regarding a strike, the dynamiting of a part of the plant and the subsequent appearance of Herbert S. Hockin, at that time organizer for the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers. The latter assured him that his guard around the plant would no longer be necessary if he decided to run his business as a union closed shop. E. E. McCackren, a former bellhop of the Argonaut Hotel in San Francisco, testified that Schmidt and McNamara, on leaving that house during the latter part of September, carried one suitcase which they refused to allow any of the bellboys to carry.

NURSE TESTIFIES IN OWN DEFENSE.

Declares Alleged Victim of Ill-treatment at County Hospital Left for Patton Without Sign of Injury—Physicians and Others Corroborate Statement.

The trial of Robert B. Smith, a nurse, charged with manslaughter, for the death of Edward Furrer, an insane patient of the County Hospital, went on again yesterday before Judge McCormick. The defendant was on the witness stand for several hours, testifying as to his connection with Furrer. He declared that Furrer was an almost unmanageable patient.

"He persisted in tearing off his clothes, in spilling his food about when it was served him and doing many other violent and strange things," said Smith. "Furrer was in as good a condition when he left the hospital for his journey to the Patton Asylum as when he entered the local institution," he declared and stuck to his statements, despite the vigorous cross-questioning by Deputy District Attorneys Doran and Stafford.

County Deputy Public Defenders Vallee and Aggeler, in order to corroborate these statements, called Superior Judge Reeve to the stand, and the latter stated that on one occasion he was in the psychopathic ward when Furrer had grabbed the hot steam pipes and hung on to them for three minutes while attendants tried to pull him away in order to prevent serious burns.

Dr. Wallace Dodge, an intern at the hospital, declared that Furrer was dangerous during his stay in the local institution, and also that when he left he was in apparently good health. A number of other officials of the County Hospital, including Supt. Whitman, were placed on the stand to testify in a similar manner.

It is possible the defense will close its case today. Rebuttal testimony will occupy a good portion of the following day, and the jury probably will have the case on Friday afternoon.

At Rest.

TWO SAD SERVICES.

Funeral Here and Another at Long Beach of Victims of Little Bear Lake Tragedy—Burial of Others Awaits Friends' Arrangements.

Funeral services for Harry Tharp of No. 1244 East Twenty-first street, this city, and Benjamin M. Rapp of Long Beach, two of the victims of the Little Bear Lake fishing tragedy early Monday morning, were conducted yesterday.

Services for Mr. Tharp were held at the chapel of Pierce Bros., with Rev. C. C. Pierce officiating. The body was interred at Rosedale Cemetery. Mr. Tharpe was en employee of the Standard Transfer Company. He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tharp.

The Elks' Lodge of Long Beach conducted the services for Mr. Rapp at the chapel of the Motell Company in that city. The Christian Science ceremony was performed at the cemetery. Mr. Rapp was a prominent insurance man of the beach city and lived at No. 2105 Lime avenue. He was 37 years of age and leaves a widow and three children.

Saturday the parents of Dr. I. N. Trumpower, a dentist of Long Beach, who was also drowned, will arrive to make arrangements for his burial.

The body of Merton Wearne was sent to Mrs. Ralph White, his sister, at Sutter Creek, where he will be buried near the grave of his mother.

The services for Mr. Wearne will be held today. Mr. Wearne was also one of the victims.

JAIL ALLEGED FORGER.

Alvin E. Anderson, who was arrested in Duchene, Utah, following his indictment by the Federal grand jury, was brought to Los Angeles yesterday from Salt Lake, and lodged in the County Jail. Anderson is charged with forging the name of C. L. Glenn of No. 656 Gladys avenue to a money order for $1.50 and securing the cash.

MAN BESTS WOMAN.

Wins Valuable Acreage in Imperial Valley After Long Fight.

Ending one of the most bitterly-fought cases in the history of the local Land Office, word was received from Washington, yesterday, that the General Land Office had affirmed the decision of the Los Angeles branch, recommending the cancellation of a desert land entry made by Lillie M. Martin. This action was on a contest brought by Peter Bartmus. The case involved 320 acres four miles southeast of Niland, and valued at $15,000. The work on the land was performed by Edward Welch, a well-known contractor of the Imperial Valley and the son-in-law of the entry-woman. It was shown that she did not do the work necessary under the law, and both the local officials and the General Land Office have so found.

The transcript of the evidence in the case made more than 200,000 words.
